MRS. WILSON SUGGESTS DISHES TO VARY THE SAMENESS OF MENU

September Is the Month to Make the Family Forget All About the Humid August Days — A Crab Cocktail or Salad — This Spicy Baked-Pepper Concoction and Others Given Put New Joy Into Eating

By MRS. M. A. WILSON (Copyright, 1979, by Mrs. M. A. Wilson, All Bights Breened.)

SEPTEMBER brings to the housewife a splendid opportunity to vary the menu, so that at the close of summer the home folks will hardly feel that the humid August days have sapped their energy. This is also a very easy time to get into a rut, so add variety as a spice to the menu. Try

Crab Cocktail

Place in a small mixing bowl One-half cup of mayonnaise, One tablespoon of Worcestershire

One teaspoon of paprika,

One teaspoon of salt,

One-half teaspoon of mustard,

One teaspoon of grated horse-

Three tablespoons of grated onion, Two green peppers, minced fine, One-half cup of cream sauce.

Mix thoroughly and then add the Juice of one lemon, beating in slowly, and pour over one cup of crab meat. Toss lightly with a fork to mix and then divide into five cocktail glasses. Garnish with finely minced red peppers and serve ice cold.

Scrambled Eggs, Bordeaux Mince fine

Two onions.

Four branches of parsley.

Now place three tablespoons of shortening or bacon fat in a frying pan and add the onions and parsley and two tomatoes, cut in dice. Cook gently until the tomatoes are dry and then add two well-beaten eggs. Stir well until set and then turn on a hot platter, and garnish with triangles of toast. Serve with fried

Dear Cynthia-Your column is the first thing I read when I receive the EVENING PUBLIC LEDGER. I think the letters printed in your column contain more human interest than a whole tains four colors. There are sheets and each time it made me cry, for I know and-as I remember-gray. Isn't that and home and then to lose them both. This seems worse to me than never to have enjoyed either, but the world is good and I am content in having my father. Even Patience found happiness at last. My problem, Cynthia, is a very common one. I have often attended parties where the inevitable kissing games are played, and if I had not played with the rest I would be called a "crank" and "old-maidish." I do not like these games at all, but, Cynthia, what can you do? Surely a boy does not think less of a girl who allows him to kiss her in a game in which it is necessary to do so It seems to me in this case that the girl is acting a part just as a heroine in a "movie" must when she kisses the hero in the last scene. It is the same in both cases—there is us feeling in it, it is only acting.

I have been to parties where other games were suggested and enjoyed, but at least one kissing game was as cer tain in the course of the evening as the ice cream. I can hardly wait until I receive your answer or those of the members of the K. U. H. C. Thank
