Senators Reject Wilson's Pact Plea Continued From Page One the United States by refusing to join the league of nations not only would endanger its own safety, but would break faith with its associates in the war. Senator McNary Supports Treaty Supporting the league of nations, Senator McNary urged that it be accepted without any such amendments or reservations as would "alter the splendid purpose of the covenant or weaken it so far as it affects our duties." The Senate, said the speaker, could, without harm, adopt certain "reservations" in the form of interpretations, but should not endanger the covenant by making reservations that would vitally affect important features. Article X, he said, must be unimpaired, because it was "the pillar section" of the league. "I am stoutly in favor," said Mr. McNary, "of the principle embodied in any effort to insure the permanent peace of the world, and I am willing to accept the covenant of the league of nations contained in the peace treaty." "The Senate could, without postponing the day of the ratification of the treaty or requiring its resubmission to the other nations, by a resolution, place its interpretation as to the meaning of articles in the league susceptible to one or more meanings. "The constitution of the league is not the final and unalterable judge of the
