Nebraskan Declares President Erred in Describing Japan's Entry Into War

SHANTUNG IN ALLEGORY

The most startling thing that de-Washington, Sept. 6 .- Prefacing participation in this war was not the military preparation of Germany— we were familiar with that, though prepared address on the league of natons, Senator Norris, Republican, of we had been dreaming that she would not use it—but her political prepara-tion; to find that every community in the civilized world was penetrated by her intrigue. The German people did Nebraska, declared in the Senate today that President Wilson's statement in his St. Louis speech to the effect that Great Britain and the other Allies not know that, but it was known in Wilhelmstrasse, where the central ofhad promised Japan Germany's rights in China in order to get Japan in the war, was "erroneous." fices of the German government were. and Wilhelmstrasse was the master of the German people; and this war, my fellow citizens, has emancipated the German people as well as the rest

"The President represented our gov-ernment at the Peace Conference," said nator Norris, "and he knows what was presented there, and what the It is a matter of history that Great Britain and the other Allies ild not make that secret agreement with Japan until 1917. At the time that agreement was made, all of Germany's essions in China had been captured and there was not a German ship on the Pacific, so the President has not got his history on straight. I challenge the President to produce evidence to substantiate what he said in St.

Mr. Norris declared the President would not tell the facts regarding the disposition of Shantung "because it would cast some reflection upon the Peace Conference."

Supporters of the administration, he said, "dare not because it would incur the displeasure of their great leader." So the senator announced he himself would relate the story of "the troubled

Story of Shantung in Allegory

In narrative form that usually begins "Once upon a time," Senator Norris told the story of Shantung. Through out his speech, which never was changed from its allegorical style, nations were referred to as individuals, Germany being styled Bill Kaiser; Japan, Mr. Jap; Great Britain, France and Italy, as John Bull, Mr. French and Mr. Italiano, respectively, while the United States was named Miss Columbia.

Bill Kaiser, pictured as a husky fellow who trained himself in the use of frearms with the idea of despoiling his neighbors, the senator said, forcibly took the "Shantung farm" from John Chinaman, and how, later, when the other members of the community were engaged in punishing Bill Kaiser, Mr. Jap. taking advantage of Bill Kaiser's occupation in other fields, seized the property.

The senator's story of the sittings of the Peace Conference included a satirical account of the journeys and methods of Miss Columbia, one who ossessed a beautiful voice and had a wonderful command of language." addgreatest of her sex in her ability to talk."

And they offered the prospect of attracting other wavering Republicans. The first step in the union was made when the Democrats in the foreign relations committee Thursday supported all the McCumber resolutions for the perfecting of the treaty. That was a sign of what was to come Senator Hitchcock's attitude all along has been that, as leader, he must be free to make a working arrangement with the friends of the treaty among the Republicans, whenever the opportunity arose. He has told the President that it would be necessary to accept reservations, but that the reserrations need be only interpretative in character, requiring no submission to the other signatory powers. President Wilson has been for some time convinced that such reservations were unavoidable, and he has been indifferent as to how many there were or what they were, so long as they were reasonable and were not in effect amend-

There is reason to suppose that the McCumber amendments will be acceptable to President Wilson. Senator Hitchcock and Senator McCumber had conference in the morning. It followed Hitchcock's support of McCumber the day before. It was followed, in turn, by the introduction of the reservations. Because they hold the balance of power, the mild Republicans will take the leadership in interpreting the treaty, and the Democrats, though

"MILD' RESERVATIONS GROUP CONFIDENT

Senators attending the conference said opposition would be based principally against the reservation on Article X of the league-of-nations covenant. This committee reservation, one of the conference said, is regarded as involving state to call attention to anything anywhere that is likely to disturb the peace of the world or the good under-standing between nations upon which the peace of the world depends, and every people in the world that have not got what they think they ought to have is thereby given a world forum in which to bring the thing to the bar of mankind. scuttling of the whole league."

Senators attending the conference expressed confidence that with anticipated support of the Democrats they would secure adoption at least of a modified reservation to Article X.

I have, let me say, without the slightest affection, the greatest, respect for the Senate of the United States, but, my fellow citizens, I have come out to fight for a cause.
