EVENING PUBLIC LEDGER- PHILADELPHIA, FRIDAY, AUGUST 8, 1919

The Lady of the Night Wind By VARICK VANARDY Author of "The Two-Faced Man." "Alias the Night Wind," etc

(Cepyright, 1919, by the Macaulay Cr.) before the evening was finished she con-THIS STARTS THE STORY

A week-end house party is being held at the home of Katherine and Bingham Harvard. Among the guests are Clancy, Archer, Demming, Scars and one Conrad Belknap. Katherine covers Belknap cheating at a game of cards. She demands that he leave her house immediately. He scornfully refuses to do so. Katherine is about to tell her husband of the occurrence, but hesitates owing to a peculiar influence which Belknap seems to exert over her. Convinced his deception, however, and suspleious of his actions, she is all the more determined to ferret out his real identity. Katherine has formerly had an experience as a police headquarters detective under the name of Lady Kate of the Police. She intercepts a telephone call of Belknap's and discovers the name and address of a woman confederate whom he calls Berta. She learns that Relknap has set afoot some scheme. Realizing that he is suspected by Katherine, Belknap threatens to exthat Katherine's fact nose the brother, Roderick Maxwilton, who is believed by his parents to be dead. faces a term in prison. Bingham Harvard, who once hore the alias "The Night Wind," becomes suspicious of Belknap and Katherine's attitude toward him. Katherine's parents arrive at her home.

AND HERE IT CONTINUES.

THERE was never any accounting for Tom Clancy's likes and dislikes, and they were as often prejudiced as other. Convintes, care of the Boundary 1 wise, so far as the reason for them tertainment was concerned.

Immediately after luncheon that day Katherine invited Betty to a ride with her in her own roadster, which she always drove herself, and, telling her other guests that she would leave them to their own devices for an hour or two while she and Mrs. Clancy fore a hole [reted. in the atmosphere, she drove her cur the tennis courts, where some of the with many emotions. directly to the city.

Betty always had shopping to do. Tom's ample bank account did not prevent her from being an inveterate bargain hunter, and Katherine very easily found the means to leave her friend her the preceding night. had referred.

She sought mercly to locate it, because it happened to be in a street with which she was unfamiliar-a street in the Greenwich Village section.

She knew the fringes of that neighbe bood well enough, for she had, in the olice days, lived in West Eleventh time; but the mazes of street for a Greenwich Village-and to a stranger the locality is something of a labyrinth -were unknown to her. She found the address readily enough and drove on past it without stopping. for she was intensely disappointed, and not a little disgusted. It was plain enough that "Roberta" did not live there-although it was not so plain how the woman could make use of a telephone from that address at midnight and after.

The place was a combination of sta. paid in other industries for the same Plumb Opposes Government Operation tionery, toy and cigar store and news classes of work. stand, and, moreover, it was only one story high, being a makeshift little Any advances granted will be pro-

tance apart:

building thrust in between two taller maintain their standard of life and to Katherine stopped her car at the next retain competent men who might othercorner, got down, and walked slowly wise be attracted to other employment.

back to the address. She occupied a moment or two in peering in at the window to select something to purchase, and then went inside. She saw at once that the building was in persuading Katherine to engage for station to meet you, but really, I unthe approaching week-end, to play for them, the services of one whom she deplaniste she had ever heard perform. twenty." Katherine was not given to employing Katherine saw an expression of utter tion. hired talent for the entertainment of her guests, but when there was a chorus of approval of the idea from one group-of which Belknap, by the way, was the flash, being gone again with the inenter-and when Bingham suggested. Why not have her down. Katherine?' lightning of a summer night. Kath she assented. ine was not even sure that it "My goodness no," Mme, Savage been--anything. said in reply to a question, "I have And then Katherine met with a surnever met her personally. I have heard her play three or four times-maybe not prise; an astonishing one. Senorita, Cerventez did not reply. so many-but I never saw her nearer than across a crowded room; and my smile that lighted up her countenance. wonderfully--thus indicating that she had perfectly understood all that Katherine had said. A quick and emphatic nod of her perfectly poised head ac companied the smile. The fingers of her oft hand, exquisitely gloved, were lifted to her lips, and touched them, while she shook her herd slowly, still smilhas been told that I have heard her ling; and then, for a brief instant, she accepted both of Katherine's extended threshold when he discovered them. But she dropped them at once, an cutertainer; and I told my secre-tary to send her word tout of course I hent forward over the small black satchel she had been carrying, which he had put down as Katherine apmonched her. She opened it, she thrust a hand incan charge it to not. Ring Harvard, if ide, into a pocket of it, and brought Of course I've got her address; I orth a fountain pen and a small pad made a note of it on my tablets before I started. Here it is now-Senovita Burenu. Metropolitan Building. There you are, folks." Katherine sent off a letter that night, evesight isn't as good as it was once

Just the same I have been told that she is very beautiful-the Spanish type, you know-and-er-all that sort of thing. She does play magnificently, he lieve me! Do have her down, Kathetine, for a change, if you want entertainment; she isn't expensive, so I've been informed. You see, she probably play, for she wrote to me-let me see, would recommend her to my friends as would-su-well-you see"-the old lady turned toward Harvard-"

you don't like her last week it was-and asked me ladies were playing a four-some, and where Katherine was seated beside had been half filled with written words. Betty, looking on.

and at once guessed her identify, in | hostess, deed, there could have been no cus-It read as follows:

outstretched in greeting, and she ex-elaimed, while they were yet some dis "Oh, I am so sorry !" Kitherine exclaimed, while they were yet some diselaimed, and with an impulse she did portioned to enable the employes to witness replied.

R. R. Strikers Get Back-to-Work Order Continued From Page One

Blanton Scents Anarchy A joint resolution "declaring that a ticians, and that, we submit, cannot Carmen and Clerks, state of anarchy exists in the United he safely done. States, authorizing the Pre-ident to

"It is Senorita Cervantez, isn't it? | not seek to control she put her hands quered-in the fact that she succeeded I am so sorry that nobody was at the upon the stranger's shoulders and kissed her on the cheek-and it was a glowing, olive-and-rose-tinted cheek that derstood that you were to arrive at four, anybody might have been glad to kiss.

Katherine, by a gesture, summoned the others around her. She presented the senorita. She explained the situaalmost with tears in her eyes, for amazement flash into the exes of she folt instantly and mysteriously drawn Senorita Cervantez; and it was only a to the woman who was so strangely hereft of the power of speech. The stant of its appearance, like the distant schorita was undoubtedly beautiful, with ath face and features and glowing eyes as his position, and he never author had young as Katherine Harvard's or Betty an interview committing him to it, erine was not even sure that it had expressed amazement; it might have been anothing with gray. She was tall-as tall as Katherine-and straight, and willowy, tration to deal with both the wage and and as graveful in every motion she

the pen and pad had been returned, and interstate led the plauiste toward the house. Bridge, in the billiard room, had been discontinued somewhat earlier than that the issues were so big and im-usual that day, and thus it happened portant to the country that he had felt that Contrad Belknap sauntered through that Congress ought to be consulted in the wide doorway at the moment when adopting a policy to deal with them. Katherine and the senorita arrived at "Mr.

the top of the veranda steps. He came to a sudden stop at the

It seemed to Katherine---vaguely then, although she recalled the circumstances later-as if he had the impulse to turn UNIONS WILL ANSWER about and escape. Instead, he moved forward, and with the expression in his eyes of one who expects to be introduced.

Katherine presented him to the of paper : and then, to Katherine's utter anuazement—even to her consternation words, to which she added, as briefly as and dismay-the schorita began to write possible, an explanation of the senorita's infirmity.

The tennis game was momentarily discontinued. The players were grouped together, close to the net. Betty left $\frac{1}{1} \frac{1}{1} \frac{1}$ eted. She approached the house by var of the tennis courts, where some of the with many emotions.

When the topmost sheet of the pad of making her acquaintance, bowed low mand by President Wilson. over her extended hand (another indithe senorita lifted a pair of smiling cation of her Spanish type, by the way), It was Katherine who saw her first, and at once guessed her identify, in hostess.

staring at the doorway after they had found the means the past the address long enough to drive past the address that the telephone operator had given that the telephone operator had given as hers, and to which Mine, Savage words to neknowledge your gracious interve was an uninstakable grin of a settlement of the wage controversy by welcome. Once I thought I was to an uninstakable of one who is asking receiving serious consideration. graceful, swinging gait (daintily, like success my voice was taken from me himself many unanswerable questions, a gazelle, Tom Clancy said afterward), utterly, Sometimes-not always-it is although he uttered no words, and his a gazelle, Tom Claney said afterward), interly. Sometimes—nor always—it is like one who had spent much dime in possible for me to converse in a faint the open and among the wilds, who had whisper, although it is an effort to do scaled mountains, perhaps. Katherine left her chair and hurried please be patient. My fingers shall talk is remarking, "Vell, how much did you Workers, were ordered back to work lives against the chances of Fate, which to meet the senorita, with both hands to you, in this manner, and-still bet- expect, anyhow?" and continued on today by John P. Noonan, international his way to the tennis courts.

Congress Threatened, Says Webster Declaring that he wished to substanseat members of Congress were a part men's demand for wage increases.

"Wages have been increased, the men without additional legislation by A statement authorized by Senator mmins last night said : "Senator Cummins today received a etter from Director General Hines, of the railroad administration, explaining his views of the legal situation con-fronting the railroad management. Mr. explaining Hines was quoted recently as indicating the opinion that additional legal authority was needed to enable the railroad administration to deal with the rate and wage questions before it. In that interview he seemed to take the position that action of Congress in re-storing the rate control of the Interstate Commerce Commission was tantamount to prohibiting any further increases of rates. "This, Mr. Hines makes clear, is not He was far from a desire to criticize anystores. thing Congress had done and agreed that there is ample legal authority al-ready reposed in the railroad adminisquestions. In this regard, he en-y agrees with the position taken by She smiled—and it was a beautiful made as a fawn. The shifted up has a beautiful made as a fawn. Katherine took the little bag, to which Mr. Cummins, in his recent speech, and the gipsy name for groundhog-hotwith the position of the committee on interstate commerce as outlined by Mr. Commins's letter to President Wilson. However, Mr. Hines adds, he considered sunlit window. Fleda had warned him umins has received nothing from the White House responsive t his letter to the President, but assume that the presidential view will be fully developed in the addresses of the Pres-Congress tomorrow. ident to

WILSON TOMORROW

Chicago, Aug. S .- (By A. P.)-John D. Saunders, secretary of the Chicago council of the Federation Railway Shopmen's Union, announced today that the executive board of the organization he meant to ask her today-to be and nothing of that dramatic incident in the woods when Fleda was kidnapped and Jethro Fawe vanished from the scene. As Fleda came toward him, under President L. M. Hawver and other officials of the union were in conference from the sun months ago-now nearly behind closed doors considering President Wilson's demand. They refused naked and bare-something in her look and bearing sharply caught his interest. to discuss the situation but admitted He asked himself what it was, often a face familiar over half a lifetime perhaps, suddenly at some new angle, or because, by chance, one has looked at it searchingly, shows a new expression. a new contour never before Springfield, Ill., Aug. 8.-(By A. P.) There was that in Ingolby's mind, a depth of desire, a resolve to stake two made him look at Fleda now with a re-vice president. "We believe our men now on strike thing in her carriage which captured will be back on the job in a very few days in view of the President's atti--memories of Mexico and the southern tude," said Mr. Noonan. United States ; native women with jars

Cleveland, Aug. 8 .- At a special of water upon their heads; the erect, mass-meeting this afternoon pleas will well-balanced form; the sure, sinuous be made by union officials to striking movement; the step measured, yet free; during the hearing that threats to un- Railroad Director General Hines on the ian temple, one of the beautiful Caryatides yonder by the Aegean Sea.

Connegut, O., Aug. 8.-All employes her still something remote and alien. work day shortened and labor and the of the Nickel Plate railroad car shops It had not to do with appearance atone,

The World for Sale By SIR GILBERT PARKER Author of "The Seats of the Mighty,"

HE MET her walking among the trees, very near the place where they had had their first long tell. bension and the instant's confused won- to tell of all she felt there, but when had their first long talk, months before, when Jethro Fawe was a prisoner in to him, she smiled, showing the perfect look in her eyes, her face pale and her the hut in the woods. Then it was white teeth, and her eyes softened to a hands clasped before her, he did not warm, singing summer; now, beneath dreamy regard of him, all he had ever speak for a minute. Suddenly, how the feet the red and brown leaves felt for her in the past months seemed ever, he seemed to tower over her, his rustled, the trees were stretching up concentrated into this one moment. Yet two big hands were raised as though gaunt arms to the winter, the woods he did not look like a languishing lover ; they would strike and then the palma were no longer vocal, and the singing rather like one inflamed with a great spread out and enclosed her checks lovbirds had fied, though here and there idea or stirred to a great resolve. a black squirrel, not yet gone to win-ingly and his eyes fastened upon hers. "I know." he said gently. "I al-For quite a minute they stood gazways understood-everything ; but you'll ter quarters, was busy increasing his ing as though they would read the whole A groundhog scuttled across never have the same fight again because truth in each other's eyes. She was all his path. He smiled as he remembered I'll be with you. I'll be with you. You understand, Fieda-I'll be with you." cager, yet timorous; he was resolved; elling Fleda that once, when he was yet now, when the great moment had little boy, he had caten groundhog, come, as it were, like a stammerer fearand she had asked him if he remembered ing the sound of his own voice. There nestled into his arms. chewitchi was the word. Now, as the was so much to say that he could not passed from their pulses they heard the shapeless creature made for its hole, speak. it was significant of the history of his She broke the spell, "I am here. step and Rhodo stood before them. life during the last summer. How Can't you see me?" she asked in a long it seemed since that day when quizzical, playful tone, her lips trem- was as solemn and strange as his manlove first peeped forth from their hearts bling a little, but with a smile in her ner. like a young face at the lattice of a eyes which she vainly tried to veil.

derful, ample life of her seemed to come behind was fretted by the thought of

was dim.

So

torily. She had said the one thing which Fleda sprang to his side. "Is it my of trouble, and that trouble had come! above all others could have lifted the father? What has happened?" In his mind she was a woman like situation to its real significance. A cried. none he had ever known; she could few weeks ago the eyes now looking The old man waved her aside, and think greatly, act largely, give tremen- into hers and telling a great story pointed toward the house. dously. As he stood waiting, the won- were sealed with night, and the mind

Thereupon she told him of her being

She even had the courage seized and carried to the gypsy camp and of all that happened there to the

"I know," he said gently.

With an exclamation of gratitude she

Before the thrill of his embrace had

"Come," he said to Fleda. His voice

"Come !" he repeated perempbreaking of twigs under a quick foot-

last detail.

like a wave toward him. In his phi- a perpetual darkness. All the tragedy losophy, intellect alone had never been of the past rushed into his mind now, I chair, his broad-brimmed hat on his the governing influence. Intellect must find its play through the senses, be or was to be between them, its real on the chair-arm, the other clasped the vitalized by the elements of physical meaning. A beautiful woman is dear hat as though he life, or it could not prevail. There was to man simply as woman, and not as his head was fallen forward on his not one sensual strain in him, but with a sensuous mind he loved the vital thins. He was sure that presently is a strain it the sense of the sense o thing. He was sure that presently Gabriel Druse would disappear, leaving her behind with him. That was what It was a picture of profound repose than the girl's beauty, more than the leave the house, had felt a sudden gently as a beam of light. stick lying on the table beside him, and "I am here. Can't you see me?" his hat on his knee, he was like one who All that he had regained in life in rested a moment before renewing a her little upper room rushed upon him, journey. There could not have been a the same trees which had shielded her and with outstretched arms and in a pang in his passing. He had gone as voice choked with feeling he said : "See you! Dear God- To most men wish to go-in the midst It is of the business of life, doing the usual you and all the world once more! things, and so passing into the sphere being born again to me. I haven't learned to talk in my new world yet, of eternity as one would go from this room to that. Only a few days before but I know three words of the language. had he vielded up his temporary position I love you. Come-I'll be good to you. as chief constable, and had spent al-She drew back from him and her look said that she would read him to most every hour since in conference observed, giving fresh significance to the the uttermost word in his life's book, with Rhodo. What he had planned would never would see the heart of this wonderful he known to his daughter now. It was book, and then with a hungry cry she Rhodo himself who had found his masand ter with head bowed before the Maspressed her wet eyes against his flushed ter of all men. Before Fleda entered the room she not go te

cheek. A half hour later, as they wandered vealing intensity. What was the new back to the house, he suddenly stopped, knew what awaited her; a merciful input his hands on her shoulders, looked tuition had blunted the shock to her his eye? Presently it flashed upon him earnestly in her eyes and said: senses. Yet when she saw the Ry on his throne of death a moan broke from "God's good to me. I hope I'll reher lips like that of one who sees for member that.

flung her arms around his neck

"You won't be so blind as to for- the last time some one indelibly dear. get." she answered, and she wound her and turns to face strange paths with fingers in his with a feeling which was uncertain feet. She did Sweet. Republican, lowa, why, if the government was to own the simple low of woman the giant figure scated in the chair, as though it were a pillar of an Athenmember than you have," she added, or hysteria of lacerated heart and Suddenly she put both hands upon his shocked sense; she only sank to her o not believe in oper-of the railroad unions' propaganda in "We do not believe ry can be conducted introduced into the record a stack of President Wilson has ordered Director ened, he flushed with the soft shock be all you want me to be. I have got a whispered in agouy, and admiration, several hundred form letters addressed General Hines to act in this matter, I of it. There she was, refined, civilized, past to forget; you have a past you too, and kept on whispering. to him. All were printed and identical ain going to ask the men to return to gowned like other women, with all the want to remember-that's the differ- Fleda had whispered to him in such pointees we would place the railway in wording, on letterheads bearing the work," said William Heinger, leader manners and details of civilization and ence. I must tell you the truth: it's nave, not only because he was so much and so that all life in suite of father, but because he was so much name of the Brotherhoods of Railway of the shopmen in the Cleveland district. Carmen and Clerks.

pened, but when I saw you there and moving in a large, impressive way She saw at once that the building was as shallow as it was low, that there was only a very small room at the real of the Nickel Plate railroad car shops into which the doorway way wide down and that the frowsy-headed woman with the cracked and beery voice who with the cracked and beery voice who something Eastern and reserved and secret, something remote—brooding like a Sphinx, and prophetic like a Sibyl.

In resuming his testimony today, Mr. Plumb was asked by Representative Sweet, Republican, lowa, why, if the and, second, what are the wages being plan did not give it authority to operate.

"Because we do not believe in operation by any governmental body," his great industry can be conducted by any political autocrney. If we leave operation in the hands of political apsystems ultimately in the hands of poliequal opportunity to those engaged in

"The men operating the roads have (CONTINUED TOMORROW) the House interstate commerce commit- tion in the interest of service and not of profits."

waited upon her quite evidently cooked Texas, and ate and slept in the tiny quarters. in-a-nickel type in the store, and its summed up the incident thus :

She fees that old woman liberally for prevented altogether, thereby hamperthe use of the telephone, and she either ing, crippling, and attempting to decarries a key to the store or rouses the stroy the industries of the United man to admit her whenever it pleases States.

her to go there. The only way to trace isn't worth while, since Roberta is to pay out of the people's treasury into due to arrive at Myquest shortly; only, if I were back at headquarters. I think that I would do it just the same. I wonder." she mused silently just hefore she came to a stop in front of the store Rushton and ask him to help me. He United States.

could trace that woman for me; he could find out all about Conrad Belknap, it said in conclusion, "to employ the terrupted her train of thought.

The Beautiful Pianiste

CARDS? Oh, yes, every day-and Sears and Demming for the goats. Katherine chose to ignore the fact of the gambling-which she perfectly well knew took place-and left the players severely alone. She noticed that always the games were brought to a conclusion before the hour of Harvard's and Clancy's arrival from business in the city.

The four concerned in it never spoke DOROTHY DARNIT-And That Wasn't Adam's Fault of their play, save on the rare occasions when Belknap had lost (presumably only a small percentage of what he had theretofore gained), when, as a rule they twitted him more or less with some small indications of temporary exultation. It was plain to Katherine nowever, that the man was a loser only when he deemed it to be politic.

Throughout the days and evenings that followed upon the (to Katherine) memorable Sunday and Monday, Bel-knap was consistently considerate of everybody, gracious to all, and — he us he played cards, which is high

It was Wednesday evening when an ent happened which, although carefully planned by its instigators, had ery earmark of casuality. A Mme. d the several qualifications for a one at Harvard's home, of being a stockholder in his bank, a lifelong nd of the former president of it, ster, who was the only father that had ever known, and she was of those rare and lovable old ladies thought remains as young as ever at eighty,

w, she saw, and was seen, and that your plan will give more of an

No mention was made of the railroad But there was a telephone of the drop. strikes, but the resolution declared that "through organized effort the proper thilread work?" Katherine, having returned to her car, graphic communication and interstate this industry that equal opportunity of his keeping,"

"Roberta lives in the neighborhood, tarded, and in many instances foreibly

"As a result of open brigandage, hithher by that means would be to watch erto tolerated, demands have been made affairs." Mr. Plumb and wait just before midnight-which on the Government of the United States can't say as to that."

these." "The President is hereby authorized."

entire naval and military forces of the Betty appeared on the scene and in- United States and the resources of the government to destroy such anarchy.

prevent any interference with the proper transmission of interstate mails, together with communication and inter-state traffic; that he shall make secure all citizens in their private property rights and their rights and privileges to work without molestation. Organized labor is not willing to have the government operate the railbecause it does not believe so roads Representative Rayburn, Democrat, Mr. Webster, Yr. Plumb said he did not inderse the Company Officials at Butler Ex-Texas, referred to the brotherhoods' scheme as a "soviet system." "I don't know much about Russian can't say as to that. "But would you consider it fair to workers in other industries to socialize the railways solely?" Mr. Rayburn the condition throughout the return to work followed closely Suppose you got all these groups of declaration by President Wilson that, pany said today they expected a larger industries socialized in this fashion." until the men return to work and again -aid Mr. Rayburn. "don't you think recognize the authority of their own orthat with each group jealous of the ganization, the whole matter of wage jurofits made by the others and the increases must be at a stand-till. prices they would be forced to pay for President Wilson's statement was supplies, would get into quarrels? How contained in a communication to Di-long would it be before they would cat h other up?' "They'd get along better than similar up the wage demands of the brotherhood each other up?"

Mr. Plumb retorted, "so I are in danger.

groups of capitalists that we have now, members and decide them on their mer-who are more skilled in cating and its. It followed a letter received by anxious to do it." the witness replied, the President from Chairman Cum-'Out of 2000 railroad corporations mins, of the Senate interstate comstarted in the United States, two groups merce committee, in which was exgreat an industry can be conducted by have developed, controlling all rail pressed the opinion of the committee, in which was ex-"any political autocracy," Glenn E. transportation." that the chief executive had ample an-Plumb, author of the Plumb plan for Mr. Plumb repeated again that the thiority to deal with the situation grow-Plumb, author of the Plumb plan for Mr. Plumb repeated again that the thority to deal with the situation grow-Philadelphia Rapid Transit Company, control of the roads, declared before idea he advanced would "lead to opera- ing out of the demands of the railroad The hearing will be held in this city.

You believe then," Mr. Sweet asked. "cutrol or ownership becomes our direct the lind, and shall be posted throughout the lind, and it shall be our chief pol-icy to remove him from any political strike vote, but at a meeting last night voted to quit work today.

line of trust the public has given into 300 RESUME WORK "Do you indorse that as a part of the educational plan you said you were making in favor of this bill?" asked rding, but remarked that "any body pect More Strikers Back of citizens had the right to use the hall lot to protect any rights they may think number of men to return to work tomorrow. Quiet prevailed in the strike zone charming mermaid was toiling. How

- 1-

P. R. T. Hearing September 19

- :-

But suppose that in days to come the but it's true. I was walking in the thing that did not belong, which was woods-

(CONTINUED TOMORROW)

DREAMLANDADVENTURES--ByDaddy "THE PRINCE OF DOLLARS" IN STEEL CAR PLANT

(The Prince of Dollars seeks his lost mermaid and Peggy, Billy and Judge Out go with him. They follose a roice singing the mermaid's song, and find it is that of a bird who has heard the mermaid singing in a building to which the bird guides

CHAPTER V Through the River

DEGGY and Billy were filler with wonder when they looked across the river to the great building where the no effort to prevent the returning men who had seemed so free as she sang on from assuming their places in the shops, the rocky isle and raced slong the The strikers held a mass-meeting this beach?

morning, at which speakers urged the "Teacher! Teacher! ! Teacher! ! Teacher! ! men to remain firm in their demands. Teacher !!!! " sang Ovenbird Warbler queer sound in his throat. "If that is Nightingale, but the charming mermaid Nightingale, but the charming mermatic a prison, then I at her jailer." Peggy harry waters there came a particu-sang po answering song out into the a prison, then I at her jailer." Peggy harry flash of lightning, followed The public service commission today night. Sile waved her hand sadly and and Billy looked at Juin in surprise. fixed September 19 as the date for hear- turned back to where hundreds of other ""That is one of my mills," he went on, Business Men's Association of Phila-delphia against fare schedules of the prison?" whisperel Peggy to the Prince no more shall it grind at night with ing complaint filed by the Northwest girls were busily working. young girls feeding the machinery, And Copyright, 1919, by the Bell Syndicate.

"Prison "" he exclaimed, making a no more shall it grind as a prison, but

See, it struck the screamed Peggy

"The mill!

mill!"

as a pleasant, happy working place for contented, cheerful workers Come, we will give them all a holiday to celebrate the better days to come."

The Prince of Dollars steered the. auto toward a bridge which led across the river to the mill. But when they reached the river they found that the storm had turned the stream into a raging torrent and water was sweeping high over the floor of the bridge. They ould not pass.

Lightning was still flashing and the hun 'er rolled and banged. It was the wildest night Peggy and Billy had ever seen, and the raging river before them made it seem all the wilder.

As they looked in dismny at the angry waters there came a particusharply by a tecrific crash of thunder. The jar shook the auto.

"That struck near here !" shouted Billy.

"The mill ! See it struck the mill !" screamed Peggy, pointing to where a tiny burst of flame was leaping up rom the roof.

"Those girls! My mermaid love! By Chas. McManus They must be saved" should the prince "Get out, Peggy and Billy ! I'm going to cross that bridge.

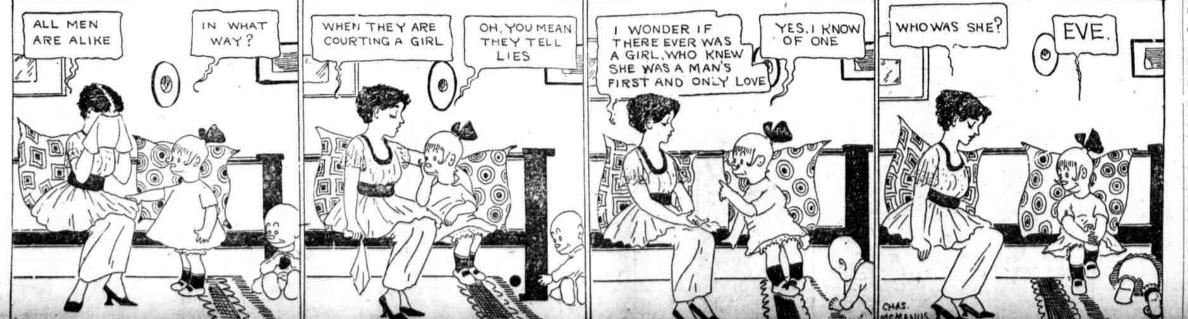

"And we're going with you," Go! Go!" screamed Peggy. Not waiting a second the Prince of Dollars sent his auto leaping forward, Straight at the bridge it went and right into the angry waters which swept the roadway. Swish! Swish! Swish! The current roared against the wheels and smashed at the fenders, but the car went on, on, driven by its powerful engine. Again and again the rushing stream threatened to sweep the auto away, but each time the Prince of Dollars held the swaying car to its course. Once or twice the engine gave a splutter and seemed about to stop, only to pick up again at full strength. So swish, swash, swish, they plunged through the river and up on the bank beyond.

"Hoo! Hoo! I told you true. You drove through a river; you must fight fire, too !!! screamed Judge Owl, as the Prince of Dollars stopped the autonobile and dashed into the burning mill.

(Tomorrow will be told how the Prince of Hollars finds the mermaid in grave danger).

- 20

Tomorrow Butler, Pa., Aug. 8 .- (By A. P.)-Nearly 300 workmen of the Standard Steel Car Company here, who have country. The mind of the workingman been on strike since Wednesday, when This plan, or modification of it, can is like a bed of tinder, and sceing a 4000 men walked out demanding higher to mark to mark the morning. wonder, she mused silently just before oution against the covernment of the store United State unless such demands are where she had left Betty, "if it would complied with, which conditions create and be agood idea to send for Rodney and establish a state of anarchy in the state of anarchy ine them). This was the first break in the ranks this afternoon and the strikers made had she come to be shut up there-she Philadelphia Rapid Transit Company, of Dollars.