WOULD USE JUBILEE MONEY FOR SOLDIERS

Major Forster Favors Bonus to Aid Service Men Rather Than Big Demonstration

Mayor Smith will be asked to give his support to a plan to do away with the proposed peace jubilee here in September and use the funds required for such a demonstration to provide financial reward for the men who served their country during the war.

Major I. G. Gordon Forster, chairman of the executive committee of the First Congressional district, American Legion, today announced his intention of forming a body to call upon the Mayor and outline the plan. Letters are also being prepared to ask all influential men in the city to lend their support to the movement.

Hundreds of letters are pouring into the office of Major Forster, 1218 Chestnut street, in support of the bonus plan. Major Forster is leading a movement to get some sort of legislation either in the state or city governing bodies which will allow a payment to the men who served in the war.

According to Major Forster the average ex-army man is against the peace jubilee plan. In Massachusetts every man who served honorably in the army, navy or marine corps is to receive $100 from the state, after all state, county and municipal demonstrations will be, as far as possible, done away with.

RUNYON ENTERTAINS POLITICIANS AT CAMP

Gubernatorial Aspirants and Other Leading Jersey Men Flock to Sea Girt

OPEN-AIR DRILLS RESUMED

Special Dispatch to Evening Public Ledger
Camp Runyon, Sea Girt, N. J., July 24.—This is a big day at Sea Girt, Governor William H. Runyon is entertaining hundreds of politicians and other prominent New Jersey men at the second of his Governor's Day celebrations.

State Comptroller Newton A. K. Buzbee, Warren C. King and former Mayor Thomas F. Raymond, of Newark, the other three Republican gubernatorial candidates, are on the list of invited guests. State Senator Edward I. Edwards, of Hudson county, and James R. Nugent, of Essex, also will be on hand. The other Democratic gubernatorial candidate, Congressman Thomas J. Scully, of Middlesex, is expected.

The governor's guests today come from Camden, Mercer, Burlington, Union, Morris, Somerset, Warren and Hunterdon counties—the counties which are represented by the Second and Fourth Battalions of the state militia now encamped here for a week's training.

After long confinement in lecture halls and schools, due to rain of the last five days, the troops went to the drill work with a vim this morning.

This afternoon every available man in camp appeared in the review rendered to Governor Runyon. The review took place immediately after luncheon had been served on the lawn of the Little White House. The Second Battalion Band, of Collingswood, rendered a concert during the luncheon.

Adjutant General Frederick Gilkyson, whose plans for the encampment next week of the Sixth New Jersey Infantry were spoiled because the men in the command have not been under federal requisition for two months, is not satisfied with the results which he received from General J. McI. Carter, chief of the Bureau of Military Affairs of the War Department.

SPROUL SIGNS CHANGE IN COMPENSATION LAW

Merit Ratings for Premiums Must Now Be Approved by Commission

Governor Sproul has approved the amendments to the workmen's compensation insurance acts and heretofore no system of schedule or merit rating can be applied to such insurance premiums except through a rating bureau approved by the insurance commissioner.

Other bills approved included adding twenty-six clerks at $1,500 a year, four messengers or custodians at $1,200 each, and one janitor at $1,000 to the force of the Philadelphia register of wills.

Amending law relative to sheriffs, advising that they shall be by hand-bills, newspapers and legal journals.

The Governor vetoed the bill proposing new fees for probate in counties containing less than 150,000 population, on the ground he is not convinced of the necessity.

Other bills included: Authorizing acting commissioner of labor to employ and discharge employees on the ground that he now has the power.

Forbidding insurance companies, except life insurance companies, to transact business except through resident agents, on the ground that existing laws are adequate.

Increasing salaries and reclassifying factory inspectors, because he is not convinced of necessity.

SEEKS TO END CIGAR STRIKE

William Young, State Mediator, Talks at Workers' Meeting
William Young, chief mediator of the Pennsylvania Department of Labor and Industry, addressed striking cigar-makers this afternoon in Labor Lyceum Hall, Sixth and Brown streets.

The strike committee stated that thus far the strike has been a success.

Twelve girl pickets have been arrested and held in jail to keep the peace.

FOOD PRICES WILL STAY HIGH, SAYS MARTINDALE

Increase in Cost of Canned Goods, Jam and Jelly Forecast. Coffee and Tea Rise

Philadelphia grocers see no prospect of a reduction in the price of foodstuffs. There will be an increase, if anything, they argue.

"There isn't the slightest indication that the prices of groceries will come down," said Thomas Martindale, Jr.

"The price of flour is up, and sugar is scarce and the price is higher. We expect higher prices in canned goods. Take the strawberry, raspberry and blackberry crops this year. Housewives had to pay exorbitant prices for them this summer if they wanted them fresh. Not only was the crop small, but the big packers bought up every berry crop they could get their hands on, in anticipation of the prohibition season.

"The berries were sent to factories where they were converted to sirups for use in soda water. The sirup is now stored away in the event of a great demand for fruit pop.

"Must Pay High for Jam
"If you want jam and jelly in the future, you'll pay high for it. The same thing might be said for early June peas. The crops were small and the packers bought up every crop available, and the canned peas are stored away for future sale. Our advice to housewives is to buy as much canned goods as possible now while the prices are low in the market and before they will be, and stored away for future consumption, much the same as the packers are doing.

WIFE AND CHILD DEAD, GRIEF KILLS PASTOR

Rev. Joseph L. Roe, of Collingswood, N. J., Last of Family to Go

Funeral services for the Rev. Joseph L. Roe, retired member of the New Jersey M. E. Conference, will be held tomorrow night at his late residence, 153 Frazer avenue, Collingswood, N. J.

With the death of Doctor Roe, Wednesday night, the last member of the family passed away. Mrs. Roe died about 8 1/2 months ago and a daughter, Mary L. Roe, died last summer.

Doctor Roe was the second member of the New Jersey Conference to die within a week. The other was the Rev. J. W. Nicholson, pastor of the Cape May Church, who died in Hahnemann Hospital.

Doctor Roe, who was one of the best-known members of the conference, was eighty-one years old. Last March he suffered a stroke of paralysis, and it is thought that this and worry over the death of his wife and daughter hastened his end.

Doctor Roe became a member of the ministry in 1862, and before he retired in 1912 at Medford, where he was pastor for a year, was stationed at Kenilworth, E. Church, Woodbury; Central Church, Bridgeton.

DROWNINGS OF FIVE CAUSED BY RAINS

Two Boys Lose Lives Here in Pools Made by Continued Downpour

Five drownings in and near this city in the last few days are attributed to the recent heavy rains. Those drowned were:

Joseph Kennedy, seven years old, 5643 Ridge avenue.
Samuel Shubin, 1630 South Fourth street.
Amos Crawford, 2302 South Seventy-second street.
Tony Millett, whose address is not known.

Walter T. Nessler, two years old, of Carnes' Point, N. J.

The Kennedy boy was drowned while wading in a pool at Rittenhouse lane and Walnut lane, Roxborough. His body was later recovered by the Roxborough police.

Shubin, who was a former army lieutenant, recently returned from France, was drowned yesterday afternoon in the Schuylkill river when his skill was swept over Flat Rock dam. A companion, Maxwell Casserman, 24 North Fifty-second street, saved himself by swimming to shore.

The body of Crawford, a negro, was recovered in the Delaware river near Essington. Crawford went into Cogh's creek on Sunday for a swim. The steam was scalded from heavy rains and he was swept along with the current.

The body of an unidentified man, supposed to be Millett, was found floating in the Schuylkill river. In the pocket of the man's trousers was found a pay check inscribed, "Blow, Knox & Co., No. 436." In another pocket was a brass key inscribed "Tony Millett, M. E. Co., No. 49."

The Nessler boy was drowned in a pool in the rear of his home.

COAL DEARTH SEEN WITH HIGHER PRICES

Official Makes Gloomy Forecast at Meeting of State Retail Association

There will be a coal shortage this winter and prices are looked for an increase, according to Wellington M. Bertelot, secretary of the Pennsylvania Coal Merchants' Association. The organization is holding its annual convention in Reading. A number of Philadelphia dealers are attending the sessions.

The falling war could not have been won without coal, which was an essential in transportation and in the production of bullets, guns and food. Mr. Bertelot criticized Governor Sproul's view in the state investigations of retail coal prices.

"He referred to the proposed municipal coal yards the Governor believed would be an economical system of fuel distribution and went on to explain the disadvantages in such a system, saying there would be many ordering coal who would be unable to haul to their homes. He declared orderly and economic distribution can be obtained only through retailing.

With the price of coal, he retorted that there is no likelihood that present anti-trust rates would be reduced this year. While discussing this subject he called the dealers' attention to the contemplated increase which will be asked by the miners in August. "It this event," he said, "higher prices will inevitably follow."

He suggested that the dealers adopt the "buy early" slogan. "There will be a shortage of anti-trust during the coming winter, Mr. Bertelot declared. The reason it is important to mine coal and stock it pending future orders he explained as follows:

"Anti-trust will not be mined in any large quantity unless it can be sold, because it cannot be stored without great expense. Production cannot be increased at will beyond the tonnage which is the limit of development for that mine. Anti-trust production must be kept up for the twelve months of the year in order to meet the normal demand, and it must flow steadily from mine to consumer to avoid expensive storage."

Harry Wittig Aids Anti-Vare Fight
Harry Wittig, sergeant at arms of Select Council, has joined the forces of workers opposing the light on the Vare forces from the Republican Alliance Headquarters.

Mr. Wittig was connected with the Republican city committee for about twenty years, most of the time as chief clerk of that body. He severed his connection with the city committee when the Vares gained control in 1915.

For Men who are "miles around" we have many Suits to choose from at Perry's!

Somebody said to us not long ago—"Big men must like you people, for I never saw so many heavy-weights buying suits all at once as you have right here."

And we were forced to notice the fact ourselves—a fact that we were rather used to—namely, seeing several big men getting fitted in forty-fours to fifty-fours without the slightest difficulty.

The real feature of our large and extra large sizes is that we pay as much attention to their lines as we do to the so-called regular sizes.

We draft them and cut them to produce the effect of symmetry and of proportion, with the result that we make a man look a size or two slimmer than he really is.

Another thing. We cut our large and extra large sizes in a variety of patterns, for a big man ought to have a chance to show his taste as much as any other man.

And that applies to our entire stock of Summer Suits—to tropical and to feather-weight fabrics as well as to woolens and worsteds.
