AUSTRALIANS QUIT IN DOUBLES MATCH

Injury to Patterson Puts Visitors Out of Southampton Play When Leading

WILLIS DAVIS TRIUMPHS

Southampton, N. Y., Aug. 21.—The Australians, Brookes and Patterson, quit their match with Deerham and Harren in the second round of the Meadow Club doubles here today. The Australians were leading at the time, but Patterson had a badly sprained right arm.

In the other doubles match R. Lindley Murray and Dean Mathey defeated Harold L. Taylor and Gerald L. Donaldson, Jr., in straight sets, 6-2, 6-2.

Willis E. Davis, of San Francisco, former University of Pennsylvania star and later turf court champion, triumphed in the fourth round when he eliminated Conrad B. Doyle, of Washington, without effort by 6-3, 6-0. Davis continued to show improved form and looks like a promising prospect in the nationals at Forest Hills next week.

Randolph Lycett, the Australian, failed to show the class which has made Brookes and Patterson stand out, and the result is he was eliminated in straight sets by Lyle E. Mahon, of New York, by 6-3, 6-0.

Patterson's strained shoulder has been giving him plenty of trouble and, rather than take any chances on disabling the wing to such an extent that it may cause his absence from next week's championship play, it was decided best to default today's doubles matches.

The summary:

Platt Leads Ouimet Four Up at 29th

rough. Ouimet had the better of the approach shots, but the hole was halved in 4, one above par. Platt 2 up. Platt drove for the seventh into the rough, but had a good lie. Ouimet's drive went into a sand trap. Platt was on the green in 3 and Ouimet in 4.

Platt made another great 25-foot putt winning the hole at 4-6. Platt three up. Both Ouimet and Platt drove from the tee on the eighth green while the gallery applauded wildly. Ouimet holed a ten-foot putt and Platt missed a four-foot, giving Ouimet the hole in par three. Platt two up.

Driving for the ninth green, Ouimet went into a sand trap on the left and Platt repeated on the right. Ouimet's second went only ten yards into another trap, while Platt drove from his bad position far up the fairway. Platt's third shot landed on the green. Ouimet's fifth was on. Platt won the hole with a par five. Platt three up.

All the players were badly handicapped by the miserable weather conditions. Before the first pair teed off this morning a heavy rain began and continued until noon. A fitful wind driving the rain kept the medal scores high and slowed up the matches.

In spite of the downpour good galleries followed the Platt-Ouimet and the Hoffner-Fownes matches.

Bobby Jones, Jr., found R. E. Knepper, the Sioux City player, who is the surprise of the tournament, a hard man to shoot along with, and was two down. Jones started the home nine six, seven and eight, losing each of these holes.

Their cards:
Knepper, 42, 43—85.
Jones, 39, 46—85.

Davidson Herron had a commanding lead of eight holes on W. J. Thompson, of Canada, who was a semifinalist in the Canadian championship. Herron shot the best round of any of the players.

Herron's card:

Platt vs. Ouimet

Platt got away to a start in a driving rain when Ouimet took a pair of sixes on the first two holes, Platt getting fives. Ouimet was wild from the tee on both holes and then failed to get down his uptts. The Bostonian, however, picked up a hole at the third when he was on in two and down in two for a four. Platt, after getting into a trap on his second, had a ten-foot putt for a half, but failed to reach the cup, the greens being very wet and slow.

The fourth and fifth were halved in par figures, but on the short sixth Ouimet drew up on even terms with the Philadelphia youth by driving within six feet of the pin and sinking his putt for a bird two. Platt played the hole badly, taking three puts after reaching the edge of the green with his driver.

On the next hole Ouimet forged ahead by playing a perfect four, while Platt was short on his second and took a five. Platt had a chance to square the match on the eighth when Ouimet drove in a trap, but he failed to drop a four-foot putt and the hole was halved in fours.

"Woodie," however, played the long ninth perfectly, getting on in three and sinking a six-foot putt for a win when Ouimet got in a pit to the right of the green. They made the turn all even.

Misses Putt

Ouimet was in a trap on his second at the tenth which gave Platt a fine chance to win the hole, but the North Hills youth missed another seven-foot putt and the hole was halved in sixes. He redeemed himself on the eleventh, however, by dropping a fifteen-footer for a par four and a win. Ouimet murdering the hole by pulling into a pit and then taking three putts.

Prosperity did not appear to agree with Platt who literally butchered the twelfth. He started off by topping his tee shot and failing to get on the fairway. Playing out of the rough he got in a pit and took a seven for the hole. Ouimet was on in three and down in two for five. This made the match all square.

A beautiful bird two on the short thirteenth sent Ouimet ahead. The Bostonian drove the green and laid his putt within ten feet of the pin. Platt pulled into a pit to the left and took a four.

The fourteenth was murdered by both men. Platt was in a pit on his second, and Ouimet sliced far to the left of the green. Both players then played some ridiculous golf, sending their balls back and forth across the green.

Much Comedy

Platt finally got his down on his fifth attempt, Ouimet getting a six. This hole gave everybody a good laugh, including the two perpetrators of the outrage. Again the match was all square.

The next hole went to Ouimet when Platt took three putts, missing a three-footer for a half in fours. The sixteenth was halved in fours, but somebody should have slipped Platt a crack on the nose for not winning the hole. Ouimet gave him a fine chance by driving into a pit guarding the green, while Platt was on and laid his second within eighteen inches of the pin. Instead of taking his time and nailing the putt for a win that would have squared the match, Woodie carelessly swung his putter and rimmed the cup.

He redeemed himself, however, on the seventeenth, which he played in bird figurs. Platt was short from the tee, but he laid his approach within eight feet of the cup and sunk the ball for a win. Ouimet was on in two and down in two for a four. This again squared the match.

Both played the eighteenth in fives. Ouimet got in the same trap that he was in yesterday against Evans, but he had a nice out and got down his putt. Platt was on nicely in three and down in two.

Hoffner vs. Fownes

Hoffner and Fownes began by both men making bird fours on the first green. The second was also halved, both players getting a five on the par four hole. The same was true of the third, but on the fourth green Hoffner took the lead, Fownes going into the rough and taking a seven. Hoffner also won the fifth hole with a par four, while Fownes missed a short putt.

After the sixth had been halved in three, Hoffner increased his lead when Fownes again drove into the rough and landed in a trap on his second shot, but at that Hoffner had to make a fine putt when he was half stymied before capturing the hole. The eighth and ninth were halved and at the turn the Bala star was three up.

Hoffner seemed to lose his grip on himself after the turn. It was raining hard, but apparently it was just as hard on Fownes as it was on Hoffner. However, Hoffner then began a series of misplays that cost him six holes out of the last nine played in the morning. He was constantly in the rough and besides this he had some very bad breaks. Four times, during the last nine holes, Hoffner was in the rough by only a foot, while Fownes missed getting into trouble by the same distance on three different occasions.

Hoffner in Rough

Fownes won the tenth hole when Hoffner went into the rough and made a poor recovery on his approach. Both were in the rough on the eleventh, but Hoffner lost this when Fownes laid him a dead stymie. This left Hoffner still one up and he braced for two holes, halving the twelfth and thirteenth with a par five and three.

Fownes squared the match on the fourteenth when Hoffner drove into the rough again. George made a fine approach dead to the pin, but here Fownes sank a twelve-footer for the hole. Fownes took the lead from Hoffner on the fifteenth when the latter drove into a bunker in the sixteenth, but Hoffner had a bad break when his ball fell directly back of some soggy paper. He took three shots to get out and finally picked up.

The seventeenth also went to Fownes and increased the Oakmont player's lead to three up. On the eighteenth Hoffner came with a fine approach from a bad lie, taking the hole and reducing Fownes's lead to two up for the morning round.

The morning cards:
Hoffner:
Out .... 4 5 5 6 4 3 5 3 5—40
In ..... 6 7 5 3 4 6 5 5 5—46—86.
Fownes

FAVORITE BEATEN IN WOODBURY GOLF

Johnny Powers, High Handicap Caddie, Wins in Second-Round Match

BRUNI DEFEATS PETERS

A high handicap man upset the dope in the second match play round of the annual caddies' tournament of the Woodbury Country Club, fought out today. Little Johnny Powers, who has an allowance of twenty-four strokes, took good advantage of his ten-stroke edge on Gardner Gibson, who boasts of a fourteen-stroke impost, and won out on the home green by 1 up.

Joe Bruni, the scratch man, had a hard battle with Otis Peters, whose handicap is two, during the first nine, but cleaned up the victory in short order after the second round got under way. Bruni had a 51 going out, which is not so bad for a fifteen-year-old, and made one 200-yard drive, which evened up for many missed putts.

Israel Polsky gave the youthful Mike McGinnis six strokes handicap and a bad lacing to boot, winning by 8 up and 7 to play. Izzy insisted that he won by 9 and 7, but Bruni and Miller, who acted as referees of the tournament, ruled his protest out.

It was a bad day for the McGinnis family, any way you look at it for John Patrick McGinnis, an older brother of Mike, was given an awful walloping by Fred Labati. Fred allowed John Patrick eight strokes but despite this handicap swamped the scion of the Old Sod by 9 up and 7 to play.

The first round for the defeated eight was supposed to get going today but no matches were played. Ernest Youngcourt won from Bill Porch by default while all the others drew byes.

Summary:

Second Round
Israel Polsky (18), defeated Mike McGinnis (24), 8 up and 7 to play.
Joe Bruni (scratch), defeated Otis Peters (2), 4 up and 3 to play.
Fred Labati (16), defeated John Patrick McGinnis (24), 9 up and 7 to play.
John Powers (24), defeated Gardner Gibson (14), by 1 up.

MORIN AND STEIN TO PACE IN LONG RACE

International Fifty-Mile Motor-pace Derby Draws Five Starters Tonight

MADONNA AND CARMAN RIDE

The first international motor-paced Derby since 1917 will be on the program at the Point Breeze Velodrome tonight, when five speedy sons of the world of whirl take part in the classic fifty-mile grind. Two star pacemakers from Boston will be here to make the race an even affair.

Clarence Carman, 1919 pace champion; George Wiley, last year's pacing king; Vincent Madonna, brilliant Italian rider; George Chapman, youthful sensation, and either Frank Corry, the Australian, or Percy Lawrence, the Californian, will be the fifth starter.

Corry is scheduled to ride, but his injuries may yet keep him from facing the starter. Lawrence is ready to take his place.

Ed Stein and Frank Morin are the Boston sons of speed who will make their 1919 pacing debut here this evening. This pair has been burning up the Boston and Providence tracks.

Jimmy Hunter, veteran pacer; Norman Anderson, the Dane, and Eddie Root will be the other pacemakers.

U. S. Adams will present the winner with a trophy.

The record for this six-lap track is one hour eight minutes, established by Madonna a few weeks ago. With such a classy field in the competition and star pacers in the race, new figures for this distance for the Velodrome track should be registered.

One two-mile handicap and a one-mile miss-and-out bicycle race also are on the program.
