PICK LOCAL GOLFER FOR STATE TITLE

Only Six Pittsburghers Will Play Today and Chances Favor Philadelphia Player

AMATEURS STAR IN OPEN

Some one of the twenty-six Philadelphians who have entered the state ama-teur golf championship, which begins today at the Whitemarsh Valley Country Club has a fine chance to win the state title. The present champion. William C. Fownes, Jr., is going to play, but he is uncertain if he will be able to last through as he is suffering from a case of ptomaine poisoning Fownes has won the state championship four times, and he is one of the two Pittsburgh players who has won the national championship.

It has only been won three times by a Philadelphian, and on two of those occasions the winner happened to be a student at the University of Pennsylvania. But here is an opportunity for trick. There are six Pittsburgh players at 4:30, who will play today, and some of them are bound to figure in the match play.

But with Champion Herron out of the tet. The Rala team reached the finals tournament and Fownes not in the best of health, the Philadelphians have an Maxwell won the Philadelphia Cricket Club tournament, eliminating Hoffner in the final round. He is a former North and South champion and one of the best medal and match players in this section. Kemble is the winner of the invitation tournament of the Merion Cricket Club, while Gay is one of the best of the local amateurs.

The amateurs handed the pros a bump by winning three of the four prizes yesterday. Years ago an amateur day served to bring out the best there in an open championship, but times are they were forced to tie the score in the changing and the amateurs are making waning minutes of the eighth period, inroads on the pros in these events then they wont out and clinched victory which have been hitherto the sacred in the extra session. property of the professionals.
