

SENTENCES STAYED IN FIFTH WARD CASE

Formal Notice of Appeal for New Trial in Supreme Court to Be Filed Today

NEW FIGHT WILL BE MADE

Formal notice of an appeal for a new trial before the Supreme Court for the defendants in the Fifth ward murder case will be filed today.

This will act automatically as a stay of sentence for the defendants until September.

In so far as the Superior Court is concerned, the defendants were yesterday ordered to appear before the court at West Chester when called upon to comply with sentences imposed after a trial by jury there in which the men were convicted.

The defendants, with the sentences imposed, are:

Lieutenant of Police David Bennett, eighteen months in the county prison and $500 fine.

Former Patrolman John Witschaper and Emanuel Eram and Patrolman David Feldman and Michael Murphy, one year in the county prison and $420 fine each.

Patrolman Clarence Hayden, six months in the county prison and $200 fine.

Deutch's Death Recalled

Isaac Deutch, Vase leader of the Fifth ward during the political campaign of September, 1912, died June 17 last. He had been convicted by the West Chester jury and sentenced to two years' imprisonment with a fine of $1000. His appeal, carried to the Superior Court with the others, for a new trial was abated following his death.

William A. Gray, counsel for the defense, said he would file his notice to the Supreme Court on the same points which were raised in the argument for a new trial before the Superior Court, Judge Head, of the Superior Court, decided yesterday that these points—fifty-five in number—are not sufficient grounds for the granting of a new trial.

Claims of Gray

Mr. Gray said:

"This notice must be heard by the full bench in chambers, and as the justices do not meet until September, the filing of the notice of appeal will automatically act as a stay of sentence until that time. In ordinary conditions a decision of the Superior Court is not given to the lower court for ten days, but now they obtain a stay until the fall."

MANY CARRY LUNCHES AS FOOD PRICES RISE

Increasing of Coffee to Ten Cents Cup in Some Restaurants Spurs Workers to Take Own Victuals

Forced to the step by the increasing costs of food in chain restaurants and dairy lunchrooms, many clerks and stenographers in the Federal Building, offices and shops about the city are carrying their lunches to their offices.

With a cup of coffee at ten cents in some restaurants, huckleberry pie a dime, sliced peaches twenty cents a portion, fifteen cents and a very tiny portion, fifteen cents and ham and sliced at automats and elsewhere fifteen cents, the high cost of living is being more and more forcibly brought to the attention of wage earners.

Restaurant men, especially those of the so-called "popular-priced" eating places, opine, it is said, that the curtailment of the sale of whiskey and other beverages will tend to make men spend more money for their meals. Hence the rising prices now in vogue.

Ten Cents for Toast

Two pieces of transparent toast cost in most restaurants ten cents. Cherry pie, with the nuts in the center, twenty cents. All along the line there is a rising trend in prices for food.

Wage-earners, even although their salaries are above the average, have difficulty these days in meeting living conditions. Clothing is high, rents still soar. Necessities of life, and particularly wearing apparel, have mounted to heights that place them above the means of the majority.

Soft drinks, at soda fountains are luxuries at present day prices, and vandy of the better sort is higher in price than ever heretofore in spite of the fact that Philadelphia is one of the great candy-making centers of the country.

Frank Klein, of the Horn & Hardart management, announced that coffee would continue to be sold at the old price in the twenty-two dining rooms which that concern conducts here. At the Waldorf restaurant, the price was still a nickel this morning, and the management there announced no word regarding an increase had been received from the headquarters of the firm in Boston.

Thompson's Sun, Chestnut street above Seventh, was one of the few places where the price is a dime. This institution is independent from the J. B. Thompson Company, which conducts 106 restaurants throughout the country. The company's local manager, John O'Kane, said the corporation intended to continue the sale of coffee at the traditional rate.

SPOONING TRIAL TO COME UP IN FALL

Case Will Be Delayed Unless Counsel for Squire Agrees to Earlier Date

Squire Robert Thomas, of Haverford, nemesis of spooning motorists, will, in all probability, not be called upon to face his victims' in court until the fall, when his term of office expires.

J. Howard Lutz, counsel for William Armstrong, of this city, has pointed out that his client's case is the first on the list and that it would not come up until fall unless counsel for the squire agree to an earlier date. This is considered unlikely by the attorney. Mr. Armstrong was fined $85 by the squire following his arrest for alleged disorderly conduct while in an automobile within the limits of Haverford township.

Direct charges that Edward T. Hallissey, chief of the Haverford township police, had falsely accused innocent women and men, so that heavy fines might be imposed upon them, are reported to have been made by Peter J. Flynn, of 311 Ardmore avenue, Ardmore.

Mr. Flynn, who formerly was a policeman under Hallissey, is said to have resigned because he wanted "to have nothing to do with Hallissey's methods."

Because he "would not make a perjurer out of himself" in giving false testimony against victims of the fine-gauging system, Mr. Flynn said he was subjected to persecution by the police chief. He is said to have described Hallissey's ways to the Haverford township commissioners and to have been told that the board refused to take action against the chief.

BURGLAR'S BODY SHIPPED

No Inquest Yet Over Student-Thief Killed by Professor

The body of Anthony William Hoffelner, University of Pennsylvania student burglar, shot and killed by Professor B. F. Schappelle in the Alpha Chi Rho fraternity house Monday night, was shipped to the home of his parents in Buffalo last night.

The date of the inquest has not been fixed by the coroner. Professor Schappelle is under $15000 bail to appear at this hearing.

Hoffelner's father was awaited in vain yesterday by the coroner and Detective Reishaw. Late yesterday permission was obtained from the coroner by Lafayette Taylor, an undertaker, 2936 North Broad street, to ship the body without awaiting formal claim by a relative.

IDLERS IDLE NOT WHILE THE BUSY ARE BUSY IDLING

Being the Story of Business Men Busy at Nothing and Idlers Idle at Ditto

From what class of people springs the rubber-neck or gullible gazer? We have always contended that only the loafer, the idle man or woman, who dawdles along the city streets with nothing heavier above the brows than a hat—to continue, only this class could gaze with intense curiosity at such a soul-stirring sight as the rooting of a car track or the painting of a window or—to get to the case in question—the lifting of a safe to a second-floor window.

Despite the tales of certain humorists, we are confident that only such a class could crowd the streets for an hour while the wheels of industry hummed on every side.

Therefore we were very much surprised today when we reached a crowded section of Chestnut street to observe a great crowd of men and women intently watching the elevation of a safe, with apparently as much interest as though it were the R-34 about to hop for home. We were surprised because we thought that the species of "they who have nothing to do" had become extinct several years back.

With awakened interest we horned our way into the mass and at length halted directly behind two elderly men, very well dressed, it seemed, for persons forced to be idle. They were just concluding their conversation.

That $10,000 Clean-Up

"Well, Bill," said one, "we should have no trouble in putting across that deal when we see their agent."

"You bet," was the answer, "and it means $10,000 clear cash for us. We'll see him at 2 o'clock."

We were rather surprised to see them

Too much Turkish or Just enough Turkish?

IN one way, at least, smoking is exactly like eating.

The more rich and delicious a certain food is, the more care people take to avoid eating too much of it—for instance, plum pudding or candy.

The same rule applies to smoking. Cigar smokers, for example, are today more careful to avoid too many rich, heavy Havanas. (In fact, more and more cigar smokers now smoke cigarettes too, to help cut down the number of cigars.)

In the same way, cigarette smokers are learning that Turkish tobacco, delicious as it is, is so over-rich or heavy that a man can easily smoke too much of it.

But they are learning also that, instead of cutting down the number of cigarettes per day, they can cut down on the proportion of Turkish in each cigarette.

How to reduce on Turkish

THEY can do this by switching from straight Turkish to part Turkish, or "Turkish blend," cigarettes.

The first Turkish blend cigarette ever made—and the one which has always held first-rank importance—is Fatima.

Fatima contains more Turkish than does any other Turkish blend cigarette.

Perhaps this is the main reason why so many smokers of straight Turkish cigarettes keep switching to Fatimas.

Less worry about "too many"

ANOTHER reason undoubtedly is the fact that Fatimas treat smokers so kindly. The Turkish is so perfectly "balanced" by the other tobaccos in the blend that Fatima smokers never have any worry about smoking "too many."

At any rate, whatever the reason may be, Fatima keeps on attracting more and more of those smokers who, if they preferred the fancy, expensive, straight Turkish cigarettes, could easily afford them.

This is shown, of course, by Fatima's record in having won the top notch in sales at so many of the fashionable clubs and hotels and other prominent places all over the country (see below).

How much is "just enough"?

DOES not Fatima's record seem to prove that this is the one cigarette containing just enough Turkish? Not too much nor too little Turkish, but just enough. Make a test for yourself.

Lightbullyers Tobacco Co.

Fatima's Record
At scores of places where one would expect only fancy, straight Turkish cigarettes to sell, Fatima is today the leader. For example, Fatima is the largest seller at:

Chicago: Auditorium Hotel Congress Hotel Narragansett Pier Casino
New York: Hotel Astor Stock Exchange Hotel Vanderbilt
