

JUST GOSSIP ABOUT PEOPLE

First of August Sends Many Away to New England Resorts—Nancy Wynne Chats About People Seen in Town and Going Away

TODAY being the 1st of August, about forty-five people have decided that it is time for them to get out of town. I wish you could see the array of departures that are scheduled for today. If you wrote them down in order, or even if I did, the result would look strangely like a half-grown telephone book. In the first place, this is the date fixed for the trip that Mrs. Norton Downs is going to take to Lake Louise by way of the Canadian Rockies. And not Mrs. Downs alone, for she is accompanied by Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Sill Clark and her two daughters, Phoebe McKean Downs and Sarah Althea Downs, and Phoebe's fiancé, Joseph West Sargent, and S. Warren McKean Downs. They live—the Downs family—in that beautiful big place out at The Tuns, you know. Then the Hartman Kuhns, of Laurier, Bryn Mawr, are leaving today on a motor trip to North East Harbor. Mr. and Mrs. John Kent Kane and their family, of Radnor, will leave for Cedar Point, their summer home in Sandersonstown, R. I., and the Oliver Eaton, of Swemels, are going, with small son, to Narragansett Pier. Mr. and Mrs. Charles A. Mann are going up to Newport to visit Mr. and Mrs. Paul Demick Mills. Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Drexel Paul are going to Newport later to visit the Mills; they are at Dark Harbor now and will leave soon to visit Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence T. Paul in Newport before they go to the city. Mrs. Mills' father called up, but perhaps you can get my meaning. Marian Wister Baird, a debutante of next year, is going up to Northeast to visit Lorraine Diston, another debut, for some time. Then, as I told you yesterday, Mrs. Groome and Mrs. Diston are both going North. So you see there will be quite an exodus today and tomorrow and the trains will be "right smart" busy. I SAW Constance Vanclen yesterday in the "shopping district," as I would say if I were writing a novel, which I'm not. She looked very cool and comfortable in a dark blue velvet dress, with many tucks in the waist and a soft white embroidered collar and neck. Her hat was becoming, too. It was of a lighter shade of blue silk, turned up all around, with a small bow at one side of the brim. MARY RIVINUS was in town this week, too. I hear, I didn't see her, but some one else did and told me. It's great to be my kind of a person. People see people and hear things and immediately say, "Oh, I must tell Nancy that," and then Nancy hears a great many things. Well, anyhow, this someone who saw Mary Rivinus said she looked very well, and had just come up to town for a few days. She and her mother, Mrs. David Caldwell Rivinus, have a cottage down at Chelsea for the summer, you know. And, of course, you also know that her engagement to Gordon Fetterman was announced this week. Mrs. Rivinus and her daughter live at 2119 De Lanoy place. MR. AND MRS. HOWARD E. SEAVER, of Montgomery avenue, Chestnut Hill, are going up to Eagles Mere this week to spend the rest of the summer. Everybody who goes to that unpeppery place raves over it so, they say. "Wonderful swamping of dancing, plenty of boating, lots of swains, all the amusements that you'd find anywhere else, and millions of nice people," somebody told me the other day. No wonder so many Philadelphians go there. Mrs. Seaver's daughter, Mary Goodman, who will make her debut on September 27, at a tea which will be given at the home of Mrs. Albert Spenser, will give in honor, in visiting Harriet Zimmerman at Seal Cove, Harriet is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John E. Zimmerman, of 1819 De Lanoy place, and she will be introduced at a tea which her parents will give at White-worth, their place in Nydal, on October 15. Harriet has just been graduated from St. Mary's at Peckskill. NANCY WYNNE. Miss M. Claire Spenser, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Willard Spenser, of St. Davids, will be maid of honor at the wedding of Miss Eleanor Dameson Grubb, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph H. Grubb, and Major Thomas Hutchinson Winston on Saturday, August 9, at Bass River, Mass., the engagement of Miss Spenser to Miss Grubb's brother, Mr. Joseph H. Grubb, Jr., has been announced. Miss Gertrude Dougherty and Mr. Daniel Dougherty entertained the younger set of the May at a beach party on Tuesday evening. Among those present were Miss Helen Sewall, Miss Mona Crozer, Miss Florence Crozer, Miss Sarah Dolan, Miss Barbara Boyd, Miss Lysbeth Boyd, Miss Banning Grange, Miss Catharine Porter, Miss Sara Harrison, Miss Margaretta Harrison, Miss Maud Harrison, Miss Mazie Rush, Miss Mildred Longstrech, Mr. Thomas Adams, Mr. James Ferguson, Mr. Edward Cassard, Mr. Worthman Newkirk, Mr. Charles Baird, Mr. Paul Nells, Mr. James Davis and Mr. William Davis. Miss Peggy Rosengarten, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Mitchell G. Rosengarten, who will be among next season's debutantes, will be the guest of honor at a dinner dance to be given on November 24 at the Bellevue-Stratford by Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Aulerider Riley, of 1509 Spruce street. An engagement of interest announced today is that of Miss Gretchen Avery, of Winchester, Mass., and Lieutenant Horace Butler, son of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas S. Butler, of West Chester. Lieutenant Butler is a brother of Brigadier General Smedley Darlington Butler.

CLUB FOR ENLISTED MEN TO BE "NEWSIES" SANCTUM

"Some One Does Care." Motto of St. Stephen's. Will Be Continued as Leading Thought for Little Paper Venders. "Some one does care" has been the motto of the Old St. Stephen's Club for Enlisted Men, which closed its doors yesterday, and the same motto will be used in the fall, when the building opens as a "newsies" club. The clubhouse is located on Tenth street above Chestnut. During the last twenty-five months more than 230,000 enlisted men enjoyed the hospitality of the club, which was open day and night, with numerous conveniences and entertainments. About two weeks ago the building admitted the young newsboys who hang around the streets late in the evening waiting for the first edition of the morning papers. Many of the boys whiled away the time by shooting craps, and it occurred to the Rev. Frederick B. Keable, assistant pastor of St. Stephen's, that a more wholesome recreation could be provided by turning the club for enlisted men into a club for newsboys. On the first trial evening upwards of seventy-five boys came into the club to enjoy the free outs and the games provided by the club. Free eats were furnished the second night, just for hospitality's sake; and then the boys de-

WHAT IS A MEAL? AND IF SO, WHY ISN'T MILK? WHO KNOWS?

Restaurant Owners and Revenue Collectors Are in Quandary Over Tax on Ice Cream Served Without Food. "What is a meal?" "Does pie a la mode constitute a meal?" "Is a small cake a meal?" These are questions that neither Congress, the collector of internal revenue, nor those who have direct charge of levying the so-called luxury taxes have been able to decide. While the law specifically states that "the sale of ice cream is not taxable when made in the regular course of business at a hotel, restaurant, cafeteria, luncheon or clubhouse, unless such articles are sold separately and apart from meals," the question of what is a meal is still puzzling the minds of many restaurant proprietors. Under the arbitrary interpretation of the law, as shown by some of the restaurants and luncheons, a five-cent cake constitutes a meal. According to the statement of physicians, a glass of milk may provide a meal for certain persons, and is, in fact, urged by doctors as one of the most wholesome forms of light lunch. In other words, in some restaurants persons on a milk diet who also desire to partake of ice cream are compelled to make purchases of other unwanted articles of food to make up the so-called meal in order to be served with cooling refreshments. This, then, in fact, makes the tax in some cases 50 per cent, instead of 10 per cent, the levy on ice cream. Ephraim Lederer, collector of internal revenue, said today that any person wishing to buy ice cream apart from a regular meal in a public restaurant or luncheon should be given the privilege of paying the tax, 10 per cent thereon, in lieu of buying anything in the way of food. He said that places requiring the purchase of a "meal" are taking the matter of administering the law into their own hands without authority to do so. Mr. Lederer is also of the opinion that a glass of milk may be as much a meal as a piece of cake.

15 CATHOLIC CHURCHES HOLD PARDON SERVICES

Many Will Seek Indulgences of Portiuncula Throughout City. Fifteen Roman Catholic churches of this city today and tomorrow will be the haven of Catholics seeking the indulgences of Portiuncula or the grand pardon. This indulgence grants to the applicant remission of temporal punishment due for sin and consolation for souls in purgatory. The indulgence dates back to the time of St. Francis, 1221 A. D. St. Francis is reputed to have had a wonderful love for sinners and bewailed the condition of men who defiled their souls by evil-doing. Catholic authority says that Christ appeared in a vision to the saint and gave him permission to grant plenary indulgence to "those who having sincerely confessed and who devoutly visit this church." The church was that of Santa Maria of the Angels, commonly called Portiuncula. On the occasion of the seventh centenary of the founding of the Franciscan order, July 9, 1910, Pope Pius X authorized ordinaries of dioceses to order that year certain churches under their jurisdiction with the plenary indulgence. A year later another papal decree allowed continuation of the granting of this privilege. Visits to gain this indulgence, according to a papal edict, issued January 26, 1911, may begin at noon today and end at midnight tomorrow. Churches of this city to which the Portiuncula privilege is attached are the following: Cathedral, St. Alphonsus, Fourth and Reed; St. Anthony's, Twenty-fourth and Fitzwater; St. Bonaventura's, Ninth and Cambria; St. Boniface's, Second and Diamond; St. Elizabeth's, Twenty-third and Berks; St. Francis of Assisi's, West Logan and Greene; St. Francis de Sales, Forty-seventh and Springfield avenues; St. John the Evangelist, Thirteenth above Chestnut; Our Lady of the Blessed Sacrament, Broad street and Fairmount avenue; Our Lady of Good Counsel, Eighth and Christian; St. Malachy's, Eleventh and Master; Our Mother of Sorrows, Forty-eighth and Lancaster avenues; St. Peter's, Fifth and Girard avenue; St. Vincent de Paul's, East Price street.

SCENARIO TO SCREEN; NOTES OF MOVIEDOM

Jack Norworth, entertainer of the vaudeville and musical comedy stage, writer and singer of popular song successes and producer of musical shows, has been signed by Theodore Wharton as star in "The Crooked Dagger," the forthcoming Wharton serial to be produced for the Daltie program. Early in the war Mr. Norworth went to London, where he appeared for nearly three years without a break in a review by Sir James M. Barrie and the music halls. Tom Moore, the debonair Goldenwyn star, who has just completed "Heart-sore" with Harry Beaumont directing, is spending the days between pictures at his beach home. He is quite a swimmer and goes in several times each day. He owns an array of surf implements, including surf boards, air mattresses, buoys and other sport paraphernalia. It is now trying to fit a motorcycle engine to a board so he can ride far out and then coast in the big breakers. When Charlie Chaplin heard that Jack Dempsey was visiting Douglas Fairbanks, the world's champion athlete, he decided the world's champion pugilist should be left out, so he dashed over and had lunch with Doug and Jack. After the new clamp had demonstrated the punches that started Willard down the toboggan he said, "Let's get everybody on the lot and have a battle royal. Doug, you and I will stand the gang." Albert Parker is directing Clara Kimball Young in her newest screen play, "The Eyes of Youth," and for it has selected one of the most notable girls ever in pictures. The players who will appear in "The Eyes of Youth" are: Edmund Love, Morona Starr, who plays opposite Miss Young; Vincent Serrano; Gareth Hughes; William Courtleigh; Sam Sothern; Pauline Starke; Anders Randolph and Rodolfo Valentino.

Abdill, a former mayor; Charles Chism, the borough recorder; Frank Wakeley and E. R. Allen. Council has approved the resignation and the men will likely accept. Harry Weldon, the borough marshal; Howard Matlack and Isaac Sands, constables, and Joseph Magee, who have been doing extra work on Saturday and Sunday, presented a bill to Council for their services, but the bill was laid aside. The officers say that they will continue to serve and will sue Council the end of the summer if they are not paid.

COUNT WOULDN'T WORK

Drew All Wife's Allowances and Beat Her, She Says. Reno, Nev., Aug. 1.—At the conclusion of the second hearing of the action for divorce brought by Countess Margaret D. de Bernard against Count Pierre M. de Bernard, of Paris, District Judge E. F. Lunsford ordered the case submitted. The court indicated that it would grant the divorce prayed for in case the evidence relative to the residence of the countess in Reno, taken at the first hearing, proved sufficient. The evidence on the merits of the case, the issue being extreme cruelty, was satisfactory, the court said. Countess de Bernard said her husband refused to work after their marriage, despite her solicitations and those of his mother's. "He drew all of her monthly allowances out of the bank, the plaintiff said, leaving her nothing with which to pay bills, and this was a source of continuous violent quarrels. During the quarrels, she said, her husband often struck her. His actions, she said, broke down her health and on the advice of specialists she left him. The divorce suit was filed at New York city April 25, 1907. Countess de Bernard is a member of a wealthy Gould family of New Jersey. Count de Bernard did not contest the suit.
