

1000 SCOUTS GREET MERCIER TONIGHT

Cardinal Spending Quiet Day in New York as Guest of Archbishop Hayes

WILL VISIT BELGIAN BUREAU

By the Associated Press
New York, Sept. 19.—Cardinal Mercier, primate of Belgium, who returned from Albany last night, is spending a quiet day at the residence of Archbishop Patrick J. Hayes. Tonight the cardinal will visit the Belgian bureau and later attend a citizens' reception in conjunction with the Right Rev. J. G. Stillman, of St. Albert's Belgian Church. One thousand Boy Scouts and a boys' band will act as a guard of honor at the Belgian bureau.

Albany, Sept. 19.—A large crowd was at the railroad station to bid a cheering farewell to Cardinal Mercier when he left for New York early last night. Just before the train started the cardinal beckoned to a woman who was standing on the outskirts of the throng, waving an American and a Belgian flag. Pushing her way forward the woman reached the car, and the cardinal took the American flag from her outstretched hand and waved it until the train was out of sight. The primate of Belgium arrived in Albany about noon yesterday. Accompanied by a military escort and an enthusiastic committee of welcome, he was driven through crowd-lined and flag-draped streets. Governor Smith's welcoming committee, composed of more than 200 state and municipal officials, escorted by a battalion of state guard troops received the distinguished prelate at the train. Enthusiastic crowds lined the streets for the short parade to the Capitol.

Conducted Through Capitol
After the extension and reception of informal greetings Cardinal Mercier was conducted by the governor on a tour of inspection of New York's $25,000,000 Capitol. Later he received the formal welcome of the state, extended by Governor Smith, at a reception in the chancellor's hall in the state education building.

As a climax to his formal welcome the degree of doctor of laws was conferred on Cardinal Mercier by the University of the State of New York. The cardinal, whose ecclesiastical robe furnished the focal point of bright color against the background of academic gowns of the regents and their multi-colored doctors' hoods, his face beaming, bowed his head while the black, purple and yellow hood of a doctor of laws was hung about his neck and as he received the engrossed parchment from President Finley.

"How could I find a way capable of voicing the feelings that so deeply move me?" Cardinal Mercier said in acknowledging the honor paid to him by the university. "If I did something in my country for my people—and, as you are kind enough to say, for other peoples too—it was not by personal capabilities and not by mind or will, but because from the first moment of the war I believed in the justice and mercy of God.

Thought God Wouldn't Tolerate
"When I saw the German columns devastating my land and shed the blood of poor innocent civilians, I thought it impossible that God should tolerate such a scandal."
"First of all seek the kingdom of God and justice." Remembering these words, I was impelled not to consider the consequences of my actions. We had but one thing to do—our duty, the duty of saving liberty and saving justice. My only motive, which was always living in my heart, was "right above might."

"I never for a moment feared the enemy. They tried by threatening me, by bribery, by perfidious persuasion, to have me remain silent before my flock. I said to them: 'Never mind; I shall speak because I have something to say.'"

DUNCANNON BANKER KILLED

Wife and Three Others Injured in Motor Accident Near Carlisle
Carlisle, Pa., Sept. 19.—Frank Pennell, of the Duncannon National Bank, was killed in an automobile accident on the Walnut Bottom road last night while returning from Pittsburgh with his wife, Charles Haas, and wife and Frank Weightman and wife, of Hoboken, near Pittsburgh.

Weightman, who was driving the car, endeavored to pass a car ahead when one of the car's wheels was torn loose. Weightman's injuries are not serious, but his wife is in the Carlisle City hospital with a broken arm and internal injuries.
Mr. and Mrs. Haas are not seriously injured, while Mrs. Pennell has a broken shoulder blade and minor injuries.

MULE RACING SOCIETY FAD

Mrs. J. Griswold Webb's Gray Wins Muledom Championship
Poughkeepsie, N. Y., Sept. 19.—Mrs. J. Griswold Webb yesterday won the mule racing championship of the Hudson valley. On the specially scraped track at the Dutchess County Fair, at Rhinebeck, before an assembly of society from the country places far along the Hudson river and in the adjacent hills, she drove her pet gray mule, Bonnie Annie, to victory.

The series of heats in which mules were driven in harness by eminent young women of society began on last Tuesday, when Mrs. Webb and Mrs. Vincent Astor drove to a dead heat. This was to have been run off Wednesday at the fair, but Mrs. Astor was called to the Adirondacks by the sudden illness of her mother, Mrs. Robert P. Huntington.

For speed in becoming a fad of society, mule racing has broken all records.

Y. M. C. A. WOMEN BACK

Last of the 3000 Who Served Abroad Will Be Home Soon
New York, Sept. 19.—Within a few weeks nearly all of the 3000 women serving abroad during the war with the Young Men's Christian Association will have returned to this country, according to an announcement made here last night by the women's overseas department of the Y. M. C. A.
Thirty-five canteen girls will be left in Germany to carry on the social welfare work for forces which entered the Third Army.

A Great Public Service Is Rendered in Wanamaker's Down Stairs Shoe Store

A Big, Roomy Shoe Store for All the Family

Here it is still possible to get good shoes of real leather, cut well and strongly sewn, at moderate prices that show very little advance, in spite of the much-talked-of high cost of shoes. These shoes are sound, serviceable shoes, following the season's best fashions, shoes that you can be proud to wear anywhere.

Tomorrow 6000 Pair of Women's Fashionable High Shoes Will Go on Sale at $6.90

If we had not contracted for these shoes many months ago every pair would have to be marked $2 to $4 more. We doubt if you can match them anywhere in Philadelphia for even more. Every pair has welted soles, a most important service point. Every pair is of pliant, comfortable leather. Every pair is in this season's fashion. Every pair is in all sizes, 2 1/2 to 8, with generous quantities of the 5, 6 and 7 sizes that most women wear.

Six Splendid Styles Are Featured

Dark brown leather walking shoes with medium heels and imitation wing tips marked by perforations.
Black calfskin shoes with gray cloth tops and medium heels.
Brown calfskin shoes with tops of buck-finish leather in fawn color—very smart, indeed.
Brown calfskin shoes with lighter brown cloth tops and medium heels.
Dark brown kidskin shoes, which lace very high and have high curved leather heels.
Black kidskin shoes, lacing high, with high, curved heels of leather.

A Wonderfully Fine Collection of Children's School Shoes

Lace shoes and button shoes are here in practical, wearable styles for all the small members of the family—both boys and girls. All have wide and comfortable toes that leave plenty of room for growing toes, and welted soles of admirable thickness. Of tan or black calfskin, black patent leather or white leather, resembling buckskin, at $3.25 to $6.50 the pair.

Special School Shoes for Girls are of strong, heavy brown leather with stout welted soles. Their tops are cut sufficiently high for all weathers.

Sizes 6 to 8, $3.40
Sizes 8 1/2 to 10 1/2, $3.90
Sizes 11 to 2, $4.90
Sizes 2 1/2 to 6, $5.90

1000 Lovely Autumn Hats Are New for Saturday

Every kind of delightful Autumn hat that you can think of is here, each hat as fresh and fine as these crisp Fall mornings. The smaller hats turn sharply up from the front and are often trimmed with metallic brocade or with ostrich.
Broad brims with a graceful sweep of line mark the larger hats.
The velvet in every Wanamaker hat is silk velvet—not velveteen—whether it is glossy black or any one of the glowing Autumn colors so fashionable now.

$3.75 to $8

are the prices, and you will pronounce them very moderate when you have seen the charm and beauty of the hats.

School Hats for Children fill a most interesting corner of the Millinery Salons. Here are little beavers, velvets and velvets with streaming ribbons and perky little bows, ready for the little maids who will wear them. Prices start at $3.

The Deep, Glistening Beauty of Furs

This is a season of tailored frocks and suits and fur neckpieces—what a charming style it is!

Scarfs of Wolf

Taupe, brown, black, gray and natural wolf scarfs range in price from $30 for a natural scarf to $55 for a taupe dyed scarf.

Scarfs of Fox

black, taupe, brown and natural kit scarfs of various sizes are $25 to $75, with an interesting collection.

Collars of skunk-dyed opossum are $15 and of dyed skunk, quite large, $35.

Those Interesting Neckpieces!

—such as the one that is sketched. Aren't they fetching? Some of the most attractive are of fitch, squirrel, mink, Kolinsky and stone marten. Prices vary from $18 to fitch at $50.

Three Glove Specials for Women

At $1.65 a Pair
Fine French lambskin gloves of snowy white are embroidered in white or black on the backs. They are overseam sewn and have two clasps at the wrist.

Also capeskin gloves in tan or brown are overseam sewn. These have small imperfections which class them as "seconds."

At $1.85 a Pair
Gray suede gloves with two-tone embroidered backs are pique sewn. They have one clasp at the wrist.

A Fine $5 Silk Umbrella for Women

The covers are all-silk in navy, green and purple over sturdy frames, and the handles are the short, convenient kind with bakelite rings or silk loops to match the covers. The majority of them are tipped with bakelite.

New Georgette Blouses, $5

A new idea comes to light in the making of these pretty new blouses of white or flesh-pink crepe. They are made with raglan shoulder lines, and the seams are marked with a narrow row of insertion and lace edging. Wee ruffles of the creamy lace finish the round necks, too.

85 Beautiful New Winter Coats at 1/3 to 1/2 Less Than Usual

This is the finest group of coats that we have had this season and the values are the kind that does not occur often. Several of the models we have had in our own regular stock and we have considered them excellent value at much higher prices. This gathering of coats we have marked at two prices.

At $45

Coats of polo cloth, silvertone, silvertip Bolivia and tinseltone in blue, taupe and several fashionable brown shades. Every coat is lined from neck to hem with silk, and many are topped with collars of nutria or sealene. A few have sealene cuffs, as well. Two of these are sketched.

At $35

These are principally of velour, silvertone and polo cloth in grays, blue, browns and plum. These, too, are beautifully lined with silk and some boast sealene fur collars. Two of these are sketched.

There are all sizes in both groups, but not all sizes in any one style.

You will search far for better or more fashionable Winter coats at anywhere near these prices.

Corsets Specially Priced

At $1
Corsets for slight figures are boned all through and have low bust lines. These are particularly adapted to young women and girls.

At $1.25
Pink coutil corsets for slight to average figures are lightly boned and have insets of elastic on either side in the low top.

500 Corsets at $2

Included are slight, topless models of batiste with elastic all around the very low top. The front steels extend only up to the lower edge of the elastic, which makes for comfort.

Also there are longer corsets that are fairly high in the back. These are of white coutil and will take care of medium figures.

Delightful Dresses of Satin and Georgette

Gleaming satin dresses that Autumn has brought with her seem loveliest of all. Most of them are quite simple, choosing soft bands of cascade, beaded motifs or deep tucks for the only trimming. Some are combined with Georgette most effectively. They are in navy, black, taupe and brown and start as low as $16.75 for a youthful frock with tucks trimming the bodice, skirt and overskirt. Other and more elaborate dresses of satin are $23.50, $25, $35 to $45.

Navy Blue Georgette Frocks have two fancies—to be quite plain, with only folds or pleats for adornment, or to be quite elaborate with crystal or colored beads. Many of the beaded designs show an artistry that is most interesting. $22.50 to $50.

Special Serge Dresses Reduced to $13.50

A navy blue serge frock is bound with black silk braid and has several rows of narrow cream lace forming a smart little collar across the back.

Reduced to $16.50

Another frock of navy serge with three rows of black silk braid trimming the sleeves, the long roll collar and the overskirt. There is a vestee of colored silk.

Sores of other smart serge dresses at $19.50, $25 and $30.

Youthful Autumn Clothes for Juniors' Wear, Moderate Prices in the Down Stairs Store

The season's needs of girls and juniors have been carefully studied and provided for. Styles are youthful and becoming, materials are good and—above all—the frocks, coats, skirts, etc., are well made—every bit as carefully as grown-ups' things. The standard of quality and of tasteful style maintains an unusually high average for such a large assortment, and prices are as low as is compatible with durable quality.

Corduroy Frocks at $7.50

Burgundy, blue and green—all of them especially attractive in corduroy—are here to select from in corduroy frocks for girls of 6 to 14 years. The jacket-blouse is embroidered at the bottom and displays deep, pointed pockets that are also embroidered.

Black Regulations at $6

Well-tailored regulation frocks of black serge always look well on girls of 6 to 14 years. They have pleated skirts with pockets and the collars are trimmed with black braid.

The Junior Dress, Sketched, is of dark blue serge with a vestee of tan Georgette. Notice the attractive braiding about the neck and pockets. Sizes 14 and 16 years, $16.50.

Velveteen Frocks Blue, black or burgundy velveteen frocks will fit girls of small women who wear junior sizes 14 and 16. They are prettily hand embroidered or trimmed with braid. $28.50, $25 to $30.

Warm Coats to Defy Jack Frost Coats of diagonal chevrot in brown or green mixtures are very warm and snug and will do for cold Winter days as well as for Autumn. They are lined throughout. Sizes 8 to 14 years. Sketched, $13.50.

Smartness in Tailored Coats is not beyond the reach of the junior girls. Tailored coats of heavy-weight mixed coatings, such as the one that is sketched, are good-looking and warm, too. This model has a yoke in back, a large collar and pockets. Sizes 14 and 16 years. $16.50.

For Little Girls Chinchilla coats, belted all around and fully lined, for girls who wear a 6-year size, $7.50.

Brown or green corduroy coats with yokes and large collars will also fit girls who wear size 6 years. $10.50.

Other coats for children and juniors are $17.50, $25 to $37.50.
