After Going Bad in Same Day, But Phils Sink to Cellar

WHITTED GOING GOOD

By EDWIN J. POLLOCK

N THE early part of June the Phil pitching staff consisted of a flock of cripples and Eppa Rixey, who had just joined the club, Jack Coombs was wor-time and the state of the state o joined the club. Jack Coombs was wor-bound the club. Jack Coombs was wor-Beston Washington Mashington Mithetics Gawge Whitted horned into his thoughts.

"Why not send in Rixey," George advised, "that string bean can pitch and be may be just as good now as if he had had spring training. You can never tell how he's going to flip 'em. I've seen him good and bad in the same day." | Those words of the former captain of our Phils was proven at the baseball works occupying the real estate at Broad and Huntingdon streets Saturday. Eppa was good and had in the same day. Cravath's lean and lanky and awkward southpaw started the first game against the Pirates and caved in in the center before the third inning was completed. He pleaded with Gavvy to give him another chance in the-second encounter and his request was granted. He pitched shutout ball. You never can tell anything about the weather and Rixey.

Fans Surprised

THE 12,000 customers were somewhat startled, not to mention surprised. when Gavvy sent Rixey back at the Pirates in the second game, but the lean left-hander knew what he was chirping about when he asked for another chance. He was nicked for nine hits, but with men on bases he was as stendy as the State House clock. Snappy fielding in back of the southerner gave him the necessary morale. The Phils made several sensational plays, among them three double-killings that nipped rallies in the well-known

Even the shutout ball exhibited by Rixey and the flashy support of the Cravathians could not save the Phils from dropping into the cellar again. The Cards have gone crazy on a winning streak and have moved up to seventh The St. Looie gang began its place. spree against the Giants in their western home and have been acting up ever since. They have won seven of their last eight starts.

Whitted Goes Wild

O<sup>UR</sup> Gawge Whitted made his debut in a Pirate uniform here and impressed upon the fans that he is much better than Casey Stengel, especially in view of the fact that Casey has failed to report and is now under suspension from President Baker. Like every other ball player, Whitted respects Rixey's ability as a hurler be-cause or in spite of the fact that he can hit him. The Carolina speedster had three solid raps off the Virginia flinger, two in the first game and one in the second.

Whitted was there with the punch in the pinch in the opening encounter. He hit every time there was a man got a on the runways when he appeared at His two singles and a double drove in three of the Pirate tallies.
