

COLUMBUS CHEERS HEROES OF 4 WARS

Annual G. A. R. Parade Contains Other Veterans for First Time in History

BLUE AND KHAKI MINGLE

By the Associated Press
Columbus, O., Sept. 10. — Mighty warriors of four American wars today joined in the victory parade of the Grand Army of the Republic, which is holding its national encampment here.

Never before had the "boys of '91" invited veterans of other wars to march with them in their annual parade. In the parade were several aged Mexican war veterans, riding in automobiles. Hundreds of Civil War veterans also rode, but thousands of them marched proudly behind their flags and blue and khaki uniforms. The Spanish-American and European wars, with the opportunity of being alongside the fast dwindling ranks of Civil War fighters, carried behind the battle flags they had earned on the fields of Europe.

The marchers ranged from green youths, who served in France, to the grizzled veterans, many of whom have passed the allotted four score and seven in the line, which stretched for miles. The deep blue uniforms of the Mexican and Civil Wars, the lighter blue of the Spanish War veterans, the matty blue and white of the navy and the familiar khaki. Cheers and shouts greeted the boys in blue as they trudged past with stooped shoulders and faltering steps. Enthusiasm ran high as the younger veterans, heads erect and eyes snapping, passed with firm tread.

The marching veterans were reviewed by Clarendon E. Adams, of Omaha, commander-in-chief of the Grand Army; by past national commanders and by Governor Cox.

George A. Holey, of Boston, chief of staff of the G. A. R., led the column, with former Brigadier General John J. Spinks, of Columbus. Fourteen bands, including the crack United States Army Band from the Columbus camp, furnished the music. Scores of brass and drum corps were in line.

No women marched in the parade. Wives and daughters of veterans, who witnessed the procession from chairs and benches placed along the streets. The day had been declared a holiday in Columbus. All stores were closed during the parade.

Because of the warmth of the weather and the fear that some of the older veterans would succumb to the heat as they marched, elaborate arrangements had been made by army surgeons, Red Cross workers and Columbus physicians for the care of heat victims. Cots, with attending physicians, were in every corner of the line of march.

With the gathering of the great host almost before dark, the scene was set for the most thrilling and picturesque review the city ever witnessed.

For General Pershing it was the culmination of a long series of scenes of adulation. He said he was overwhelmed by the reception given him when he set foot on the shores of Manhattan Monday, but even that paled into insignificance compared with the frenzied greeting that was his today. He was the commanding figure in an array of heroes.

Pershing Clasps Hand of Cardinal Mercier

New York, Sept. 10. — (By A. P.) — As the parade passed St. Patrick's Cathedral it was unexpectedly halted and General Pershing dismounted and crossed to the reviewing stand, where Cardinal Mercier saluted him. Archbishop Hayes and a number of other church dignitaries. The cheering rose to a deafening volume as the famous soldier clasped hands with the heroic Belgian prelate. Cardinal Mercier had been given a tremendous reception on his first arrival at the reviewing stand, but the cheering which rose as he stood up to greet the American commander made his previous welcome seem feeble.

Powell, of Company M, also of the Twenty-eighth, who, despite his non-combatant duties, frequently volunteered, and in one engagement gained his objective after every enlisted man and ranking officer in his detachment had been wounded or killed.

Washington, Sept. 10. — (By A. P.) — The joint committee planning the national reception for General Pershing agreed today on September 18, the day following the parade here of the First Division, for welcoming ceremonies at the Capitol.

NAB 31 IN $50,000 GAME

Crap Players Fought Near New York Police Headquarters
New York, Sept. 10. — A lively crap game in which it is said $50,000 was up in stakes on the table, was broken up early in the morning when detectives raided an apartment building block from police headquarters and arrested thirty-one players.

The raid was the result of a mysterious "tip" and detectives of the vice squad were out on the case. They saw about fifteen automobiles stop near the address and discharge passengers and noticed a man standing in the doorway of the house who apparently was acting as a "lookout." They questioned him, and when he gave evasive answers and tried to reach a push button they arrested him. One of the remarkable features of the case was that although only two detectives made the raid none of their thirty-one prisoners made an attempt to escape. Each was fined $2.

"LEAVE SANTO DOMINGO!"

Spanish Government Asks U. S. to End Military Occupation
Madrid, Sept. 10. — (By A. P.) — The Spanish Government has transmitted to Washington a letter from the head of all the non-militarist parties suggesting that the United States now has an opportunity to terminate the military occupation of Santo Domingo.

United States troops were ordered to Santo Domingo on November 25, 1917, because there was a threat of revolution there. A treaty was negotiated between the United States and Santo Domingo early in 1917 by which this country assumed a virtual protectorate over Santo Domingo. Santo Domingo's claims were presented before individual delegates to the Peace Conference in Paris, but the country was not included in the list making up the league of nations.

Even the horses and mules, many of which had served throughout the war, were decorated with service stripes and all of the First's insignia. Just as it was marked in France, was shown. Machine guns of various types and sizes, tanks and mortars, grenade-throwing devices were parts of the parade exhibits and were viewed with wonderment by the crowds. Then there were the anti-aircraft guns whose muzzles often pointed skyward as if to bring down hostile fliers.

Acting President of United Workers Urges Men to Return

EMPLOYEES REJECT OFFER

Scranton, Pa., Sept. 10. — Receipt of a telegram from John L. Lewis, acting president of the United Mine Workers of America, deploring the strikers of the thousands of mine workers employed by the Hudson Coal Company and the D. L. & W. Railroad Company in the Lackawanna valley, has spurred the local union officials to bigger efforts to get the men back to work.

Lewis indorses the stand of District President John T. Dempsey, that the men return to work immediately and that their grievances be taken up in the regular way.

A resolution of the conciliation board urging the strikers to return to work and permit their grievances to be adjusted through the proper channels, was rejected by the Hudson Company employees.

The strike is orderly, the men remaining away from the mining operations.

General Superintendent Dorrance, of the Hudson Company, and officials of the coal department of the Lackawanna Company today reiterated their statements that only after the return of the men to work will their grievances be given consideration. John T. Dempsey, president of district No. 1, of the mine workers' union, again sent to the strikers a request that the unauthorized strike be brought to an end.

The general grievance committee of both companies will meet here late today to take up the strike question.

OFFICERS ARE SELECTED

Atlantic City, Sept. 10. — Taking the stand that the undertaker needs to advertise the educational side of his occupation, no less than other business men dealing directly with the public, the New Jersey State Funeral Directors' Association in its annual convention here yesterday, decided to do battle with the conservative wing in the national body.

The proposition of the Jersey progressives is that funeral directors shall be permitted to use ethical advertising for the purpose of educating the public as to the actual character of the services they render. It is expected that the proposal will meet with strong opposition among the standpatners.

Frank J. Cadery, of Orange, was elected president of the New Jersey Association. The other officers are August F. Schmidt, Elizabeth A. W. Woodson, Jr., Red Bank, and R. Charles D. Legg, Paterson, vice presidents; John H. Broemel, Newark, secretary; H. H. Ernest, Mount Holly, assistant secretary; John V. Burke, Elizabeth, treasurer.
