Sharwood Withdraws

There was no mention of the fact that the hole and match were lost by Sharwood after five minutes of looking for the ball, according to the rules. The ball was finally found and Sharwood made a sweet shot over the rocks and rills to the green, boling a four for hole and at that time the match. Kammer made no protest. Sharwood withdraws. W. J. Piatt draws default and advances to the finals. Reversed. Knowner wins Sharwood match. Plays Platt, Wins.

Kammer handles an easy-going ball and was outdriven off every tee by the hard-hitting Kemble. Two brassey shots on the second had Kammer still away from one brassey by the Merion linksman. Kemble one up,

Gallery Forgets

Meantime the gallery started to watch Kemble but he was walloping around the big tree, then went over the green to the long hole, and Kammer, he was walloping away somewhere else, and then they both walloped together, and the gallery got to talking about who would be the next Mayor. Finally some one asked what the score was which made everybody notice they were play-
