

MRS. MOORE IS SURE HUSBAND WILL WIN

"You Pick Lean Horse for Long Race," She Smilingly Comments

NOTHING TO FEAR, SHE SAYS

By a Staff Correspondent
Island Heights, N. J., Aug. 8.—"I have the greatest confidence in Mr. Moore and I am sure he will win," said Mrs. J. Hampton Moore at her home at Island Heights today.

Mrs. Moore was knitting. She smiled at the thought of the new honor that has come to her husband. She was just a little doubtful at first about the wisdom of his undergoing a campaign, but as she herself says: "You pick a lean horse for a long race," and she has every confidence that he will win.

Sees Great Honor
"I never had any doubt about the honor of having been chosen to run," said Mrs. Moore. "It is a great honor to be Mayor of Philadelphia and Mr. Moore has nothing to fear in a campaign. He has always been a strong man through and through and he enters the campaign without obligations. There is nothing that Mr. Moore has done that anybody can shake a stick at."

Mrs. Moore herself is not a politician. She is only mildly interested in suffrage, but quite surely asserts that she will vote for Mr. Moore whenever she gets the chance. She is very much of a home person, with most of her interests centering in her husband, eight children and three grandchildren. She knits sweaters for all of them and puts a smile into every stitch.

Raises Chickens
There is one hobby which she shares with Mr. Moore and that is the care of the dozen chickens which are being raised at Island Heights. Mr. Moore gets the credit for keeping the chickens, while it is Mrs. Moore who feeds them while he is out of town. Mrs. Moore is one of the managers of the Baptist Home, the Samaritan Hospital and is a member of the Quaker City Ladies' Motor Club and of Island Heights Yacht Club.

During the war she turned all her knitting to Red Cross and organized the chapter of Ocean county.

Glad If Elected
When asked if she would work actively for the campaign of Mr. Moore she said she didn't think it would be necessary.

"Whatever he has done," she said, "he has done by himself. He has always done what he could in Philadelphia matters during the ten years he has been at Washington and I shall be glad if he is elected. I think it is a hard office to fill because there is so much that must be done."

The home at Island Heights was bought for a rest place and that is what it is. Every comfort and convenience that he could in Philadelphia matters during the ten years he has been at Washington and I shall be glad if he is elected. I think it is a hard office to fill because there is so much that must be done."

'100' WILL INDORSE MOORE MONDAY

Coles Declares Congressman Is Best-Fitted Man for Mayoralty

"Congressman J. Hampton Moore will be formally indorsed by the committee of one hundred as its candidate for Mayor Monday morning."

George W. Coles, chairman of the Town Meeting party, made this statement today in connection with praise for the congressman's candidacy.

"I consider Mr. Moore the best-equipped man for the mayoralty," Mr. Coles said. "I have not a particle of doubt that he will have constructive administration and, moreover, he will really be mayor."

"It will certainly be a relief to have a man at City Hall who will be a real mayor. I think that it is universally recognized that Mr. Moore is especially qualified at the present juncture to do what is necessary for the city's best interests for the next four years."

When informed that Judge John M. Patterson has been offered the candidacy by the Vare forces, Mr. Coles said that he thought it was about time that they were announcing their candidate.

"We like to know whom we are fighting," he said.

Mr. Coles was most enthusiastic over Mr. Moore's candidacy. He added: "Mr. Moore is an entirely satisfactory candidate to me. I conferred by telephone this morning with John Walton, chairman of the committee of one hundred, and he also agreed that Mr. Moore was most acceptable to him."

"I have read Mr. Moore's platform and think it to be an especially good one. I think that he has taken a straightforward attitude in public matters."

"The executive committee of the committee of one hundred will meet Monday morning at 10 o'clock and the general committee at 11, when Mr. Moore's candidacy will be officially indorsed."

sonal power. All the resources of the organization must be enlisted. After weeks of maneuvering and uncertainty the Vare leaders have apparently reached a conclusion. Judge Patterson, long in the limelight as a prospective candidate, has been invited to lead their campaign. He has asked time for consideration. The candidacy of Congressman Moore has given a new aspect to the situation.

If Judge Patterson should decline, the situation becomes a real crisis for the organization. Its available candidates are few. Few care to assume

What Moore Promises to Do if He Is Elected Mayor

Demand honest elections. Expose and punish all profiteers. Establish "pay as you go" policy. Divorce police and firemen from politics. Fight for drastic housing regulations. Improve port facilities. Stamp out contractor rule. Make city more sanitary. Develop Americanism and citizenship. Speed up Frankford "L" work. Improve water system. Economy in administration.

the responsibility of leading a campaign that, as already pointed out, will be conducted for its personalities and vituperative assaults. There can be no harmony. The cleavage in the Republican party is real and apparent. The candidate of the Vare organization will represent its leadership. He will be a Vare Republican. The bars are down. The campaign has opened with a crash. The citizenship of the third city in the nation will be the arbiters in the dispute.

amplify his original platform and position from time to time during the progress of the campaign.

"The indorsement of all good citizens, all Republicans, all reformers and all others who feel that they have confidence in me will be welcome," he said.

Asked what he thought of the platform of the committee of 100, Congressman Moore said:

"A very good platform. Everything in it seems reasonable to me. Moreover, the new charter is now the law. What candidate would dare say he would not live up to it?"

Must Get Council Majority
Referring to limitations in charter mentioned in a previous statement, Mr. Moore said that he was going to make strong efforts to point out to the committee of one hundred the necessity of electing members of Council pledged to the administration. If the administration does not get majority of Councils, under the new charter, it would be seriously handicapped.

Mr. Lane rushed to this city this morning from the shore, where he had learned of Mr. Moore's candidacy. He conferred with Senator Martin and Senator Vare and then proceeded to City Hall, arriving there shortly after noon.

He and Senator Martin found Judge Patterson in his chambers at City Hall. They conferred with him for three-quarters of an hour.

What Patterson Says
Judge Patterson came to the door of his chambers at the close of the conference and addressed a crowd of his followers who had gathered there during the morning.

He said: "Senator Martin and Mr. Lane called upon me today and pledged their support if I would become a candidate for the mayoralty nomination. I asked them for a couple of days to consider the matter and I will then make up my mind. I told them that I appreciated the rare honor, coming, as it did, from the two nestors of the Republican organization, who have been active in politics for fifty years, and who have always been side by side with me."

Judge Patterson was in exceptional good humor when he made the announcement.

Pledge Patterson Support
Senator Martin, when questioned, said: "I called to pledge Judge Patterson my support if he would be a candidate."

Mr. Lane first asked what Mr. Patterson had said, and then stated that he corroborated his remarks.

Senator Martin comes from the Nineteenth ward and Mr. Lane from the Twentieth ward. As far as the control of the Republican organization here is concerned, they are next to the Vares in power.

Judge Patterson said he was being urged daily by a large number of prominent Philadelphians to enter the race as a candidate.

"If I decide to become a candidate, I will meet all the issues squarely," he said. "I have nothing further to say at this time. If I decide within the next day or so to become a candidate, I will have plenty to say."

Senator Penrose returned from New York today and went to his office immediately. Throughout the afternoon a constant stream of Republican Alliance leaders filed in and out of the Commercial Trust Building, where he was holding his conferences.

The same condition existed in and about the office of Senator Vare. Ward leaders from all over the city waited upon him throughout the afternoon.

Senator Penrose had been in New York since early in the week attending to some business of the national Republican committee.

Opposes Contractor Rule
Congressman Moore issued the announcement that he would accept the call of prominent Philadelphians and be a candidate at his summer home at Island Heights, N. J.

In his platform he made considerable modification of the platform originally planned by the independents.

Although opposed to contractor rule of the city, he handled the subject somewhat differently from what the independents had planned.

"I have no hesitation in making this statement as to the so-called contractor government, that if it exists now or has heretofore existed it would not be tolerated by me if I were Mayor," he said.

In the statement, Mr. Moore declares his willingness to sacrifice his career in Congress to make the run to redeem the city and the Republican party.

SITUATION IS SAME AS 4 YEARS AGO—MOORE
The announcement of Congressman Moore's candidacy for Mayor follows: "The political situation which now confronts the city is, as I see it, very much the same as it was about this time four years ago when the Re-

HINES PLANS NO CUT IN PASSENGER TRAINS

Canceling of 200 by Three Railroads Is Looked Upon as Merely Local Movement

FREIGHT STILL HAMPERED

By the Associated Press
Washington, Aug. 8.—Officials of the railroad administration declared today that no nationwide curtailment in passenger traffic as a result of the shopmen's strike was in contemplation. Such a policy has not even been under consideration, it was said.

Discontinuance of nearly 200 trains by three railroads was said to have been ordered locally by the managements of those roads, based on conditions peculiar to them.

Immediate resumption of the strike order naturally would not have the effect of restoring normal traffic and the limitations forced by the suspension will continue for a time no matter how the shopmen accept the order.

Freight Traffic Hampered
Freight traffic on nearly all middle west lines continued to be hampered today by the walkout of the shopmen, and it was asserted by railroad officials that the notice to accept shipments "subject to delay" would be changed into an absolute embargo on many commodities unless conditions improved shortly.

So far as the grain crop was concerned, one railroad official said that 15,000,000 bushels already had reached Chicago elevators, and it was hoped a settlement would be reached before the general crop movement from the far northwest began.

While livestock movement showed only slight restriction, it was expected that a local embargo in Iowa would cut receipts in Chicago by Friday. Coal being held up, in spite of a threatening shortage for next winter.

The roads entering Chicago are carrying freight "subject to delay" and perishables and foods are given preference.

Embargo on the New Haven
An embargo on all freight on the New York, New Haven and Hartford and the Central New England railroads was announced this morning because of the strike of shopmen.

The embargo was declared in order to control the movement of freight, a statement from New York headquarters said, so that arrangements might be made to give preference to the handling of food stuffs and shipments of immediate necessities.

Forty additional passenger trains were canceled today by Chicago railroads as a result of the strike of shopmen.

The railroads which announced discontinuance of passenger trains were the New York, New Haven and Hartford, the Chesapeake and Ohio and the Chicago and Northwestern. The New Haven announced that 102 passenger trains would be dropped, all dining and parlor car service discontinued and the suspension of the existing timetable.

The Chesapeake and Ohio announced that thirty-four passenger trains had been discontinued, which notice was preceded by one of a limited freight embargo throughout the system.

33,000 STOCKYARD LABORERS STRIKE

Troops Are Withdrawn After General Walkout Begins in Chicago

"BLACK BELT" IS CALM

By the Associated Press
Chicago, Aug. 8.—Decision to recall the troops from the stockyards and riot district here, whose presence was one of the causes alleged for the general stockyards strike, was announced this afternoon.

A general strike of 33,000 employees at the packing plants in the stockyards began at 11 o'clock this morning.

The action followed the decision of the Stockyards Labor Council last night to call a general strike unless the state troops and police guards were immediately withdrawn from the plants.

The strike was precipitated by the return of 5000 negroes to work yesterday.

When negroes returned to work in the packing houses yesterday 500 policemen and several hundred deputy sheriffs were assigned to the inclosure, while detachments of soldiers were moved from the scene of the recent riot riots to the exterior of the yards.

No Trading in Livestock
There was virtually no trading in livestock here today. Even before the beginning of the strike in the stockyard establishments, the buyers for the packing houses held off, awaiting developments as to the labor situation. Business was further hampered by the uncertainty of shippers as to whether any

NO CONTEST FOR JUDGE

Last Day for Filing Petitions Arrives. Keller Lone Candidate

Harrisburg, Pa., Aug. 8.—There will be no contest for superior court judge at the fall elections. The last day for filing nominating petitions has passed and William H. Keller, for years first deputy attorney general, is the only candidate.

Mr. Keller's petition is signed by hundreds of lawyers from all parts of the state. His residence is Lancaster, where for a long time he has been a prominent member of the bar.

No new nominating petitions were filed on the last day. Only three of the districts to elect judges this year escape without a contest, while one associate judgeship, that in Warren county, goes begging, there being no candidate.

ARMY BUREAUCRACY OPPOSED BY MARCH

Chief of Staff Fights Bill, Which He Says Was Prepared Overseas

Washington, Aug. 8.—(By A. P.)—Opposition to a bill which he said had been "prepared overseas" and which proposes that appointments to the army general staff be permanent was voiced before the Senate military subcommittee today by General March, chief of staff.

He said the result of the measure would be to set up a military bureaucracy and expressed the hope that the committee would oppose it, adding that it would be "strongly pressed."

War Department proposals that members of the general staff be required to return to the command of troops after serving four years were indorsed by General March, who said the establishment of a bureaucracy was a thing to be avoided.

Referring to the proposed consolidation of the chemical warfare service with the engineers' department, the chief of staff said the department was opposed to the use of poisonous gas and believed chemical warfare should be abolished. Senator Chamberlain, Democratic, Oregon, disagreed as to abolishing chemical warfare, saying that more than 20 per cent of the American casualties in the great war were caused by gas.
