GIRL MISSING; FATHER DIES

Mother Asks Her Return to Attend Funeral

The authorities of Camden and Gloucester City are making a search today for eighteen-year-old Marie Faupel, of 404 South Fourth street, Gloucester. Since the girl's disappearance last Thursday her father has died.

The girl's mother pleaded with the police today to locate her daughter in time for her to attend the funeral of the father, which will be held tomorrow.

The girl was heard from Saturday, the day her father died. At that time she wrote a letter from Camden, telling her mother that she was employed in a needle factory there.

BOIL WATER. IS WARNING

Gloucester Folk Pumping Station Impaired, Supplied From Creek

Water from Newton creek is being supplied residents of Gloucester, N. J., today, and notices have been sent out to boil all drinking water as a precautionary measure.

The water supply in Gloucester was cut today by the breaking of two air compressors in the pumping station there. It was necessary to open one valve leading to Newton creek to meet the water demand. It is expected that the repairs will be made at the pumping station by tomorrow night.

SNELL SUCCEEDS BENNETT

Acting Lieutenant Takes Place of Convicted Man

Richard S. Snell is now acting lieutenant of the Third and Dickinson streets police station. He succeeded former Lieutenant David Bennett, one of the defendants in the Fifth ward election murder, who resigned on Friday.

Bennett's term as lieutenant ended at midnight Saturday. He and the patrolmen convicted in the Fifth ward case may have to begin their sentences in the West Chester jail on Wednesday unless their counsel decides to take an appeal to the United States Supreme Court.

Acting Lieutenant Snell has been in the police department sixteen years.

25-POUND ICE RATION HERE MAY BE REDUCED

Commission Will Meet Today to Discuss Further Conservation Plans to Avert Famine

ONLY 62,000 TONS STORED

It may be necessary further to conserve ice distribution to householders because of the impending shortage. Twenty-five pounds per customer is now the allotment allowed by the ice commission here.

Observation plans will be discussed today at a meeting of the commission.

Whether the twenty-five pounds of ice allowed to householders will be reduced further this summer will depend largely upon the reports of the thirty-one manufacturers of artificial ice, which will be submitted to the commission.

The reports will show the quantity of ice in storage, the daily output of each plant and the quantity sold during the last two weeks of July, as compared with that sold in the corresponding period a year ago.

"The situation is serious," said Chief John A. Vogleson, of the Bureau of Health, who is a member of the ice commission. "At the beginning of July there were 80,000 tons of ice in storage here. That was reduced to 62,000 tons on July 15, and the members of the commission know that there has been a considerable reduction since that date."

The combined plants have a producing capacity of 4700 tons a day, while the daily consumption is approximately 7200 tons. The difference has to be made up in storage ice up to about the middle of September, when the great demand ceases.

"Heretofore the situation has been met with natural ice brought from the Poconos and the lakes of Northern New Jersey, but no such ice is available for the Philadelphia market this summer. As a result we are compelled to depend entirely for the extra demand on artificial ice."

Flier Slightly Hurt in Fall
While flying a Curtiss airplane yesterday afternoon, L. A. Dickman, a local aviator, stalled the motor of his machine and crashed to the ground after he had ascended about 100 feet over the field of the Pennsylvania Aero Service Corporation, at Bustle avenue and Island road. The left wing and nose of the plane struck the ground and broke the fall of the plane. Dickman, however, was hurled out and sustained slight injuries.

BOATHOUSE CRASH IMPERILS LIVES

DANCING THROUG CAUGHT AS BOATHOUSE COLLAPSES

Lives of Many Imperiled, but Only Few Are Injured in Bridesburg Crash—Women in Near-Panic

The lives of a number of persons were imperiled and several were slightly injured and several boathouses at the Bridge street wharf, Bridesburg, collapsed and fell into the river last night. Most of the persons imperiled in the wreckage managed to escape unassisted, but some were extricated only after rescuers had come to their assistance.

As the water began to fill the collapsed house the screams of two women were heard from the rear end, which was furthest from the bank of the river. A boat was launched by Clarence Zimmerman, 2719 Bridge street, and John Tomkins, 2709 Frapp street, who rowed to a window at the rear of the house, snatched it in and drew the women into the boat.

Several persons sustained slight injuries and bruises, although none needed medical attention.

It was thought that the foundations of the house had become undermined by the water currents at the base of the piles upon which it was erected, and the structure made unsteady.

Much excitement was caused upon the recreation pier which is beside the boathouse. The pier was crowded with persons, including a number of children.

Collapse of the boathouse came with dramatic suddenness. A party was in progress at the time, supposedly under the direction of Frank Wilson, of Front and Diamond streets. A number of women were there and the strains of jazz music rang across the water. In the midst of this came a crash and ripping of wood, followed by the complete collapse of the house. The noise could be heard in all sections of Bridesburg and people streamed to the water's edge.

Harry Ulmer, superintendent of boat-houses, 2015 Bridge street, was the first to arrive. He managed to extricate a number of those who were caught in the debris. By this time a crowd of several thousand had gathered.

Woolworth on Fifth Avenue

Astonishment has been expressed that a five and ten cent store is so successful on fashionable Fifth Avenue.

Because the wealthy frequent the Avenue, it is assumed that all are wealthy and that small coins are disdained.

It is sometimes believed that open-handed prodigality is an attribute of wealth. It may be in buying old masters, yachts or tiaras, but commercially the relatively poor are the "spenders."

In the circle of your own experience, who spends most on patent leather shoes, "nobby clothes" or other foibles?

The market possibilities for luxuries have increased greatly in the past ten years.

The war-made "free spender" has raised his standard of living.

HIGHER FOOD PRICES FOLLOW WAR'S END

Pennsylvania Market Bureau Shows How Vegetable Costs Continue Upward Trend

GREATER ECONOMY URGED

The bureau of markets of the Pennsylvania Department of Agriculture sends out the following forecast regarding the supplies of nearby fruits and vegetables for the present week:

Afterwar prices for everyday necessities are moving to be higher than during the war, thus making it essential for all to economize wherever possible. There is greater need than ever for housewives to utilize and conserve all locally grown products when they are in season.

The abundance of rain reported from all but northwestern sections of Pennsylvania has been helpful to most vegetable crops, but not to the fruits and berries.

Cabbage, beets, cucumbers, onions, peppers and tomatoes are being marketed in sufficiently large quantities to be used for making pickled cabbage, pickles, pepperoni, chowchow and other relishes. A light movement of lima beans, eggplants and peas is also reported.

Corn and string beans both promise to be plentiful, particularly in the western and northern part of the state. Most of the peaches now available are good flavored but are cling and not so suitable for canning as the later varieties. A few nearby cantaloupes will be found in Philadelphia and surrounding markets.

Blackberries and huckleberries can be had in season.

PERRY'S Big Annual REDUCTION SALE
Spring and Summer Suits
It's Good!

☐ A member of the Advertising Department of this store was standing outside our show windows, after hours a few evenings ago looking things over, when a courteous stranger moved up beside him and said:

☐ "Brother, don't you think those prices are marked up before they're marked down?" and he pointed to a Suit bearing a card inscribed "Reduced Price, $35." Continuing, he held out his left arm and felt of his coat sleeve with the fingers of his right, saying: "I paid $45 for this Suit and it looks better than that—of course," said he, "that was over a year ago."

☐ The advertising man answered: "Well, no; Perry's could hardly do that—mark things up for a Sale. You see, they've been in business about 50 years, are pretty well known, and have a reputation to maintain. By the way, I'm paying twenty-five cents for coHars I got a year ago two for a quarter, and my lunches—when I can afford to buy a good one—are costing me a lot more than they used to. As a matter of fact, I think their prices haven't advanced so much when I come to think of it, and the other day I read in the news columns of several papers that clothing prices are going to be a good deal higher next year."

☐ "Well, I guess you're right," said the seeker after enlightenment as he walked away.

☐ Everybody in touch with business conditions knows that the explanation was true!

☐ So, size up the market situation and think things over with yourself when we tell you that—

Stretched as in the tire, good tubes do not rip when cut. They cut but do not rip.

The slightest cut in an inferior tube—Rip! and the tube is ruined. Make your dealer prove that the tube he sells will stand the Norwalk test.

The Scissors Test
Reproduces actual service conditions. You hold the rubber at tension exactly as the air will hold it. The scissors snip is like the edge of a puncture.
This test proves the truth of the Norwalk guarantee: Norwalk Tubes do not rip as other tubes. Cuts can always be repaired. They do not spread.
It proves before you buy, the mileage you can get from Norwalks.
Norwalk Tubes, red and gray, are made of highest grade floating stock.
And there's a Norwalk Casing too.
