

GREY AS AMBASSADOR SUITS LONDON PRESS

Approval Is General, but Some Papers Lament Temporary Envoy as Unsuitable

ABLE TO ADVANCE LEAGUE

By the Associated Press
London, Aug. 14.—Viscount Grey's acceptance of the appointment of temporary British ambassador to the United States is given warm approval by the press here, which endorses his public services and, for the most part, regards his appointment as excellent.

There is, however, dissatisfied criticism in some quarters, not on the ground of Viscount Grey's fitness or his acceptability to America, but because of the extraordinary responsibilities attaching to the post at this moment. Doubt is expressed whether the naming of a temporary ambassador is suitable for this reason.

The Daily News severely scores the government for making an "emergency appointment," adding: "To choose a statesman who for more than two years has been out of touch with active political life is, to say the least, a singular proceeding."

The newspaper, which is an admirer of Viscount Grey, says his task will be singularly delicate, his power being at best limited.

The Post, which is an opponent of Viscount Grey politically, nevertheless assumes that America will regard his appointment as a compliment, as he is a notable Englishman, but it hopes that "Viscount Grey will not forget Americans respect in one who stands firmly upon the rights and interests of his own nation. In the past there has been a weak tradition of surrender at Washington, due mainly to the pusillanimous and unmanly policy of the government at home."

In most of the editorials, Viscount Grey's sympathy with the league of nations is dwelt upon, though the Telegraph remarks he has not revealed whether he champions the "reticular form of the league incorporated in the peace treaty."

The Chronicle regards it as particularly fortunate he is going to America now, saying "for, with his rare tact and knowledge, he will be especially qualified to take counsel, both with President Wilson and those who are not satisfied with all the terms of the league of nations covenant."

As regards the league, the Daily News materially tempers its otherwise adverse criticism by saying that Great Britain could have no better representative than Viscount Grey.

"The league needs not so much commendation as explanation to America," the newspaper says, "and if Viscount Grey is able to take an active part in that work he will render a notable service to mankind."

The newspaper, however, says that the new ambassador will be handicapped in this work by the proposal of the British Government that regions over which Great Britain holds mandates shall be brought within the British imperial tariff union and it says "his path will not be smoothed by the government's sustained refusal to make any approach to a solution of the Irish problem."

Apart from such criticism, the appointment of Viscount Grey is approved and it is believed he will be wholly acceptable to the United States.

COMMONS PASSES
PRICE-FIXING BILL

House Sits All Night in Effort to Curb Profiteering in Great Britain

London, Aug. 14.—(By A. P.)—After disposing of the profiteering bill, by which the government will be empowered to take drastic action in lowering the high cost of living, the House of Commons, which sat all night, took up the House of Lords amendments to the transport bill this morning.

Some of these amendments were not accepted by the lower house of Parliament. After being in continuous session for seventeen hours the House rose shortly after 9 o'clock this morning.

The profiteering bill empowers the Board of Trade, after an investigation, to fix wholesale and retail prices. The vote was 132 to 95.

The amendment was denounced by Lord Robert Cecil, former minister of war trade, who expressed amazement that the government should accept "an amendment destroying the whole basis of the bill and revolutionizing the trade of the country."
