What May Happen

Connie Promises Changes at Shibe Park - Many New Recruits to Get a Tryout From Now on

NO WORD FROM DUGAN

By EDWIN J. POLLOCK

CONNIE MACK has stopped playing a forlorn hope. A quarter hundred victories in eighty-nine starts have convinced him that his ball club won't do.

Fans were sure of this fact some time ago and critics were further impressed with it shortly after the campaigning began, but not Connie. For weeks he has held on to the hope that his athletes, would show him the stuff he believed them to possess. Now he knows they don't possess it.

The dream bubble has broken and the dream man has turned into a man of action. Connie Mack is aggressive His first step will be a tryout of a flock of recruits between now and the time the season ends. The tall traveler must have seen a lot of things on his last visit to the inland points.

Every now and then the A's would flare up and look like a regular ball club. Then they would lapse again in that Then they would lapse again in that state that has placed them under lock and key in the cellar. Mack believed he really had a regular club at the begin-less of the scarn and these occasional sestion. ning of the season and these occasional ning of the season and these occasional Hoston outbursts fanned the flame in his dream "Athletics pipe a little brighter when it was glowing almost to ashes. But the smoke is over, the bubble is busted. Connie sees the light.

Clonnie would have nothing to say Phillies. Phillies. Phillies. Phillies. Phillies. Phillies. ing almost to ashes. But the smoke is CONNIE would have nothing to say O about the trip that kept him out of our town for almost a week. He refused to give any names of players he saw and signed, but admitted that he had a number in tow. Mack is truly the sphinx of the Shibe stadium.

"There's nothing to be said about the trip," said Mack. "But I will say that there will be a lot of new faces at Shibe Park. From now on we are going to try out a number of ball players. It will not be a matter of waiting until the little league seasons We will start to give the new talent the once-over right away.'

The lean leader added that all his pitchers were ready for duty, which means that Win Noyes may swing into action any one of these fair days. Scott Perry, who has been ailing with a sore throat, has been scratched from the list and is ready to start against the White Sox in the doubleheader today.

It was believed that Mack would have further word from Joe Dugan by this time, but he said that he had not heard anything from the New Haven shortstop. Apparently Joseph intends to take a long rest at his home.

KID GLEASON is always tickled to come to our city. Not only is it his native town, but he always receives Horses sold and the prices follow: courteous treatment at Shibe Park, The Kid is longing for such a reception right now. The White Sox need it.

The Chicago clubbers have not been going very well of late and Gleason expects to get them on the winning road here. There's many a club started in the right direction by our A's. The Sox have dropped seven of their last ve contests, which is no way for a ball club with pennant aspirations to act. The Gleason gang lost its last home game before starting on the road and then three out of four were taken away by the Browns. The Yanks were tum-bled in three of their four games with the Sox, but Gleason struck a snag in Boston, where two out of three games were snatched by Babe Ruth and his

Bingles and Bungles

"Don't see who Han Johnson should get all het up over some one saying he has stock in the Indians," said the guy with the brown derby. "If they accused him of having stock in the A's he'd have room to kick."

Ed Barrow had to flounder around near e bottom before he realized Heine Wag-r's worth. Heine should add a little bre color to the Red Sox.

Colonel Huston is said to have referred to Johnson's alleged interest in the Cleveland Club as a carbuncle against the health of the league, which, of course, made Ban as sore as a boll.

Jawn McGraw is accused of having called Cincinnati "the home of the Hun." Prob-ably he meant the home of the run.

Nehf doesn't think he's getting 'nuf. Arthur says he won't play with McGraw until he gets a raise.

The dry-drink demon wants to know what Bill Lange has been doing in his forty-eight years of experience that he hasn't picked up enough good sense to keep shy of the matri-monial sea

Connie Mack's announcement that he's going to try out a number of recruits is an admission on his part that the A's haven't a chance for the pennant this year.

Is thoroughly in harmony with lawn tennis lore that Maurice E. McLoughlin, the Comet from the Coast should attempt his comeback on the turf courts of the Casino at Newport. It was there that the once-unbeatable, red haired Californian leaped into fame by defeating William A. Larned in the all omers tournament in 1911. It was also there that Dick Williams, of Philadelphin, astounded the tennis world by beating McLoughlin for the title in the summer of 1914 after Mac had trimmed Norman E. Free From U. S. Normal Income Tax Callable at 120

Owns 16 acres of very valuable land, suitable buildings and developed water power in towns of Needham and Dover, Mass. Company has paid dividends on its outstanding Preferred Stock since incorporation, 1914, and is now earning at the rate of 12%

Net Assets largely in excess of Preferred Stock outstanding. Convertible privilege uncommonly attractive. Company last year was unable to fill more than 50% of its orders.

New plant additions will be completed Sept. 1st, which will increase capacity 300% and materially add to earnings. Price 90, to yield 7.75%
