WE gave him the job—let's give him our support. He can't do it alone; but if every American, regardless of politics in the U. S. A., or Peace in Europe, would help a little bit, we could put it over.

There are a lot of us who are more interested in Beefsteak, at the right price, than the Balkans, at any old price. There are more of us who are more worried about the high cost of living in our own home town than a scrap between a Jap and a Chinaman in the Shantung Peninsula.

This country isn't going to the Bow-wows! Just because some Price Pirates are still at large, we shouldn't jump to the conclusion that every merchant whose prices look high to us this year is a Profiteer,
