

General Pershing's Victory Visit to Philadelphia Chéered by Joyful Multitude

PHILADELPHIA'S WELCOME to the victorious commander of America's overseas army. The immense crowd packed in Broad street in front of the Union League, where the commander was given a reception and addressed the throng from the club balcony.

A GOLD MEDAL, fashioned as an American eagle, was given to the soldier in Independence Hall by Mayor Smith. It was the city's gift to the nation's great hero.

AFTER GENERAL PERSHING had addressed the throng in the old State House yard he left the platform to plant a tree near the living tree planted by General Grant
