SECRETARY LANSING SAILS FROM BREST

Issues Note of Farewell to French People Before Departure Brest, July 14.—(By A. P.)—The steamship Rotterdam, with Secretary Lansing on board, left here for New York this afternoon. She was delayed a day in sailing. Secretary Lansing issued the following statement: May 1, through the French press, bid an affectionate farewell to France and the French people and express my deep gratitude for all the courtesies they have shown me during the months I have been here? I return home with a deep sense of what France has suffered in the war, but with a still deeper conviction that the courage which brought her through to victory will carry her over the trying days of reconstruction. "I think that I should say that a delay in the sailing of my steamer has brought my departure to the eve of that day so historic to France and which now is doubly consecrated by the first victory parade of the allied and associated powers. "The temptation to remain is great, but imperative necessity prevents my doing so. The demands of peace, including the ratification of the treaty and the Franco-American agreement and the expansion of the work of America's department of foreign affairs to meet the new problems involved, are no less than those of war, and I am sure that the French people, to whom I am deeply indebted, will appreciate better than any other the value of my stay here."

Acker Leads Penrose Field for Mayor, Says McCain

Mrs. Biddle Named on 100 Committee, Why Not More Women? is Query—Boom for Patterson Candidacy Slows Down By GEORGE NOX MCCAIN of a popular demonstration some of these night; a mass-meeting of citizens, with bands and Coston lights, that will demand the use of his name as a candidate. When it comes to Acker, it will be rather spectacular, for the citizenship can look forward to all sorts of surprises between now and the first week in August. As a compromise candidate, Congressman J. Hampton Moore has drifted temporarily into the shadow, very largely because that affable gentleman does not desire to be a candidate who will be worried to death with factional franchises. At this instant Abraham Lincoln Acker is leading the field as the independent-Penrose candidate. This does not mean that he will be their final choice for Mayor. Mr. Acker is a firm friend of Senator Penrose. He has worked with him in politics. There is a feeling, however, not only among the true-blue reform element but among the more liberal independents of the Town Meeting party, that a real independent, should be the nominee, and not an ex-officer or one essentially bound to any organization. Acker Strong in North of City There is a strong movement for Mr. Acker in the north and northeastern parts of the city. It will take the form

FOOTPRINT BURGLAR CLUE FOUR OVERCOME BY GAS

Man Wearing 12 1/2-Inch Shoe Robs Camden Jewelry Shop A footprint, twelve and one-half inches in length, is the only clue the police of Camden have to a burglar who committed a $5000 robbery in the jewelry store of Harry Nurock, 1144 Broadway, Camden. The robbery was committed between 11:30 o'clock Saturday night and early today. The loot included 250 rings, fifty strings of pearls and twenty-five bracelets, as well as a number of camera lenses. The thief or thieves ignored a tray of diamonds said to be worth thousands of dollars. Four safes in the store were not touched. Entrance to the store was gained by entering a third-story rear window from the roof. Two doors in the house were forced open before the store was reached. The footprint was found in the center of the store floor. Workman Has Foot Crushed William Crawford, fifty-three years old, 524 South Ninth street, had his foot crushed today at the Catharine street wharf when a barrel of oil fell upon him. He is a negro. The patrol of 165 Seventh and Carpenter streets tonight took him to the Pennsylvania hospital here.

THREAT OF ARREST FOR SHOWING FILM

"End of the Road" Exhibition Legally Barred by Order of Censors THEATRE IGNORES WARNING If the motion picture, "The End of the Road," is shown again, those responsible for the showing will be liable to arrest, according to Dr. Ellis P. Oberholzer, secretary of the State Board of Censors. A statement issued today by the Board of Censors from the offices at Eleventh and Cherry streets reads: "The subject of the further showing of the 'End of the Road' was submitted to the attorney general at the direction of Governor Sprunt. The Governor holds that the case is not covered by section 29 of the act as to the exhibition of pictures for educational purposes. The picture therefore is entirely under the jurisdiction of the Board of Censors, and as it has not our approval, it cannot be shown. If it is shown, further exhibitions will render those responsible liable to arrest." "The Section 29 referred to in the statement," said Doctor Oberholzer, "made it possible to show pictures for educational purposes without our approval. The Governor has now placed every educational film under our authority. "I called up the office of the local theatre where the picture is being shown to read to them the statement. I was told by the box office that the manager and owner were not in." Inquiries at the box office this morning disclosed the fact that the owners do not as yet consider themselves officially notified. Tickets are being sold and the usual matinee will be held, said the box office man. Martin Accepts Decision If the Board of Censors cannot give its approval to "The End of the Road," the Health Department will accept the decision without protest, said State Commissioner of Health Martin today at his home in Media. "There is no doubt in my mind that the censors are acting conscientiously," said Doctor Martin. "and I feel assured that if they do not approve of the film."

The accident occurred at Lehigh avenue and Hemmer street. Bothacker was hurled into the street. He was taken to the hospital in the patrol of the Twenty-second and York streets station.

League Only Will Keep Peace, Virginian Asserts

Senator Declares Rejection Would Mean Skulking by United States in World Crisis. Answers Opponents' Argument By the Associated Press Washington, July 14.—Praising the league of nations covenant as "one of the world's greatest documents," Senator Swanson, of Virginia, Democratic member of the foreign relations committee, told the Senate today that if the United States rejected the league it "would mean that she would skulk in the greatest world crisis that ever occurred." The speaker defended the league against the objections that it would sacrifice sovereignty and American traditions, and asserted that on the contrary it would result in immense material gain in protecting American integrity and preventing war. He declared it would not create a supergovernment, involve objectionable obligations nor invade the Monroe Doctrine. "The pathway of our duty is plain," said Senator Swanson. "Let us not be frightened by our own prodigious shadow as it projects itself into world affairs. Let us not be deterred from our manifest duty and destiny by a craven fear of becoming great in giving service and direction to a world in a direct hour of its need and distress." Pointing out that the war had shaken the social order to its foundation, the Virginia senator said it was the paramount obligation of responsible statesmen to prevent another such conflagration, which would return the world "to the rule of brute force and barbarism of the dark ages." The covenant of the league has been assailed from two opposite sources," he continued; "the league will neither be a superstate nor sovereign, nor a helpless, powerless association of nations. "The instrument creating the league is a 'covenant' entered into by sovereign states. One of the attributes of sovereignty is the ability to make covenants or agreements. That a state reserves its full sovereignty is conclusive." Continued on Page Nineteen, Column Two Gam says Henle had been arrested for speeding on a motorcycle, following which he escaped on his motorcycle. It was while escaping, Gam says, that he was struck by one of the five shots fired by Gam. Henle will recover.

HUGE VICTORY FETE THRILLS ALL PARIS

Veterans of Great War From All Allied Armies in Grand Procession FAMOUS LEADERS IN VAN VOTE IS 247 TO 135 Paris, July 14.—The triumphal march of allied and American troops through Paris began at 8 o'clock this morning. The weather was brilliant, being more like October than midsummer. The pageant celebrated the Allied victory and the fall of the bastille. A thousand wounded soldiers with crutches or in wheel chairs and clad, for the most part, in civilian clothes, led the parade, being preceded by a drum corps. Guns began firing at nine o'clock intervals as President Poincare placed a wreath at the foot of the Cenotaph at the Arc de Triomphe. This empty caquet placed there in memory of the allied dead was also decorated by other wreaths, those being placed by Premier Clemenceau, a French soldier, a French sailor, an Albanian girl, a girl from Lorraine and Colonel Edmund Gros. This last wreath was in memory of seventy-two members of the Lafayette escadrille, who lost their lives during the war. Joffre Rides Ahead Marshal Joffre, the victor of the first battle of the Marne, passed under the Arc de Triomphe at 8:45 o'clock. He rode alone. Behind him came Marshal Foch, the commander-in-chief of the allied forces during the final campaign of the conflict. A storm of applause arose from the vast throng as the two marshals passed the president's stand and moved down the brilliant avenue. General John J. Pershing, with a Continued on Page Nineteen, Column One

WILSON ADMITS JAPAN'S STAND MADE U. S. YIELD

Expedient to Get Orientals in League, He Makes Known at Conference NO REQUEST TO DISCUSS TREATY WITH COMMITTEE Resolutions Reported Calling on President for Secret Japanese-German Pact SEEK COSTA RICA DATA America Forced to Accept Some Things They Disapproved, Says Executive By the Associated Press Washington, July 14.—After weeks of preliminary discussion and maneuvering, the actual fight over unreserved ratification of the peace treaty with its league of nations covenant began today in the Senate. The Senate foreign relations committee, beginning consideration of the treaty, reported three minor resolutions bearing on the information regarding an alleged secret treaty between Japan and Germany; regarding a protest said to have been made by General Bissell, Secretary Lansing and Henry White against the Shantung settlement; why Costa Rica "was not permitted" to sign the peace treaty. The resolutions reported would call upon the President and the State Department for information regarding an alleged secret treaty between Japan and Germany; regarding a protest said to have been made by General Bissell, Secretary Lansing and Henry White against the Shantung settlement; why Costa Rica "was not permitted" to sign the peace treaty. Members of the foreign relations committee said practically all of the two hours' meeting was taken up with consideration of these resolutions, and that there was no discussion as to inviting the President to meet with the committee or of the proposal to separately consider the peace terms and the league of nations covenant. Detailed discussion of the treaty probably will begin when the committee meets again tomorrow. Immediately after the committee adjourned debate on actual ratification of the treaty began in the Senate. Senator Swanson, of Virginia, a Democratic member of the committee, opening with a speech praising the league covenant as the best possible plan for preserving world tranquility. Resolutions Amended All of the resolutions reported by the committee were amended in minor particulars. That regarding the alleged Japanese-German treaty, introduced by Chairman Lodge, and that relating to Costa Rica, introduced by Senator La Follette, Republican, Wisconsin, were reported without record votes. The Shantung resolution, introduced by Senator Borah, Republican, Idaho, was reported by a vote of 9 to 3; all the Democratic members present opposing it, and the Republicans, including Senator Wadsworth, North Dakota, voting for it. Senator Johnson, Republican, of California, offered a resolution in the committee requesting that copies of all documents contained with negotiation of the treaty be submitted to the committee. Disapprove Shantung Provision While the committee was in session President Wilson discussed various phases of the treaty, particularly the Shantung settlement, with senators who called at the White House. On this point it was said the President pointed out that necessarily the American peace commissioners could not impose their complete will on the Peace Conference and were compelled to accept some things in the treaty which they personally disapproved. The President also was said to have explained that consideration had to be given the treaty between the Allies and Japan, made before the United States entered the war, by which the material German interests in Shantung were yielded to Japan. The President was said to have told Continued on Page Eighteen, Column Six

P.)—Commissioner Roper, of the Internal Revenue Bureau, was in conference with President Wilson today, and was said to have discussed questions involved in the enforcement of war-time and constitutional prohibition.
