Nancy Wynne Tells of the Doings of Philadelphians in Newport—She Speaks of Several Old Houses in the Suburbs—A Telephone Sufferer's Threat

REALLY it seems as if Philadelphia were quite running things in Newport this season, does it not? So many are up there and so many are entertaining and apparently right in the midst of everything.

Whenever I think of Pauline I see a picture of her in my mind's eye dressed in a natural linen frock with embroidered collar and cuffs and a drooping dark brown hat over her lovely little brown face and brown eyes and hair and her sturdy brown legs protruding above short socks and the cutest brown ties you ever saw.

Miss Louise Harding, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur S. Harding, left Cape May last week to spend a few days in Atlantic City with her grandfather, Mr. Charles H. Harding.

Mr. Samuel Bispham had Mr. Bruce Blynn as his guest over the week-end in Cape May. Mr. Bispham's sister, Miss Eleanor Bispham, of 2306 De Lancey street, who has been abroad for a year with the Y. M. C. A., is at present doing stenographic work in Brest, France, but will return home some time in September.

Dr. Robert Kilduffe and his daughter, Mrs. W. L. Hirst Bergen, and her small son, W. L. Hirst Bergen, Jr., and Miss Kilduffe, of Lansdowne, have taken a cottage at Stone Harbor, where they will remain for three weeks.

Miss Marie McDonnell and Miss Catherine McDonnell, of 108 South Thirty-eighth street, are spending a few days at Cape May.

IN THESE days when telephone conversations get so mixed and you get on the wrong wire or you are called to the phone at least three times a day to hear the same voice say, "Is this so and so?" because your number is 2-0-4-5 and so and so is 2-0-4-4, you do get a bit peeved.

SOCIAL ACTIVITIES Mrs. George Brook entertained at luncheon yesterday at Dinard Cottage, her place in Newport.

A small reception will follow the ceremony at the home of Mr. Russell in Princeton, at 12-30 o'clock.

COME ON LET'S GO! BRING A CHECKER BOARD ALONG!

Cry Youngsters at Friends' Neighborhood Guild Playground. Love the Showers 'n' Everything

"OH, SKINNY! Come on an' get in line. An' bring a checker-board."

That is the call that rings across the Friends' Neighborhood Guild Playground, Fourth and Green streets, from early afternoon till 4 o'clock when the boys are allowed to take their shower baths.

That "jeanliness is next to Godliness" is taught them directly, indirectly and inadvertently by the supervisors from morning till night, but not one of the grimy-faced youngsters who patiently waits, towel conspicuously in sight, in the line-up before the bath-house doors will admit that cleanliness is the attraction.

"It's the feel of that cold water sprinkling down your spine and slushing over your shins," explained Bill, who usually plants himself beside the door early enough to be "first come, first served."

From 2 o'clock on the supervisors are pestered with the question: "Isn't it about 4 o'clock?" A fairly clean towel is the only prerequisite for entrance to the showers. The girls have theirs at 12 o'clock and the boys glory in their "sprinkle" at 4 each day. It is hard to sit idly in line for an hour or two, even when there's the prospect of a shower, and the hundreds of children who haunt the Friends' playground are no unconsciously learning.

Have Sand Pile A long sand pile at one corner of the grounds furnishes amusement for a motley crowd of boys and girls. There are sand buckets and spades and cunningly shaped "pie pans" for the little ones, and the older boys themselves make houses and figures in the dampened sand.

Miss Frances Hershey directs the games of the girls. In the afternoon, when the playground is most crowded, she takes the older girls into the rest-house for story-telling or for indoor romps. That relieves the congestion about the swings, seesaws and sand pile, and gives the older children a chance to learn organized games. Miss Hershey makes herself one of the children in the plays, and screams of delight resound from the long playground.

"We don't like new games much," volunteered one of the girls who had been playing little more than two younger sisters she had brought to the playground. "We'd rather play the things we know, but Miss Hershey shows us lots of fun."

Profanity, crap shooting and cigarette smoking are rapidly disappearing in the Northern Liberties section as a result of the campaign against them carried on by the instructors at the Kingsley street, who spent the early summer at Wildwood, have returned home.

Mr. Wilson McClaughan, of 317 Krams avenue, is spending several weeks in Ocean City.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Lins, of 6730 Ridge avenue, with their daughters, Miss Alma Lins and Mrs. M. E. Bradley, have gone to the middle of September. Mr. and Mrs. Charles A. Wright, who have returned from their wedding trip, will accompany them. Mrs. Wright was Miss Ethel A. Lins before her marriage in June. Upon their return Mr. and Mrs. Wright will live on Ridge avenue.

Mr. and Mrs. Philip A. Castner and their children, of Merion, have recently moved to New York.

Mr. and Mrs. George P. Singer, of Carlisle, are occupying their new home at St. David's.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank S. Whitcomb, of 243 Rochelle avenue, have returned from an extended trip to Niagara, the Great Lakes and White Mountains. They were accompanied by Mrs. Whitcomb's sister, Miss Lucy Fox, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Adam Fox, of 233 Rochelle avenue. Miss Fox left yesterday to join a camping party at Milton-on-the-Susquehanna river.

Miss Myra Wartman, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Norwood Wartman, of 309 Rochelle avenue, with her guest, Miss Dorothy Allen, of Birmingham, Ala., will leave on August 16 for a trip to Boston by the way of Fall River and will spend a fortnight in Massachusetts visiting friends. Miss Wartman and Miss Allen recently returned from Salem, N. J., where the former was hostess at a house party for a number of young people from Wissahickon.

Miss Alice Peterson, of Penn street, is spending several weeks at Lake Hopatcong.

Mr. and Mrs. B. Hepworth, of Norwood, are entertaining as their house guests Mrs. C. Browne and Miss Beatrice Peterson for a fortnight.

Miss Agnes Saylor, of Leiper street, is visiting Mrs. L. Carter at her cottage at Cape May until the middle of September.

Mrs. Carl W. Eichman, Jr., of 141 Green lane, Manayunk, is spending the summer at Wildwood with her sister, Mrs. John James.

WILDWOOD CREST PIER DESTROYED BY FIRE

Wind-Swept Flames Wipe Out Amusement Place With Loss of $15,000

Wildwood, N. J., Aug. 13.—Fire late last night destroyed the Wildwood Crest Amusement Pier at Heather road and Ocean front, and damaged the fishing pier, the approach to which was burned.

The pier burned all night long and was witnessed by thousands of seaside sojourners. Early this morning a northeast wind arose with a heavy rain which was expected to extinguish the flames still licking at the pilings and debris. The total loss is estimated at $15,000.

The flames were first discovered sweeping through the skating rink of the pier, where the paper decorations gave the fire a rapid start. The skating rink and the ballroom had been closed for the night and only a few stragglers in the poolroom and concessionaires and their employees were on the pier.

Miss Helen Bridgeman, of Philadelphia, a guest at the resort, was leaving the rink when the flames shot up from the electric switchboard and ignited paper decorations suspended from the ceiling. Within a minute the flames spread to the ballroom adjoining and then crept down the handrail, destroying the instruments of the band which was playing there for the season.

Four fire companies from North Wildwood, Wildwood and Wildwood Crest responded, and two firemen—Harold Nickerson, son of Fire Chief Nickerson, and Burt Thompson—were burned about the hands and face, but were able to continue on duty.

Captain Gilliam, of the submarine mother ship Rainbow, stationed at Cold Springs Harbor, Cape May, observed the fire and dispatched a boatload of twenty sailors under command of Ensign Betzer and Boatswain Finnettie to aid the firemen. The sailors did yeoman service and did not depart until the blaze was under control.

Sparks set fire to the roofs of the residence of Charles H. Lares, Crown road; the property at 906 Pacific avenue, belonging to the Doctor Weiss estate, and to Andrews' store, Cardinal road and Boulevard, but here the flames were extinguished before much damage was done. Two streams of water were kept playing on the Seaside Apartments, and these also escaped damage.

The destroyed pier was built in 1907 and was the property of the Crest Pier Company, in which the Baker brothers are said to be heavily interested.

RADIO OPERATORS NEEDED

Jobs in Merchant Marine Going Fast, but Supply Is Great

Radio operator jobs are going fast, according to William G. Rice, head of the local branch of the Sea Service Reserve. But there are still many of these berths open. Application should be made at once at 27 South Fourth street. The salary is $125 a month.

Shipping board officials, who are anxious to keep the country's fleet of cargo ships moving, are experiencing difficulty in finding radio operators for the vessels. Salaries have jumped from $40 a month before the war to the present rate. In response to a recent call from the Sea Service Bureau many licensed operators applied at headquarters and signed up for service.

The fourth of radio operators has had to effect locally, delaying the movement of cargo ships at this port.

Gets Bulkhead Contract The Department of Wharves, Docks and Ferries has awarded the contract for the building of the bulkhead on the west side of the Schuylkill river, south of Penrose ferry bridge, to the McLean Construction Company, of Baltimore, which was the lowest bidder for the work. Approximately 1165 feet of bulkhead will be placed along the Schuylkill river by the contractors, whose bid was $343,365.

FOUNTAINS "OBSTRUCTIONS," SAYS PRIM LITTLE ART JURY

Meanwhile Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals Must Maintain Makeshift Water Stations

DOES it spoil the beauty of the city to have horses drink from public fountains?

In a sanitary drinking fountain for horses and dogs less artistic than the garish billboards that advertise various products?

For some reason the Municipal Art Jury, according to members of the Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals, is opposed to drinking fountains but permits commercial billboards and hanging signs to be erected in conspicuous places.

During the last two years the Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals has been unable to get permission from the Art Jury to erect public fountains for horses and dogs. Two memorial fountains had to be erected because the jury would not consent to their placing. One of the fountains was to be made of stone and was to cost about $1000. Another was to cost even more and was to be designed by an artist.

Art Jury Talks A fountain which was to be displaced by Moorestown, N. J., was offered as a gift to the society, with all expenses for erection to be paid.

The society tried to obtain permission from the jury to place a sanitary fountain at Hunting Park avenue and Fox street and formally petitioned the jury, submitting a design that was accepted in Detroit, Michigan. The fountain was an anti germ, individual cup design, which permitted the driver to stay in his seat while the horse helped himself to a drink, the wagon shafts running under the fountain. This fountain was so popular in Detroit that after being tried out, a hundred were ordered.

FIRST NURSES JOIN AMERICAN LEGION

Women Enroll at Mass-Meeting Held by Post 50 at City Club

Post 50, American Legion, has enrolled the first army nurses in the new organization, and as a result its membership, already second in numbers among posts in the state, passed the 600 mark.

The nurses were enrolled at a mass-meeting held last night by the post in the City Club. Hereafter the post consisted entirely of women who served as women in the navy. As all nurses who served overseas are eligible to membership it is believed the legion's membership will increase materially and many more women's posts will be formed in other cities.

Last night's meeting was addressed by Dr. Aertsen, Jr., state secretary of the organization. Mr. Aertsen commended the women for the impetus they have given the new organization, and predicted women's posts would have a realising in increasing numbers composed of men out of politics.

He also told the members of Post 50 that large, thriving posts, such as theirs, were better than many small ones, and the establishment of many small posts would probably result in much trouble from petty jealousies.

On September 10, Post 50 will give a minstrel show in the Navy Yard Y. M. C. A.
