MARQUIS DE LAFAYETTE
—From an Engraving in the National Geographic Magazine.

Tomorrow Will Be the Anniversary of the Birthday of Lafayette

General Pershing, who is expected to arrive on Monday, will not be able to go to Lafayette's grave in the little cemetery of Picpus, in the center of Paris, to lay a wreath and a tear and speak a word of affection for the young Frenchman, who endeared himself to us in the Revolutionary time.

The events of the last three years have tightened the cords that bind us to France.

No other man on the other side of the sea did as much for the struggling American colonies as the chivalric Lafayette, who not only came in person and fought with General Washington, but in the days of suffering of our Continental troops went personally over to his mother country and borrowed funds to buy clothes and shoes and bread for our troops.

Lafayette slumbers by the side of his fathers, in the land of his birth, but his name, with that of Washington, dwells as a sacred legacy in the hearts of the American people.

Women's Tailored Serge Street Dresses at $25 to $47.50

NUMBERS of women, within the last few days, have been asking for these inexpensive serge dresses, for they can be worn with comfort right now.

Mostly they are of dark blue serge, some few are black or brown and the serge is a surprisingly good quality.

There is plenty of variety, too, in the styles. Everything from the severe little coat dress with only rows of shiny buttons for trimming, up to the delightfully frivolous tunic frock with its fascinating eyelet embroidery.

Some have round necks and others are square, there is a bit of pretty embroidery by way of a collar or there may be none at all. Wide black silk braid makes an effective trimming for certain models and there are belts or sashes to confine the fullness at the waist.

Each and every one is good looking and one thing is certain, there is no more useful in-between season dress than one of serge.

Ready With Children's School Shoes—Better Shoes and at Lower Prices

For some years we have been getting more and more dissatisfied with children's shoes as they came upon the market.

Many months ago we decided upon a new policy in this direction. We would have our own shoes made and made our way.

We took it up with the best manufacturers, and the result of an immense amount of work and planning and close figuring is that now we are actually ready to announce that

We Have the Best Shoes for Children in Philadelphia and Generally at Lower Prices

For they are our own shoes, made in our own way, of leather of our own selection.

They are made over lasts of our own selection.

They are cut upon our own specifications.

The soles are put on with the Goodyear welts and the leather soles are genuine all-leather. There are some shoes with fiber soles, for many people want this kind; but if the shoe appears to have a leather sole, then we guarantee it genuine leather, no paper, no cheap composition.

And the whole construction is just as good and sound.

Whatever you may get elsewhere, you can get good school shoes at Wanamaker's—sound and true and durable.

Boys' shoes come in tan and black calfskin lace, in sizes 8 to 10½ at $4.50 and $5.50, and sizes 11 to 2 at $5, $6 and $8.50.

Special attention is called to an extra-strong tan calfskin lace shoe, box toe, in sizes 8 to 10½ at $4.50 and 11 to 2 at $5.

Girls' shoes come in tan and black button and lace calfskin, in patent leather button with kid or cloth tops and all-white buck button and lace, and prices go from $5 to $13, according to size.
