

STUDENT BODY BIG AS TEMPLE OPENS

University Has Greatest Registration in History—Many Additions to Faculty

DORMITORIES CROWDED

Temple University opens today in all its many departments, both day and evening courses, with the highest registration in its history. Its highest previous enrollment has already been very greatly exceeded, with prospects for further additions to the 1919-20 student body that will tax its enlarged facilities to the utmost.

Dean L. H. Carnell said this morning that the war seems to have impressed upon the young people of the country the necessity for advanced education. The first dormitory for young men, opened last week, does not begin to meet the demand and the university authorities are being kept busy to obtain sufficient accommodations on the outside.

The dormitories for women have been doubled in capacity since last year, but they are still insufficient to accommodate the increased enrollment of young women. From all parts of Pennsylvania and nearby states students are crowding in for the various courses. All of the members of the faculties of the dental, medical, pharmacy and law schools are back from the service and assume their places at the opening of the university year today.

Additions to Faculty

A number of additions have been made to the various faculties. Dr. George E. Walk, formerly of New York University, former superintendent of public instruction in the Philippine Islands, and more recently director of the division of teacher placements in the United States Bureau of Education, has been made dean of the Teacher's College.

Dr. Mary Bickings Thornton, graduate of Women's Medical College, has been added to the faculty of the Department of Physical Education. Dr. Milton Francis d'Elision, a graduate of Columbia University, will become instructor of athletics in the department of physical education. He was director of athletics in the American expeditionary forces and is now director of physical education at the Philadelphia navy yard.

Soldier in History Chair

In the College of Liberal Arts and Sciences, Dr. Frederick L. Nussbaum will take the chair of history. He has just returned from two years' service in the army. Before the war he was professor of history in Northwestern University, Evanston, Ill. He is a graduate of Cornell University.

Pasquale Seneca will teach the romance languages. He was formerly instructor in this subject at Lafayette College and is a graduate of the University of Pennsylvania.

In the School of Commerce several high-class men have been added to this faculty. Clyde Jackson, A. M., will teach advanced accounting, business and sales correspondence, salesmanship and business organization and management. He is a graduate of the University of Utah.

Dr. William D. Gordon, A. M., Ph. D., heads the course in industrial management and distribution.

George P. Wilson, commissioner of transportation for the Philadelphia Chamber of Commerce, is in charge of a special course in interstate commerce and traffic. J. Stanley Thomas is to

HELLO, KIDS! I'M CHO CHO!

He is a celebrated circus clown who is coming here next week to entertain kiddies of the public schools and at the same time tell them how to be healthy and happy

CIRCUS FOR PUPILS, CLOWN AS TEACHER

Cho-Cho Will Give Kiddies Sanitation Hints During Child Health Week

Oh, Boy! Think of having a circus right in school—and the teacher can't do a thing about it. Hey, What? "Cho-Cho," the furiously funny, fascinating clown, is coming. Yes, it's a straight.

He's coming right into the school-room next Monday with his grinning white face, big dimples and all—everything but the tent.

Cho-Cho has made thousands of kiddies and their daddies laugh. His face is a riot. He's funnier than a bunch of monkeys in a barrel of molasses.

What does he do? He does everything that all other clowns do—and then twice as much more.

Cho-Cho is coming to tell the kiddies how to live as well as how to play. He is visiting the schools under the auspices of the Philadelphia tuberculosis committee. He talks to the children on sanitation and health.

Cho-Cho first gets their earnest attention and then shows them why they should clean their teeth twice a day, take at least two baths a week and ask for lots of spinach, carrots and green vegetables instead of trying to live on candy and heavy cakes.

The famous clown will be the feature attraction of child health week, September 22 to October 3.

He will show the kiddies that dirt and bad air increases doctor bills, while cleanliness and fresh air will make them "Pat Morans" and business men.

The clown will appear first at the Furness School, Third and Mifflin streets. On Tuesday he will delight the youngsters at the Marshall School, Eleventh street. He was forty-five years old and lived at 723 Tree street. His body was taken to the morgue.

Although McBride at one time had considerable money it is understood that he was virtually penniless at the time of his death. It is expected that his friends will arrange for his burial.

McBride retired from the ring about eight years ago. For fifteen years before his retirement he was often seen in boxing contests here.

DIES IN TURKISH BATH

Paddy McBride, Former Pugilist, Victim of Heart Disease

Paddy McBride, a former pugilist, died suddenly early today as he was entering a Turkish bath at 23 South Eleventh street. He was forty-five years old and lived at 723 Tree street. His body was taken to the morgue.

Although McBride at one time had considerable money it is understood that he was virtually penniless at the time of his death. It is expected that his friends will arrange for his burial.

NEW YORK OPERA SEASON

New American Work and Other Novelties Coming

New York, Sept. 22.—Several novelties, including the production of a new work by an American composer, will be included in the twelfth season of grand opera at the Metropolitan Opera House under the direction of Giulio Gatti-Casazza, it is announced. The season will begin November 17 and close April 24.

The American work to be produced will be "Cleopatra's Night," an opera in two scenes, the music of which is by Henry Hadley and the book by Alice Leah Pollock, after the novel of Theophile Gautier.

Another novelty will be "L'Oiseau Bleu" of Maurice Maeterlinck, the music being by Albert Wolff, a young French composer. This opera, which will be sung in French, will be presented first at a special performance for the benefit and under the auspices of the French-Belgian and American relief committee for the restoration of Belgium.

Toscanavalle's "Zaza" in Italian and Tschickowsky's "Eugene Onegin," a lyric drama in three acts after the poem of Pushkin, also will be presented. Revivals announced will include "L'Italiana in Algeri," "La Juive," "Manon" and "Manon" "Parsifal" will be presented in English in a new translation by Henry E. Krebber. "Manon" will be given with the "Cours de La Reine" scene, never before presented here.

BIG CLASS AT JEFFERSON

Address by Dr. Rugh to Precede Tomorrow's Formal Opening

Preceding the opening of the Jefferson Medical College tomorrow for its ninety-fifth annual session there will be an address tonight in the clinical amphitheatre by Dr. J. Terrance Rugh, professor of orthopedic surgery. The trustees, faculty and students of the college will be present.

There will be an unusually large number of students in the classes at the opening tomorrow. In the freshman class there will be 140. The sophomore and senior classes will swell the total number of students to about 500.

UNCLE SAM AUCTIONS SURPLUS SEAPLANES

Navy Flying Boats and Machines, Some Stored Here, Being Sold in Washington

Want an airplane? The United States navy is selling 219 flying boats and seaplanes and 441 engines in Washington today.

The sale of the machines, of which 122 are stored in Philadelphia and Gloucester, N. J., is being handled by sealed bids. Proposals must be submitted to the Bureau of Supplies and Accounts, salvage and sales department section, Navy Department today.

Bids will be received on any quantity of seaplanes, flying boats or engines from one to the entire quantity. The appraised value of each flying boat, seaplane and engine is given in the schedule of sale. Awards will be made when the bids are above the appraised value. When bids are below the appraised value awards may or may not be made.

The class of planes stored at the naval aircraft factory here include a lot consisting of fifty-two H-13 seaplanes and twenty F-5-L. These are tractor seaplanes with an upper wing spread of ninety-five feet and an approximate speed of ninety-five miles per hour. They are four and five place machines and each will be fitted with two new 330-horsepower engines.

There also will be offered eighty-three H-8-2-L flying boats. These are pusher biplanes, upper wing spread seventy-three feet three inches, approximate speed ninety miles an hour. These are stored at South Brooklyn, N. Y.

Among the small machines to be sold are fifty aero-marine type 39-B seaplanes with single float. These are stored at the naval aircraft storehouse, Gloucester, N. J.

The 441 separate engines to be sold are in storage at the naval aircraft storehouse, Gloucester, N. J. The largest single lot consists of 250 Curtiss OXN-6 engines of 100 horsepower each, which are new.

NO LIGHTS FOR YORK ROAD

P. R. T. to Quit Giving Illumination on Willow Grove Lines

The P. R. T. has decided to stop lighting Old York road and the suburban highways over which the lines of the Glenside division are operated. The decision was made after the trolley company had spent $100,000 for more than twenty years in providing free lighting in that section. The action of the company has brought loud protests from residents.

It is said to be a matter of economy to the P. R. T. There's nothing, it is claimed, in the franchises under which the lines are operated to compel the P. R. T. to maintain a string of expensive arc lamps on the highways in question. And, the P. R. T. says, it is economizing in every line of expenditure in order to continue its five-cent fare system and to maintain its high rates of wages to employees. Five thousand dollars a year is said to be a small estimate of the cost of maintenance of the lighting system. Some suburbanites intimate that $10,000 would be nearer the correct amount.

BROKER SEWS IN JAIL

Wilmington, Del., Sept. 22.—James F. Shields, the well-known investment broker who was sent to the workhouse last week on a four years' sentence for larceny as bailer, is at work in the clothing shop of the prison.

He is running a sewing machine with skill and takes the prison life without a murmur.

Evening School of Accounts and Finance

The Demand for Trained Minds in Modern Business Is Unprecedented

The University Evening Courses are designed for two purposes. First, to give each student a thorough training in the detail and principles of his particular field of interest, be it finance, manufacturing, accounting or selling.

Second, to give the student a comprehensive and workable knowledge of the underlying principles of all business procedure as related to his particular position.

It takes years of experience to come into a practical knowledge of all the principles of business. An evening training equips the student to anticipate the opportunities and problems in every department of modern business.

Three distinct courses are offered: A General Business Course for those engaged in manufacturing, merchandising, banking, brokerage, insurance, advertising, real estate and financial enterprises.

An Accounting Course and allied subjects for men and women seeking preparation for a certificate as Certified Public Accountant.

A Special Course requiring two evenings a week. These groups cover the fields of Advertising, Salesmanship, Business Correspondence, Brokerage, Insurance—Life and Fire, Marine and Casualty Insurance; Economics, Real Estate, Industrial Relations and Employment Management, Corporate Taxes, Foreign Trade and Ocean Shipping.

Hear this famous Victor artist!

Extraordinary interest attaches to this McCormack recital because of the double opportunity it affords the music-loving public.

It is a privilege in itself to hear this great tenor, and added importance is given to the event in that it enables you to compare his wonderful voice with his Victrola Records.

Attend this concert and note the individual qualities that distinguish McCormack's magnificent voice. Then go to any Victor dealer's and hear the Victrola Records by McCormack. Note how faithfully his interpretations are portrayed on the Victrola.

It is because of this absolute fidelity that McCormack makes Victrola Records exclusively; that the greatest artists of all the world are exclusive Victor artists.
