In Praise of Morley's "Travels" To the Editor of the Evening Public Ledger:—Sir:—I read with interest and pleasure the review of Morley's "Travels" in the Philadelphia Ledger of the 27th inst. I am glad to see that you have given it the same attention as it has received elsewhere.

Maybe He Will Some Day To the Editor of the Evening Public Ledger:—Sir:—I have been hoping that Mr. Morley's membership would take him up the drive to Grand avenue bridge from the River drive. There he would find a state of affairs that would have been rubbed a bright shine brass by the gymnastic efforts of Young America.

Wants Bonuses for Our Soldiers To the Editor of the Evening Public Ledger:—Sir:—In reference to bonus for the young men of the state who so nobly distinguished themselves in this great war, I wish to say that it is about time our representatives in Harrisburg wake up and do something for the boys. Our representatives have preached enough of patriotism, but have done nothing for the boys who sacrificed everything for the sake of mankind.

Praises Ambrose Sherman To the Editor of the Evening Public Ledger:—Sir:—"May I not" ask you keep the picture of Ambrose Sherman in the pocket, or in form, or wherever editors keep their precious treasures, so that when inquiry is made for a likeness of an all-around, 100 per cent American man you will be able to reproduce it? It is well for us to preserve in "enduring granite" (or marble) our memories of our dear ones, who after rendering their full measure of devotion to humanity, have passed on, but it often strikes me that much better results might be achieved, and a higher inspiration given to our youth, if we were not so parsimonious with our appreciation while they are in the flesh.

Edward Keenan Explains To the Editor of the Evening Public Ledger:—Sir:—I desire to bring a statement that appeared in the Philadelphia newspapers to the effect that a representative of the Central Labor Union passed some criticisms on the political situation in this city, and also in regard to the wisdom of Mr. Gompers speaking at a meeting to be held in the Moore Hall, and am the only officer of the Central Labor Union located in the Reed Building, and I have not spoken to any newspaper representatives on these subjects.

An Interesting Wedding Miss Elizabeth Bradley married to Mr. Howard Thompson today. An interesting marriage is that of Miss Elizabeth T. Bradley, of 5817 Thomas avenue, and Mr. Howard Thompson, of 1011 Belmont avenue, which will take place at 3 o'clock this afternoon in the Ninth Presbyterian Church, 2157 Seventh street and Washington avenue. The Rev. Dr. Wardington will perform the ceremony, and the bride will be given in marriage by her father, Mr. John C. Bradley. She will be attended by her sister, Miss Isabel Bradley, as maid of honor. The best man will be Mr. Dent Conover.

Golden Wedding Anniversary Mr. and Mrs. Robert M. Early, of 729 Mickle street, Camden, celebrated their fifth wedding anniversary at their home in Camden, N. J., yesterday. Mr. and Mrs. Early were married in Wilmington, Del., by the Rev. Alfred Cookman, September 3, 1869. This is the fifth golden wedding in Mr. Early's family and the third golden wedding in Mrs. Early's family.

Manayunk Mrs. Harry Gallati and her sister, Miss Elizabeth Ross, of Main street, have returned home after spending the summer in Atlantic City.

Frankford Miss Marjorie Allison, of Orthodox street and Frankford avenue, has returned from a trip to Maine, where she spent the month of August.

Yardley and Vicinity Miss Gladys Harper has returned to New Brunswick after spending the summer with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Jesse E. Harper.

New Jersey Notes A very pretty wedding took place at the home of Mr. and Mrs. George T. Williams, in Burlington, when Miss Roberta T. Matthews became the bride of Mr. William B. Stackwell, of Dover.

made by labor representatives and political leaders during the last few days would convince the most doubtful that there must be some fire where there was so much smoke, and it also convinces me that the political leaders have encouraged such denial. They have in view, perhaps, the discrediting of labor representatives.

In regard to Mr. Gompers addressing a political meeting, that is a matter for Mr. Gompers to decide. He may be able to come to Philadelphia without being tagged, but if a Philadelphia labor representative said a word on the political situation he will have the dollar mark placed on him immediately.

Reform is a disease that visits Philadelphia at different periods. It generally appears in the early summer and sometimes returns in the early November, like hay fever; it makes one feel uncomfortable, but it has no serious results.

The Fifth ward is another favorite subject for discussion during political campaigns. The people of Philadelphia only hear of the Fifth ward when the leaders of the dominant political party have a scrap, but this ward has the title of "Bloody Fifth" for years. I never heard of a judge, governor, senator, mayor or a candidate for any other political office objecting to the votes of the "Bloody Fifth" being counted or credited to him.

I regard the present contest for Mayor as a battle between two factions of the dominant political party for control. The Central Labor Union has not endorsed any of the candidates for Mayor. As president, I should not, I have not and will not do any act that will permit the tag of obedient servant being placed on me and I think the majority of the delegates agree with me.

President Central Labor Union of Philadelphia and Vicinity.
