MENUS FOR THE COUNTRY SUPPER; MRS. WILSON GIVES TEMPTING ONES

Save This Article for the Church Social or Community Festival-Exact Measurements Are Given for Preparing Food in Large Quantities. Old Favorites and New Ones

N OLD-FASHIONED country supper is among the many pleasant diversions the country folk enjoy in the beginning of the autumn. This meal is usually preceded by an afterin in the woods or the community use center for women and a busias meeting for the men folk. Usually the food is prepared by the committees and then brought to the enter. Coffee and one or two hot dishes are usually prepared, so that the meal will not be entirely cold.

A New England Country Supper The tables are laid with turkey red nd white plaid cloths and then the es are arranged, allowing usually twenty-four inches between each service. Home-made catsups, pickles and preserves are placed in convenient pos could be position. A choice of menu

Clam Soup

The clam soup is made at home and is then brought to the center for the supper in large demijohns. It can then be reheated. Beans are also baked at home, and when a fire is niade to bake the potatoes in the open lot the bean pots are placed in the embers to reheat. So this leaves just the corn to cook nd then the coffee to make. At a supper given last fall it took just one and one-half hours to prepare this meal for serving a party of 100 people. Serve the clam soup in mugs or large cups.

To Remove Butter Coloring Dear Madam-Will you please mention something to remove butter coloring from cotton dress?

A SUBSCRIBER. Javelle water will probably take out the stain, but it will remove the color, toc. However, it would be possible for you to tint the dress the original color with a little water color. In treating the stain with javelle water, stretch the stained portion over a bowl and apply with a medicine dropper. Don't allow to stay in contact with the goods more than a minute. Then neutralize with oxalic acid and rinse.
