

SPROUL MEN LOSE WAR ON M'CLURE

Most of Governor's Candidates Defeated by Machine in Delaware County

SOME CONTESTS UNDECIDED

McClure forces defeated most of the candidates endorsed by Governor Sproul in the good government fight in Chester...

According to the latest returns, the McClure organization made a sweep of the city, and with few exceptions had its own way in the county.

Latest returns, which are incomplete, indicate the following McClure candidates were nominated:

Mayor, William C. Ramsey, of Chester. District Attorney, William Taylor, of Media. Coroner, Charles H. Drewes, of Darby. County treasurer, George W. Power, of Thornbury. City controller, Albert H. Hughes, of Chester.

Soldier Wins Nomination

The Republican League, the Sproul organization, wrested the register of his post for Lieutenant Colonel Frank H. P. Heller, of the Twentieth infantry division, a resident of Foxcroft...

The hardest fought battle of the primary campaign was that for the majority of Chester, believed to have been won by the McClures. Their candidate, William T. Ramsey, representative to the state legislature from Chester, claims to have won Mayor W. S. McDowell, the present incumbent, by the small majority of seventy-nine.

Mayor McDowell conceded his opponent's election this morning, telephoning his congratulations to the McClure "ring's" headquarters on the eighth floor of the Crozer Building, opposite the office of the Chester Times, which newspaper is owned by Governor Sproul.

The McClures today held a band and serenaded workers in the Chester Times, hooting and yelling, while the bandmen played "The Dead March" from "Saul."

Ramsey's majority was figured by the McClures at 257. The better element of citizens in Chester today were not pleased when they read that the Sproul faction apparently had gone to defeat in the campaign waged throughout the city of Chester and Delaware county.

Startling Surprises

Scrutiny of the ballots cast at yesterday's primaries shows that in some precincts the vote developed startling surprises. In the Bethel Court district, a thickly populated negro community, the McClure faction has always been sure of a majority of 200 or more. This time, however, its majority candidate received a majority in that ward of but twelve.

Mayor McDowell carried his own precinct in the Tenth ward by a 2 to 1 vote, but his opponent, William T. Ramsey, lost his home precinct, the third, in the Second ward.

There are eleven wards in Chester embracing thirty-four voting precincts. Returns received today from all these precincts give Ramsey a lead of seventy-nine votes. The small majority has given rise to the hopes of Republican leaders that the official count may change the vote and nominate Mayor McDowell.

May Ask Recount

The Sproul faction may decide to ask for a recount of ballots. With returns from twenty-four out of thirty-four voting precincts at hand at noon today it developed that the councilmanic fight might be close. William Ward, Jr., who won the endorsement of both factions running as an independent candidate, ran ahead of both mayoralty candidates. His vote in twenty-four precincts totaled 4122.

T. Woodward Trainer, league candidate for council, polled 2919 votes, and another league candidate, M. Joseph Dwyer, 2902. The vote for the McClure candidates in the twenty-four precincts was, Eugene F. White, 2777; Charles G. Worrlow, 2429; Dr. S. P. Gray, 2402.

There are five members in the city council. The mayor is also a member, by virtue of his office, under the commission form of government. Should the three men mentioned win, the Republican League believes it could then gain control of council, and hold large authority in municipal affairs.

Discrepancies of various amounts in counting ballots and in posting of the vote taken yesterday make it impossible to determine definitely thus far the exact result in the county.

YORK ROAD PRIMARY RESULTS IN HARMONY

Niblock Succeeds Robinson as Commissioner Without Contest

In the 9th York road section of Montgomery county, where Republican nomination is regarded as equivalent to election, returns today indicated a harmonious outcome of yesterday's primaries.

In Abington township Irvin F. Niblock, Chestnut, succeeds H. P. Robinson, who declined re-nomination, for commissioner. Theodore Edwards, Abington, and Charles F. Mebus, Glenside, president of the board, were re-elected.

For school directors, Walter J. Chase, Roslyn; John Gilbert, Redal, and Jesse H. Gilbert, Nook, Glenside, were named. H. Calvin Williams, Republican, and Michael F. Lachot, Democrat, endorsed by Republicans, were returned for magistrates.

In Jenkintown T. Ferrill Raiser, Republican, defeated Samuel J. Dallas for school director by 13 votes. Robert Garovato, Republican, was unopposed.

Samuel Curren won the Democratic nomination for town council from M. Ramsey Blake. The Republican winners are Frank E. Gentry and J. Howard Hay.

There were two contests in Cheltenham township. John H. Taylor, Melrose Park, beat Samuel Myargal for commissioner, and Charles Bosler defeated John J. Campbell, H. Carroll Brooks, Glenside, was returned unopposed.

DEATH OF 'BOSSISM,' SAYS MACLAUGHLIN

Supply Director, Who Will Run Independently, Encouraged by Anti-Vare Vote

PLANS FOR HIS CAMPAIGN

The heavy vote against the Vare ticket sounds the death-knell of "bossism" in Philadelphia, in the opinion of Joseph S. MacLaughlin, director of the Department of Supplies, who will be a candidate in the mayoralty contest. Director MacLaughlin will run independently.

"The vote," he said, "shows conclusively that the people, if they will, can take the government into their own hands and can elect the man they choose for Mayor and the men they want to represent them in City Council. It is a heartening indication of the trend of public sentiment. Nothing appears so clearly on the face of the returns as the fact that the people are aroused. All they need to do is to keep aroused until after the election and they will overthrow bossism."

In speaking of his plans for entering the contest, irrespective of which of the two major candidates is finally declared the nominee, Director MacLaughlin said:

"Our plans are complete. I will name my committee of fifty before the end of the present week and the campaign will then be on in earnest. The preliminary papers are all ready and the requisite 3000 signatures will be obtained at once. We will not stop with 3000, however, but will have thousands more. Naturally at this time I cannot announce the party name that will be presented but that will be made known in the very near future."

"No matter who is nominated as the result of yesterday's primary, the outcome will not affect my plans. I will be out in the open and my friends will stand back of me."

Double-breasteds

YOU see from the illustration that "double-breasted" doesn't mean exactly what it used to mean.

This season we've made the double-breasted coat a new thing.

Notice the high-chested, high-waisted effect; buttons are placed high; there's more flare to the coat skirts.

It gives young men the lithe, athletic look—so different from the solid, bulky appearance that the old double-breasted sometimes gave.

Double-breasteds are the most popular styles of the season as we make them. All-wool fabrics; high class tailoring; satisfaction guaranteed.
