HEARD the Herbert Lloyds, of Bryn Mawr, are going abroad this week for a stay of six weeks in London. Mr. Lloyd has to go on business and rs Mrs. Lloyd's sister lives in London she is anxious to go too, but, of course you know how hard it is to get pass ports these days.
Mrs. Lloyd has not seen this sister for more than seven years, and two of her sons were killed in the war, so you may imagine what a comfort it will be to her to see the Lloyds. I believe was only because the sister is in poor health and the fact that they will only stay six weeks that made it possible for Mrs. Lloyd to get the passport, too. She only heard yesterday that she

It must be very sad to visit these bereaved homes, and England has so many of them.

THE Bodines are going down to Cape May again this week-end. Their two little boys are there, with the General and Mrs. Forney, for the greater part of the summer, and Mr. Bodine and his wife go down from Friday till Monday.

The kiddies are awful cute, one is a little more than three years old, and the other just about a year and beginning to toddle around. Mrs. Bodine was Angela Forney. Her brother, John Forney, who has lately been mustered out of the army, has been spending the week with her out at Villanova.

TT HAS been decidedly the thing at L Cape May this summer to sign up for canteen service and a number of the girls go down for a week or more and work oldiers and sailors who have been stationed there for the summer. TALKING of the canteen makes me Mr. and Mrs. William Colahan and think of the excitement the wee bird their small daughters, visiting them for told me of last week. Everybody was at a few weeks at their summer home on the movies on Friday night out on the Beach avenue in Cape May pier, in fact it was a thrilling movie and everyone was spell-bound watching it when suddenly a regular riot started on the Boardwalk. The spectators at the pier headed by Mrs. Webster Dougherty, rushed out of the movie causing a panic and what do you think it was?

A soldier and his best girl had been dancing peacefully together when a sailor "cut in" on the dance as it were, and asked her to dance with him

Can you imagine being so popular as to start a riot? Well, she was, all right, for the riot started, and all the soldiers present joined forces, as did the sailors for the sake of their "buddies" and you never heard anything to beat it, till the M. P.'s jumped in, and pence was signed quicker than ever before.

Of course when the spectators raced in Beach Haven. back to the movie that here had gone ahead and stabbed the villain and they all missed the thrill of it.
