

SAYS VARE MEN AIDED SLACKERS

John P. Dwyer, of Draft Board 32, Charges Machine Helped Evaders

SENATOR IS RESENTFUL

Obstruction of the draft by the Vare political machine is charged by John P. Dwyer, who was secretary of Local Draft Board No. 32.

Where men who administered the draft law impartially were named to the local boards, their work was nullified by Vare-controlled appeal boards, Dwyer asserts.

The accusations are strongly resented by Senator Vare and "Uncle Dave" Lane, sage of the Republican Organization.

"Vilely false and maliciously manufactured for political purposes," is the senator's reply to all charges of draft obstruction by politicians of his organization.

Approves Long's Charge

In his attack on the Vare machine, Mr. Dwyer expressed approval of the recent charges made against the Fifth ward draft board by George W. Long, who was chairman of local board No. 4.

The Vare politicians, Mr. Dwyer said, put the enforcement of the draft law in the hands of anti-Vare people, while Vare politicians devoted all their time to aiding draft dodgers. "The purpose was to make votes for the organization," he said.

Mr. Dwyer recalled that members of the Fourth and Fifth ward boards were indicted and ousted from office and that members of the Second district board were indicted and that appeal board was abolished by the President. Congressman Vare, Dwyer asserted, later openly boasted he had the indictments against the appeal board members quashed.

Cites Bergdoll Case

The Grover Bergdoll case was referred to by Mr. Dwyer, who said the second district board failed to certify as deserters Bergdoll and 2000 other slackers.

"The height of Vare audacity," Mr. Dwyer continued, "was reached when the head of the Vare machine undertook to reprimand Major Murdock, state draft officer, for recommending that District Board No. 2 be abolished."

The Vare politicians stood by the slackers during the war, said Mr. Dwyer, and should now make the declaration. "The Vares expect every slacker to do his duty to the Vares."

A number of men, Mr. Dwyer concluded, obtained exemption from the draft by claiming to be foreigners. These same men are now registered as voters, he said, but will be in danger of the penitentiary if they vote because the draft board records can be invoked against them.

PATTERSON WOMEN MEET

Majority Candidate and Thomas Robins Will Address Gathering

The first mass-meeting of the Patterson women's campaign committee will be held in the Ivory Room, Hotel Adelphi, today at 2:30 p. m. James Patterson will address the meeting. Thomas Robins, chairman of the committee of one thousand, will meet the women aides for the first time, and will also make an address.

Other speakers will be Mrs. Wilmer Krusen, wife of the director of Public Health and Charities; Miss Matilda Silverman, superintendent of prison welfare, and William Ehrenburg, a navy recreation director. Mrs. Lewis C. Boyer, who organized the Philadelphia home service department of the American Red Cross, will also be present. Mrs. Patterson, wife of the candidate, and Mrs. Thomas Robins, wife of the chairman of the committee of one thousand, will meet the women workers.

WM. POTTER FOR MOORE

Can't Eliminate Politics, but Can Oust Contractor, He Says

William Potter, former minister to Italy and formerly state fuel administrator, has returned to Philadelphia from Maine. He made this statement regarding the primary:

"While for the present we cannot see much hope for the elimination of all politics from Philadelphia in municipal affairs, we can see the opportunity at this election to remove the contractor. I shall, therefore, vote for Mr. Moore in the primary."

CONGRESSMAN MOORE'S "ONLY BOSS" AND TWO DAUGHTERS

SAYS BOSS RULE IS DOOMED

Walton Declares Registration Shows Phila. Ready to Throw Off Shackles

Commenting on the registration, John Walton, chairman of the committee of one hundred, said:

"The results of the registration thus far indicate that Philadelphia is determined to throw off boss rule, and in its place accept the leadership of such statesmen and patriots as Congressman Moore and his colleagues.

"There is a vast difference between leadership and bossism. Humankind is so constituted that in order to secure success in any great movement the public can move together only under proper leadership. This is true in all phases of life whether in business, philanthropy or politics. This principle is often quoted to justify bossism on the ground that the bosses are political leaders. There is, however, a distinct line of demarcation between leadership and bossism. Bossism is selfish autocracy and aims to secure special privilege and reward for the few. Leadership has in it the element of guidance and will lead the people in the direction that will secure the betterment of all. The crying evil of all great cities is political bossism. Evidence of the selfishness of this style of political control is in the fact that the bosses and their adherents grow fat on public funds either through contracts or from plum trees created by their own influence to make public plunder easy. Philadelphia is getting ready to throw off the galling yoke of this vicious contractor boss system."

HAMPTON MOORE'S DAUGHTER GRADUATES AS NURSE TODAY

Miss Sevena to Get Diploma From Chestnut Hill Hospital. Wife of Congressman-Candidate Tells How to Be Happy

Miss Sevena C. Moore, daughter of Congressman and Mrs. J. Hampton Moore, graduates today as a pupil nurse at the Chestnut Hill Hospital.

Miss Moore, who is twenty-one years old, began her training two and a half years ago. Her sister, Miss Julia D. Moore, who is eighteen years old, is a pupil nurse at the same hospital. She has been in training for about a year.

Both daughters of Congressman Moore had ambitions of becoming army nurses. They attended the public schools and the Friends' schools. Sevena graduated from the George School, at Newtown, Pa.

Man's Part to Lead

"From my childhood I have felt that it is the man's part to lead, especially in such matters as politics," said Mrs. Moore. "And, too, I have felt that Mr. Moore is able to take care of his own campaign."

"But while I have not taken a part in politics, I have always followed public questions with interest and try to keep abreast of current thought."

Mrs. Moore believes she has been of great help to her husband throughout his political career, even though she
