FATAL TROLLEY CAR CRASH

One Man Killed. One Probably Will Die, Many Injured

Punxsutawney, Pn., July 17,-(By A. P. .- One man was killed, another probably fatally injured and a score of persons were cut by flying glass when two interurban cars were wrecked in a head-on collision here last midnight. The accident occurred on a sharp curve. The cars were partly telescoped, but their steel construction inobably prevented a larger loss of life. John Kolovijik, who was standing on the front platform of one of the cars. was crushed to death. Dominic Crabbi also was badly crushed, and is not ex pected to live. The motormen of both cars jumped before the crash and were uninjured. About forty persons were
