If you go to the Public Library. Thirteenth and Locust streets, you will probably be able to find some books which will give you some idea of Chinese games and dances. I think their dances would be considered rather uninteresting by Americans, as they are very slow. Wouldn't it be more fun to have the party in the form of a masquerade dance, with every one wearing Chinese costumes by request? The costume for both men and women consists of a loose robe reaching almost which reaches about to the waist and is worn over the other robe. This would not be hard to get together and would Church, Broad and Venango streets.

To carry out the Chinese idea, have for they look more Chinese. Instead and at subsequent sessions of the conwith the Chinese atmosphere are rice and tea. You could have those deliclous little rice cakes and iced tea. but the rest of the "menu" would have to be plain American in order not to send the guests home in a bad humor. Be sure to get some joss sticks, or punk, and have them burning all eve- Estey Fliers Land Here After Round ning in order to have the proper atmosphere. That, with the dim lights, will make your party different right at the start. I hope these suggestions will help you to make the dance a great

SERVICE MEN LOSE MONEY

Hard Hit When Firm Broke

Alexander I. Rorke, assistant district attorney of New York, who is investigating the affairs of J. Frank Lilly & Co., insolvent brokers, at 62 Broadway, and who conducted a branch office here at 123 South Broad street has notified the Department of Justice that examination of the books of the firm revealed that thousands of soldiers and seamen lost money through the failure of the firm.

Mr. Rorke said that he was informed by officials of the department that the government will take a hand in the matter in an effort to obtain the return of the money to the service men, if that is possible.

Examination of lists of customers found in the office of Lilly & Co., Mr. Rorke said, developed the fact that customers were classified as "very "have to be coaxed" or "tough nuts." All of the stocks and bonds seized in the office, he said, were turned over to Joseph M. Proskauer, receiver appointed by the Federal Court.
