

SHOWS BOLSHEVIK HAND IN AMERICA

New York Attorney General Traces Russian Connection With Radicals Here

INSISTS ON DEPORTATION

By the Associated Press Boston, Sept. 2.—Deportation as the most effective means of solving the problem of radicalism in this country was advocated today before the National Association of Attorneys General by Charles D. Newton, attorney general of New York.

Subsidiary organizations met today and the convention proper will begin tomorrow. More than 900 lawyers will attend the convention, coming from many sections of the country and from Hawaii and Porto Rico.

Mr. Newton, who is also counsel for the New York legislative committee to investigate bolshevism, told the attorney general that as a first step to stem the flow of radical utterances "it will become necessary to prosecute and convict some of the more radical orators who have openly defied the law by violently preaching the doctrines of violence and overthrow of government."

Influenced by Bolshevists "A direct connection between the Bolshevists in Russia and the radicals in the United States, maintained by Ludwig C. A. K. Martens, 'envoy' of the Bolshevists was discovered by the New York legislative committee."

Documents seized by the committee, the New York attorney general disclosed, disclosed that the functions of the embassy, when under Martens direction, included furnishing legal aid to radicals charged with violation of the espionage act and promoting industrial unrest.

"Working hand in hand with the Martens-Bolshevik bureau," he said, "the committee found the Rand School of Social Science, whose charter it is my aim to revoke. This institution is nothing more or less than a preparatory school for the I. W. W. and other extremely violent organizations."

Discussions of after-the-war problems pertaining to law were expected to predominate in the preliminary and convention sessions. In the general convention about twenty-five open and sectional meetings will be held tomorrow, Thursday and Friday, with addresses by some of the foremost lawyers in the country.

Attorney General A. Mitchell Palmer is expected to address the judicial sectional meeting tomorrow, and Viscount Finlay, former lord chancellor of Great Britain, will extend the greetings of the bench and bar of England at the opening of the general session.

Wilson's Friends Blame Col. House

Continued From Page One at all, merely stupid," and Japanese journalists went around informing you confidently that you must not judge Japan by her delegation.

Japan, for certain internal political reasons, had sent her stupidest men to Paris. Thus suddenly it became apparent that Japan was devoting all her attention to Colonel House. She had found the line of least resistance. Thus Shantung was achieved.

The sharper criticisms of Colonel House come from friends of the President, and undoubtedly overstate the President's position. But if the President were entirely satisfied with the colonel's work at Paris you would not hear his friends talking as they do.

The truth is that the President's personal relations with Colonel House have not been interrupted. The two exchange letters. All denials that have been made of the story that the colonel is no longer so influential in the White House, made both here and in London, have been based upon this fact. But no sensible person would say that the President is angry at the colonel.

Situated Like Burleson The situation between the President and the colonel is like the situation between the President and Mr. Burleson. The postmaster general gave the President bad advice, costly advice. He remains in the President's cabinet. The two are friends, but Mr. Burleson's influence is gone.

Colonel House, at least in one instance, gave the President bad advice, that on Shantung. He still remains a friend of the President. He is probably a European reporter for the President. But for the time at least his capacity to influence the President is diminished.

Don't Delay—Register! Today's the Day to Do It Polling places are open. You may qualify to vote until 10 o'clock tonight. Be a good citizen—don't be a slacker. It is your duty to vote. And to vote you must register. Don't procrastinate. Register today!

Federal Jury to Review Full Records of 'Big Five'

Chicago, Sept. 2.—With the return from Washington of Charles E. Cline, United States district attorney, it became definitely known that subpoenas had been issued for the complete records of the "Big Five" packers in about forty cities in which the packing companies have offices. The records, together with testimony of witnesses, will be presented to the grand jury, which convenes today, it was said.

NAME STATE INSPECTORS

Medical Examiner for Townships Appointed as Schools Resume Harrisburg, Sept. 2.—(By A. P.)—Medical inspection will start in almost every school district of Pennsylvania with the opening week of the schools. The schools in Pennsylvania generally started today. Reports coming to the state Department of Public Instruction show that certain districts are short of teachers, but, in the main, conditions are better than at this time last year.

The state Department of Health has announced the appointment of the following medical inspectors of schools: Dr. H. M. Farwell, for Westfield borough and Brookfield township, Tioga county; Dr. D. A. Patterson, for Westfield and Clymer townships, Tioga county; Dr. G. D. Castlebury, for Union township, Tioga county; Dr. C. Maunville Pratt, for Towanda borough, Monroe, North Towanda, Sheshequin and Towanda townships, Bradford county; Dr. E. M. Ellsworth, for Doranetown borough, Luzerne county; Dr. W. B. Stricker, for Shickahyunk borough and Hunlock and Union townships, Luzerne county; Dr. Y. C. Hecker, for Factoryville and Nicholson boroughs, Wyoming county; Dr. B. B. Cook, for Conyngham township, Luzerne county.

URGES U. S. FOREST POLICY Charles L. Pack Declares America Is Behind Other Big Nations Bethlehem, N. H., Sept. 2.—(By A. P.)—Pointing to the tremendous forest fires losses, Charles Lathrop Pack, president of the Forestry Association of Washington, today urged foresters and timberland owners to get together on a co-operative fire protection plan and the first step toward a national forest policy.

"Germany built its empire and developed its wonderful military strength upon a financial foundation furnished by its forests," said Mr. Pack, in addressing the New England forestry conference here. "and now the United States must decide upon a national forest policy in order to perpetuate its timber supply. The United States is far behind France, Great Britain, Germany, Japan and other nations in this respect."

'MOONSHINE' RAID FATAL Georgia Officer Killed and Alleged Owner of Still Mortally Hurt Augusta, Ga., Sept. 2.—(By A. P.)—County Officer Morgan was killed, another officer was slightly wounded and a prosperous farmer named Jones was fatally shot ten miles from here when the officers attempted to arrest the farmer, on a "moonshine" still. Jones denied ownership of the still and when he refused to accompany the officers the shooting began.

Crude Oil at High Record Pittsburgh, Pa., Sept. 2.—A new high record in price was reached today in the announcements of prices paid for Pennsylvania crude oil. The Joseph Seep Agency made the announcement of $4.25 for Pennsylvania crude, an advance of 25 cents a barrel. All other grades, except Ragland, were advanced 10 cents. Ragland was unchanged. The new prices of others are: Corning, $2.95; Cabell, $2.87, and Somerset, $2.70.

Small Packers Fight Kenyon Bill Licensing System Would Demoralize Business, Senate Committee Hears

Washington, Sept. 2.—Independent packers, assailing the Kenyon and Kendrick bills before the Senate agriculture committee today, declared that federal regulation through a licensing system would utterly demoralize their business. Patrick Brennan, president of the Independent Packing Company of Chicago, said his company, established in 1905, had built up its business in competition with the big packers and that its business volume in 1918 was $27,000,000.

"These bills are aimed at the large packers," he said, "and I assume it is the desire of Congress to encourage competition and keep the smaller packers in the field. But they will work toward an opposite effect. First, it gives the secretary of agriculture power to suspend the license of any concern to do business, to punish it for infractions of any regulations he may make. The only appeal from this suspension is to the Circuit Court of Appeals."

"The law says in plain English that if the court finds any evidence to sustain the secretary's decision it must stand. All packers do business on borrowed money. This feature of the law alone would make the small packer a bad financial risk that would eventually result in leaving the business to the largest and strongest companies."

James F. Cochran, president of a Kansas City independent concern, told the committee his experience in doing business under license during the war had not made him like it. "Most of the government regula-

SMALLER PACKERS FIGHT KENYON BILL

Licensing System Would Demoralize Business, Senate Committee Hears

CHICAGO INQUIRY BEGINS

By the Associated Press Washington, Sept. 2.—Independent packers, assailing the Kenyon and Kendrick bills before the Senate agriculture committee today, declared that federal regulation through a licensing system would utterly demoralize their business.

Patrick Brennan, president of the Independent Packing Company of Chicago, said his company, established in 1905, had built up its business in competition with the big packers and that its business volume in 1918 was $27,000,000.

"These bills are aimed at the large packers," he said, "and I assume it is the desire of Congress to encourage competition and keep the smaller packers in the field. But they will work toward an opposite effect."

"First, it gives the secretary of agriculture power to suspend the license of any concern to do business, to punish it for infractions of any regulations he may make. The only appeal from this suspension is to the Circuit Court of Appeals."

"The law says in plain English that if the court finds any evidence to sustain the secretary's decision it must stand. All packers do business on borrowed money. This feature of the law alone would make the small packer a bad financial risk that would eventually result in leaving the business to the largest and strongest companies."

James F. Cochran, president of a Kansas City independent concern, told the committee his experience in doing business under license during the war had not made him like it. "Most of the government regulations," he said, "turn out with the big houses getting bigger and the little houses getting smaller."

Chicago, Sept. 2.—(By A. P.)—Investigation of profiteering and hoarding on the part of the "big five" packers, sugar operators and others charged by the Department of Justice with responsibility for the prevailing high prices of food, began today before a new federal grand jury sworn in by Judge Landis.

District Attorney Cline announced that complete records of the Cudahy Packing Company, dating back to 1912, would be laid before the grand jury. These records apply to forty different cities, it was said.

Resinol does wonders for sick skins

That burning skin-trouble which keeps you scratching and digging, is a source of embarrassment, as well as of torment to you. Why don't you get rid of it by using Resinol Ointment? Physicians prescribe it constantly. In most cases, it stops the trouble instantly and heals promptly. It is very easy and economical to use.

Sold at all drugstores. Resinol Ointment should usually be added by Resinol Soap.

Advertisement for Chestnut Street Shops featuring an illustration of a storefront and the text 'Seen in the Chestnut Street Shops'.

"The evil that men do lives after them; the good is oft interred with their bones," said Mark Antony in his famous oration over Caesar, but like many great men of today Antony was more than that philosopher-king, a man of action and fair dealing, such as that upon which the founders of the Chestnut Street Shops have built their business, is bound to extend its influence even to the days when the names of these founders are naught but a memory.

Delora Bqah THERE are many curious and interesting things in the Pennsylvania Museum, among them small watches with oddly shaped cases. Some are shaped like man-of-war frigates, others like sailing ships, and still others like the closed in a tiny ball, exquisitely enameled. One beautiful watch at Bailey, Banks & Biddle Company's store, a drop pendulum of platinum encrusted with diamonds, and having the fatch on its reverse side, may some day find a place by their side, if it is indeed a triumph of the watchmaker's art. There are dainty oblong wrist watches, too, set with diamonds and with flexible diamond-set extensions at either side, and there are plain gold models, too, in rectangular, octagonal and other shapes. The movements in all of these are, of course, of the highest grade.

Most of us have a hard time convincing "the tired business man" that he has any other idea than dinner in his head when he closes his eyes at five o'clock, and if requested to stop and select records for the phonograph on his way home he is very apt to turn a deaf ear. The Solotone Manufacturing Company, 1727 Chestnut Street, has a plan which obviates this difficulty. You will select your favorite records and telephone the Solotone Company the records will be ready for you when you call for them in the evening, or, if you prefer, the records will be delivered to your house. The Solotone Company has now a full line of records, including a number of new dance records, and is preparing to install a special booth where you may try them over.

Have you wondered, sometimes, when shopping with a friend from out of town, just where to take her for tea? You can find no prettier place than the restaurant, Cheri, which is located in the heart of the shopping district, one at 132 South Fifteenth Street and the other at 124 South Thirteenth Street. If once she tastes the dainty sandwiches and the delicious French pastry, for the excellence of which Cheri has become noted, she will forever after sing the praises of Philadelphia's tea-rooms, and by the time she decides whether she will have one lump or two in her tea she will be telling you that nowhere in her travels has she found such delicious food served with such profuseness and courtesy as at the Cheri restaurants.

Philadelphia's just returning from seashore and mountains will be glad to know that it is not too late to buy their peaches for preserving. The large yellow peaches are now obtainable in convenient half-bushel baskets at Henry R. Halliwell & Sons, Broad Street below Chestnut. These peaches, which are freestone and of large size throughout the basket, are not only much sought after for preserving, but are delicious eating peaches as well. The supply is plentiful just now, but will, in a few days, become very light. Those luscious little Seckel Peaches, the delicious Japanese Plums, Hothouse Muscatel Grapes and French Melons, as well as the Peaches, will be delivered in Philadelphia or shipped quickly by parcel post, special delivery 1000 miles.

After the summer vacation you will find that you have a number of interesting snapshots that will make attractive pictures for your walls. As gifts, they will be invaluable, for they will be prized for something other than mere monetary value. Go over your negatives at your leisure and select the most interesting subjects for enlargement. Frank J. Curry, 812 Chestnut Street, will make the enlargements in either sepia or black and white and in such a way as to bring out their best features. If you will let Curry's select a frame that harmonizes with the picture you will most certainly be pleased with the result. Don't forget that Frank J. Curry does developing and printing, as well as enlarging, "of the better kind."

STRAWBRIDGE & CLOTHIER Special Announcements for To-morrow (Wednesday)

A Great Under-Price Sale of Furs Starts the New Season Auspiciously

A Great Under-Price Sale of Furs early in the season, as is customary here, is particularly advantageous, not only in affording women a longer wearing time for their Furs, but in giving them the pleasure of selecting, at lower prices, while stocks are in the first full flush of their beauty, and models still fresh with the novelty of the changed fashions. In this Sale the savings—

Average 20 Per cent. Below Regular Prices This under-pricing was done originally to distribute the Fur business over a longer period, but it has met with such approval by the public, that hundreds of women are not only ready for the Sale, but waiting for its announcement.

All the Furs in This Sale are New And in the Most Desirable Styles Variety and quality we believe to be unsurpassed, and the prices are much lower than it will be possible to quote later in the season. Many of the Coats have beautiful collars and trimmings of contrasting furs.

- A Fine Assortment of Hudson Seal Coats—$215.00 to $690.00 Handsome Russian Marmot Coats—now $130.00 to $240.00 Twelve Models in Nutria Coats—$225.00 to $500.00 Russian Ponyskin Coats—now $115.00 to $270.00 Nearsel (French Cone) Coats—now $195.00 to $295.00 Scotch Moleskin Coats—now $435.00 to $750.00 Natural Raccoon Motor Coats—$225.00 to $400.00 Hair Seal Sports Coats—great value at $150.00 Natural Muskrat Motor Coats—$165.00 and $185.00 Skunk Neckpieces—now $35 to $275 Beaver Neckpieces—now $25 to $187 Hudson Seal Neckpieces—$35 to $195 Kolinsky Neckpieces—now $55 to $300 Alaska Fox Neckpieces—$50 to $165 Natural Mink Neckpieces—$25 to $575 Patagonia Fox Neckpieces—$30 to $65 Dyed Raccoon Neckpieces, $18 to $67.50 Canadian Wolf Neckpieces, $27, $72.50 Nat. Raccoon Neckpieces, $25 to $97.50 MUFFS in All the Fashionable Furs—$10.00 to $350.00

Strawbridge & Clothier—Second Floor, Filbert Street, and Centre

Opening Display of Mourning Millinery for the Autumn

A superb presentation of the latest autumn fashions as applied to Mourning Millinery, showing the becoming suppleness advocated by Paris, in scores of elegant, hand-made Hats. Many were personally selected by our buyer, who recently returned from Paris; others were made in our own workrooms with Paris Hats for models. Courtyard Crepe, Crepe Georgettes and Faille Silks are used in Hats and trimmings—the latter being usually of the same material as the Hat. Un-cut velvet is also shown, and the use of Crepe Georgette Veils is a becoming idea. We are Showing a Fine Line of Mourning Veils. And we make a specialty of individualized draping.

FOR TO-MORROW 2900 "Wear Ever" MUSLIN SHEETS Size 81x90 Inches At $1.85

Just when most thrifty housekeepers are planning for winter household needs, the Golden Special sign points the way to a most attractive collection of the long-established "S. & C. Wear Ever" Muslin Sheets, marked at substantially less than actual value. They are of superior quality, carefully made, and are without superior in the matter of durability and all-around satisfaction. Full double-bed size. Lay in a winter's supply at this price—$1.85. Also Pillow Cases, of the same grade, size 42x38 1/2 inches, to-morrow at 50c.

Women's Lovely Afternoon Dresses in Extra Sizes

Women requiring sizes from 42 1/2 to 52 1/2, will be interested in these stylish frocks, which have been designed for large figures, fitted on large figures, and furnished in every detail with a view to giving a slender appearance.

Afternoon Dresses of Crepe de Chine, $25 In black, navy blue, taupe, flesh and white, made in a smart plaid-tunic style, with tucked vestee and finished with girdele of the material. Sizes 42 1/2 to 50 1/2.

Afternoon Dresses from $32.50 to $60.00 Satin, crepe de chine and satin-and-crepe Georgette, in tunic, straight-line and coat effects. Black, navy blue, brown, plum and taupe. Sizes 42 1/2 to 52 1/2.

Other Dresses in Extra Sizes up to $125.00

Strawbridge & Clothier—Second Floor, Centre

Men's Autumn Clothing is Now Ready

Fresh from the workshops of the Stein-Bloch Co., Hart, Schaffner & Marx, and other leading manufacturers.

Distinctive styles of masterful designing. Smart new fabrics in rich autumnal shades.

The prices are very fair indeed—and in many instances lower than they would be but for the fact that we ordered early. Among them—Stein-Bloch Suits—$37.50; Hart, Schaffner & Marx Suits for young men—$45.00; "Alco" Suits of dark Oxford fabrics in conservative styles—$37.50; smart single- and double-breasted Suits of blue unfinished worsteds—$55.00.

A Clearance—

Of Men's Spring and Summer Suits, now in progress, presents many unusual opportunities for substantial savings. Among the prominent groups—Tropical Suits, of Palm Beach and Cool Cloth, Reduced to $11.75

Hundreds of Spring Suits reduced—now marked at $16.50, $24.50 and $34.50

Young Men's Flannel Suits, with two pairs of Trousers, special at $38.50

Strawbridge & Clothier—Second Floor, East

The Sale of Children's Sample Shoes Also a Special Purchase of 5000 Pairs in All Sizes and Widths, Under Price

In this autumn Sale, beginning to-morrow, are 2500 pairs of Sample Shoes for Children, Misses and Large Girls, in sample sizes, and a very unusual additional purchase of 5000 pairs, in all sizes and widths. Because of the prevailing high cost of production, manufacturers are in many instances using the same samples shown last season, and we have been unable to procure the usual number. The 2500 pairs secured, however, are representative of the very best lines for autumn and winter. But our special purchase of 5000 pairs at a reduction of about 25 per cent. will make the Sale even more interesting than our usual Sample Sales, not only adding to the quantity, but providing all sizes.

- The Sample Shoes THE SAVINGS AVERAGE MORE THAN ONE-THIRD IN EACH GROUP. Infants' Shoes—now $1.95 White buckskin and canvas, tan and black kid-skin, button and lace; sizes 2 1/2, 3, 3 1/2 and 4, C and D widths. Children's Shoes—now $3.45 Black and tan, lace and button; patent leather, with white tops, and all-white; sizes 7, 8, 10, 10 1/2 and 11, B and C widths. Misses' Shoes—now $4.45 Tan calf and gun metal calf, patent leather and white leather; button and lace; sizes 13, 13 1/2 and 1, B and C widths. Large Girls' Shoes—$6.65 High Shoes in desirable styles; sizes 3, 3 1/2 and 4, B width.
- The Special Purchase THE AVERAGE SAVING IS ABOUT 25 PER CENT. IN EACH GROUP. Children's Shoes—now $4.65 Standard grades, nature-shaped lasts, welted soles, lace; of tan calf, gun-metal calf, white nubuck and patent leather, with white leather tops; all sizes. Misses' Shoes—now $5.45 Of the same grades, leathers and styles as those in the children's group, but in the larger range of sizes. Large Girls' Shoes—$6.45 English toe lasts and medium round toes; in the same assortment of leathers as the above lot; all sizes.

Strawbridge & Clothier—Eighth and Filbert Streets

Advertisement for Hotel Adelphia Roof Garden, featuring 'The Coolest Place in Town' and listing entertainers like Joe McPharlon and Johnnie Palace.