WASN'T RELEASED BY PHILS, CADY CLAIMS

Forrest Says He Signed to Catch Only Under Coombs; Club Shows Improvement

AS NOW BACK IN FORM

By EDWIN J. POLLOCK

BERT YEARSLEY, who used to play football for By Dickson and League Island and play ball for the Phillies whenever he had a chance, arises with a speech in behalf of Forrest Cady, the Phil manager.

"Say, buddies, I want to set you right on Forrest Cady," Bert orated in the press box at the Phils' Park the other day. "You know all the papers said that Cady was given notice of his release. That's all wrong. He wasn't released; he quit."

"I remember the day of the strike, Cady told Coombs he was through. Cady called his attention to his contract. Forrest claimed it was stated in his Phils only as long as Coombs was manager. That sounds like a queer sort of a contract, but it's a fact, for he showed me the papers."

According to Yeasler, Cady was surprised at the report given out that he was released. Along with the other members of the Bolsheviks, Cady was fined for his conduct after the announcement that Coombs was no longer manager. When the announcement of the fines was made it also was stated that Cady was given ten days' notice of his unconditional release.

Reds Still on Top

THE Giants copped the Sunday tilt from the Pirates, but the Reds still remain on top in the National League climb, and Pat Moran intends to step on the Phils to reach for a higher percentage today.

In the meantime, Garry Cavanaugh is figuring on anything except slowing down just because the league leaders are in town. All clubs look alike to the new Phil boss, and he intends to grab himself some victories, even if they are at Pat Moran's expense. The club has lost four games under Cavanaugh, but it must be said that the team has a different appearance. There's more fight and more spirit to their games. They're still losing, but they're not doing it as if they were accustomed to it.

As for the fight that's being ball games for Moran, the club is not in the best shape, but it still is traveling at a terrific clip. Moran is sorely in need of an outfielder, and has his peepers on the lookout for one that he can grab. Sherry Magee soon will be in condition to play regularly, but Moran can use a utility man without overburdening the bench. Rube Bressler, a pitcher, is holding down left field at present.

One Win Too Much

THE one victory that the A's snatched from the Browns on Saturday was entirely too much for the Mackians. It probably worked on their nerves, for they had to go out and drop a pair yesterday to get back into shape. According to precedent they must lose four more games before winning again. The A's have fallen into the nasty habit of losing a half-dozen in a row before winning a pastime. Not once this season have they dropped more than six, and their winning streak still remains at two. The Phils have lost thirteen straight twice, and their winning record is five, made once in the early part of the year.

Both of yesterday's engagements in St. Louis were close affairs, the Browns taking the verdict in each case by the hairline of one run. The second battle went eleven innings before a decision was reached. The extra-frame struggle was another defeat for Scott Perry. He went in in the eighth and the Mackies tied the count in the ninth. Kinney traveled the distance in the first game.

Pal Moore but Slightly Above Required Weight

London, July 14.—When Pal Moore agreed to Jimmy Wilde's terms to make 116 pounds at ringside it was generally thought that he would find it difficult to make the weight, but with four days more to go the American boxer is only a few ounces over the stipulated poundage, in fine condition and full of confidence.

BINGLES AND BUNGLES

Babe Ruth isn't of any more value to Harry Frazee than gasoline to Ralph DePalma.

Dick Burros came to the A's as a great first baseman. Burros still is holding his job and Burros is being used in the outfield. The southerner relieved Tilly Walker yesterday.

Tilly Walker objected to Connolly's decision when he was called out on a close play in the ninth inning and a close jump on his feet and jerked Tommy's nose.

Shocker sent the second tilt to extra innings when he made a titling assist from the third-base sack on a slow tap from Dugan for the third out in the ninth when the Mack's had two on.

The heat of St. Louis certainly is taking the best out of Whitey Witt's batting average. While came to the plate twice yesterday and got only a single.

A'S MAKE RECORD BUT LOSE TWICE

Subterranean Athletics Draw World's Series Crowd in Tilt With Browns at St. Louis

20,000 FANS ARE OUT

St. Louis, July 14.—By contributing a crowd of 20,000 for yesterday's double-header with the Athletics, St. Louis again proved that with a fair ball club she will support the national pastime as well as any of her larger neighbors.

New York, Boston and Chicago have been known as the big three, but it must be considered that these cities have turned out pennant-winning clubs and world series in receiving their patronage. St. Louis has not had a pennant winner since 1888. The Browns, in the American League since 1901, have had only two first-division ball clubs.

And after all, Connie Mack was not what they called him when he ripped his famous championship machine. During Mack's pennant days he did not use the number of fans he looked at yesterday. It was the largest crowd in St. Louis since 1910, when the Browns, under Fielder Jones, made a bid for the flag, but pulled up lame in September and came home in fourth place.

The attendance proves that baseball has come back. What does it mean when a double-header between a fifth place and an eighth place club draws more actual paid attendance than a championship fight between two heavyweights? Against the Browns the Athletics do not appear to be the worst club in the league. Far from that.

Two Tough Fights

They fought hot to toe with the Browns in the two games yesterday, and only tough breaks beat them, 4 to 3, and 5 to 4. Mack's team lacks pitchers and only pitchers. He won the opener here Saturday with Jim Johnson holding the Browns to one run and Kinney and Rogers were given the lead in each game yesterday but they could not hold it and allowed Jimmy Burkie's team to rally, tie the score and then win out.

Connie may be blamed for pulling up in last place for the fifth successive season, but it must be remembered that he does not possess Paul, Coombs, Bender, Cy Morgan, Harry Krause and other flingers who usually blanked the opponents.

The downfall of George Burns as a batter has been a bitter pill for Connie to swallow. Just one long fly in yesterday's game would have won the second match for the Athletics. With a tie score in the ninth and runners on first and third, no one out, Burns was up. In the second he drove out a home run against Koob, but this time in the pinch he fanned.

James F. Dougherty, the baron of Philadelphia, plans to make a show at the Philadelphia Park before the end of the month. He is looking for a new site for his stadium. He has not announced his program, but says his main object is to have a new arena with an international reputation.

It's hard to keep the good promoters down. Leon J. Burns, the man who put on the Leonard-Dunlop show is working on his plans for a new arena for next month. He plans to stage this card about the middle of August. The Under City, Tex. Richard made this known at Atlantic City last Wednesday night.

Nate Lewis, the Chicago promoter, calms down his nerves and gets down to business weight and ready for the fight of his career.

MADONNA WINS FIRST RACE, TAKING FIFTY-MILE GRIND

Speedy Italian Rider Triumphs When Corry Has Puncture in Forty-ninth Mile—Five Stars in Brassard Trophy Feature

IN THE hardest race of the season, a battle right up to the last lap, Vincent Madonna, the flashy Italian rider, registered his first victory of the season in this city when he defeated Frank Corry, the Australian headliner, in the fifty-mile motorpaced race at the Point Breeze Velodrome last Saturday night.

Madonna and Corry fought it out every yard of the distance. Corry made a perfect race for forty-nine miles. He had two laps and looked like a certain winner. But the unexpected happened as frequently in the paced game as in baseball. When everything appeared sure for Corry, the Australian suffered a puncture. Before he could regain his pace he was a half lap in the rear. It was this margin which separated them at the finish.

The time of one hour eight minutes was very fast for this distance. The pace was so fast that Bobby Walthour was forced to drop out in the twenty-fifth mile. Elmer Collins rode gamely, but continually lost his pace. Percy Lawrence rode doggedly, but not fastly. He finished third and was going strong at the end.

Freddy Taylor, of the New York A. C., was the hit of the evening in the sprint game. He took the measure of Frank Harris, an almost sure thing winner this season. Taylor won the match race with Harris, then annexed honors in the mile and out sprint.

Taylor is a hero of the Argonne. He was wounded at Grand Pre, a machine-gun bullet passing through his right arm. It left an ugly scar, but Taylor claims it will not impair his riding.

Harold Bounsell will couple with Taylor in a team match race against the Harris brothers on Thursday night.
