FINAL WEEK OF POLO DRAWS STAR PLAYERS

Title and Exhibition Matches Arranged; Long Island vs. Philadelphia C. C. at Bryn Mawr

SENIORS TOMORROW
By JAMES S. CAROLAN
The final week of polo will be an active one. Only three championship matches are on the schedule, but the polo committee lost no time keeping active most of the stars in attendance at the tournament.

Six matches have been arranged—three championship and three exhibition engagements. The final for the senior title will be played at the Country Club tomorrow between the Rockaway quartet, winners over Meadowbrook last Saturday by 7½ goals to ½, and the Country Club four.

On Thursday the opening match for the open title will bring together Rockaway and Cooperstown. The deciding open match will be at the Country Club on Saturday between Meadowbrook and the winners of the Rockaway-Cooperstown match.

At Bryn Mawr
The first of the three exhibition matches will be played at Bryn Mawr this afternoon between a Long Island four and a team representing the Philadelphia Country Club. Special matches also will be played at Bryn Mawr Wednesday and Friday afternoons.

Devereux Milburn, F. H. Prince, Jr., J. Watson, White and Alfred Collier will represent Long Island today. The Country Club quartet will be composed of Robert E. Strawbridge, Robert E. Strawbridge, Jr., Rodman Wanamaker, 2d, and Barclay McFadden.

In the open match on Thursday Cooperstown will have one of the strongest teams that has played at the Country Club this season. Two members of the victorious senior Rockaway team will be with the Cooperstown four when C. C. Rumsey and Thomas Hitchcock, Jr., lines up with L. E. Stoddard and R. E. Strawbridge, Jr.

Rockaway will have C. P. Beadleston, Earl W. Hopping and Malcolm Stevenson. J. Cheever Cowdin was scheduled to play, but a broken collar bone will keep him out of the game.

Whitney a General
Harry Payne Whitney led a losing four in the opening senior match at the Country Club last Saturday afternoon. His Meadowbrook four was eliminated by Rockaway by a margin of three-quarters of a goal.

The effusive field general directed the play at all times. His speedy mounts carried him into the center of the fight all the time. When not actually engaged in slashing the oval he was heard firing verbal broadsides at his mates. His words were effective.

Earl W. Hopping and Devereux Milburn were the stars of the return. Milburn gave the best exhibition of driving seen this season, his powerful strokes repeatedly carrying the sphere into rival territory. He accounted for four Meadowbrook goals, more than half of his team's total.

Hopping was 50 per cent of the Rockaway's attack, making four of the winner's eight goals. Hopping did not start scoring until the sixth period, when he sent his team in front by tallying three. His winning smash was made in the eighth period.

More than 10,000 persons flanked the large field. This was the largest crowd that ever witnessed a polo match here.

Alex in Fifty-eight Minutes
Chicago, Sept. 22.—In fifty-eight minutes of play, Chicago, with Alexander pitching, shut out Boston yesterday 2 to 0 in the sixth inning Merkle's single and doubles by Carter and Deal netted two runs.

COLLINS EXPECTED TO STAR IN HIS SIXTH BIG SERIES
Former Mackman Will Have to Be Watched When White Sox Go After World's Title

HERO of five world's series, Eddie Collins again is expected to star in the strife for the highest honors in baseball in 1919.
Collins often is spoken of as the lucky player, the money player, the brains of the team, and the greatest second baseman that ever played the game. He has certainly done enough during his baseball career to merit some of the titles.

As a member of the great machine of Connie Mack he participated in four world's series, and in three of these was one of the luminaries of the games.
Again in 1917 as a member of the Chicago White Sox Eddie cavorted around the second bag in the annual fall classic and his work in this series against the Giants was of such a brilliant hue that Manager John McGraw of the Giants proclaimed him the greatest second baseman ever.
Collins has been performing as of old for the White Sox this season. The former Columbia college boy is credited with being largely responsible for the team's success this season. His headwork in the team's play has helped to obtain victories as much as his physical ability.

Collins is the man the Reds will have to watch is the cry of the experts and they can't figure how he can be stopped. At least not this year. Eddie is not only expected to shine in the coming series, but if he grabs the winner's end of the purse, he will carry off the record of having gotten more money out of the national pastime than any other player in the same length of years.

FANS FIGURE QUEEN IN NATIONAL TENNIS

Dopesters Give Miss Thayer, Local Champion, Good Chance Next Season for U. S. Honors

A-top the golden hair of Miss Molly Thayer now sits the local tennis crown. The youthful Cricket Club player smashed her way to the title through one of the fastest and largest fields that have contended for the women's singles championship of Philadelphia in a long time. She survived a week of play, including the doubles and mixed doubles. Miss Thayer carried her partner in the women's doubles down to the final round, where she and Miss Newbold were only beaten by the superlative play of Mrs. Gilbert Harvey, ex-champion, paired with Miss Phyllis Walsh, rated second only to Mrs. Harvey.

Miss Thayer gave the dope a thorough upsetting. Before the tournament her play was not much recognized, though she had won the Upper Saranac lake championship, and she had been playing brilliant strokes at the Cricket Club in little personal battles there after her return by way of rehearsal for the belt she won last week.

Now the frantic feminine fans are wondering just what will happen next season when Miss Molly goes after the national title. A steady game took Mrs. Harvey down to the semifinals in the national.

Miss Thayer has more than this standing. She has an aggressive game that goes after each and every point. She puts them where the opposition isn't and she puts them there with such sting that there isn't any doubt about it.

Philadelphians wonder whether she isn't a bit over the top. The orange twilight of another season will tell.

"Babe Ruth" Simmons put on a thrilling vaudeville show in the mixed doubles, which was thoroughly enjoyed by the spectators, even though at the risk of their lives many times. He was getting great distance with the wood, and through the fairway.

They began to call him "Babe Ruth" because he smashed twelve balls over the fence.

At one time they were obliged to halt the game to collect some of those that the Yale tennis acrobat had socked to the woods over the automobile enclosure. Sometimes he took his fury out on the lineamen, whom he almost bowled out of their chairs a couple of times with a hot ball to the fence.

The lineamen were the only ones brave enough to sit inside the wire along the court. The spectators were outside.

A couple of times at that a wide one had them ducking as it slipped into the wire.

$15,000 PURSES

Five Rich Races at Grand Circuit Today and Fatter Ones to Come
Columbus, O., Sept. 22.—Horsemen attending the Grand Circuit meeting here today were predicting excellent time for the last four days of racing. Six rich stakes will be contested before the races close Thursday.

Including the 2:00 trot, postponed from Saturday, five races are scheduled for today, chief among them being the Chamber of Commerce and Board of Trade stakes, each worth $3000.

Followers of racing anticipated the early return of the veteran driver Geers to the track before the meeting comes to an end.

SCRAPS ABOUT SCRAPPERS

JOHNNY DUNDEE is in demand. The clever Italian lightweight has been signed to meet Eddie Moy at the National Saturday night, and a match virtually has been clinched by Leon Hains between Dundee and Joey Fox for the Olympia next month.

Dundee is one boy who always has delivered here. This, to a great extent, accounts for the demand for his services.

Abraham Friedman and K. O. Joe O'Donnell will be the main attractions at the Olympia this evening. Jakey Friedman has arranged this preliminary card. Frankie McManus, Young Jack Toland, Frankie Clark vs. Young Torco and Jack London vs. Joe Gaiger.

Tommy Jamison and Allentown Dundee will be the main attractions in the eight-round final at Herman Taylor's Atlantic City Sporting Club Thursday night. The other bouts follow: Preston Brown vs. Jackie Moore; Joe Santagata, Walter Dennis and Jack Jensen vs. Frankie Leonard.

Billie Kramer, the western middleweight, will go into action against Kennington Joe Barrell in the wind-up at Johnny Burns's Cambria, Pa., Friday night. The other bouts follow: Peggy Lee vs. Tommy Jeffries.

At Shubert and Young Cheney will be the principals in a fifteen round bout to a decision in Baltimore on Friday night. Frank O'Brien, the National referee, will be the third man in the ring when the boys start their long-distance battle.

Joe Mulvihill, the Hartford, Waterbury and New Haven promoter, was in the city Saturday. He was trying to sign Kibane for a match at one of his half dozen clubs. He also is trying to put through a match between Tommie and Dundee for the 135-pound championship.

Willis Britt, a member of the "An Evening" fraternity, manager to keep Billy Kramer working. Following the bout with Barrell at the Cambria, Friday night, Kramer will journey to Buffalo to meet Paul Dixon on October 6. Dave Astor also has been matched to meet Paddy Lammont in New Bedford, Mass., on October 9.

Harry (Kid) Brown, the South Philadelphia High School boy, who graduates next February, now wants a smash at the leading featherweights. Brown used his best type-crier form to inform us that he was ready for Frankie Brown, Joey Fox, Terry Martin or any other flat person rated as a feather.

Pat Marley, one of the recent discoveries, has been making good in his late showing. Jack Haven has been devoting part of his spare time tutoring Marley, and the pupil has been making progress.

Frank Peth now has a pair of Kibane's gloves decorated in the colors of the American League. Following Johnny's battle with Eddie Morgan at the National last Saturday night, the featherweight champion presented Peth with the dazzling gloves. George Jantsch carried the trophies from the club.

Bill Johnston Beaten
Hocking, Calif., Sept. 22.—Gerald Patterson and Norman the Brook of Australia national doubles tennis champions, yesterday defeated William and Marion McLaughlin of San Francisco, in an exhibition double. A. S. K. 18-16, 16-15.

John Johnston, a national singles champion and McLaughlin formerly held that title.

HERRMANN MUST QUIT

Red Says Col. Ruppert, Who Wants to See Leg President Off Commission
The committee named by the two major leagues last winter to choose a successor to August Herrmann as chairman of the national commission will go on with its work, despite the resignation of Frank J. Navin, one of the two members of the American League committee. This announcement was made yesterday by Colonel Jacob Ruppert, the other American Leaguer on the committee. In speaking of the proposed change Colonel Ruppert, who has just returned from Chicago, said yesterday:

"Early in August a situation arose that seemed to call for immediate action. In view of the fact that it then appeared that the Cincinnati Club, of which Mr. Herrmann is president, might win the National League pennant. It was pointed out by a National League member of the committee that it would hardly be wise, and would be open to objection from every point of view, to have the president of one of the winning clubs also serving on the commission during the world series.

"In view of the delicate position in which he is placed, it seems obvious that Mr. Herrmann should resign as chairman of the national commission."
COOMBS 'POTTED' BY TEXAN
Phil's Deposed Pilot Shot in Leg During Quarrel
Palestine, Tex., Sept. 22.—Jack Coombs, former major league baseball player and manager, was shot in the leg while engaged in a dispute over the right of way on a country road near here Friday night.
Coombs was driving his car along a narrow road, closely followed by Dan LaRoe, a road contractor, who, according to Coombs, was stopped by car him. Coombs says he tripped his car and the quarrel followed.
