

NEWS OF THE FINANCIAL WORLD NEW YORK AND PHILADELPHIA STOCK PRICES

CROSS CURRENTS KEPT PRICE MOVEMENTS RAGGED

Bearish Contingent Picked Up Some Courage on Appearance of Heavy Realizing and President's Illness

New York, Oct. 2.—The cross current which developed in today's market was to be expected in view of the almost uninterrupted advance movement extending over a period of nearly two weeks. Price movements were highly irregular, at times erratic and at other times confusing. Still, there was not to be found in any quarter of the list technical signs which might be called "technical weakness." On the whole, the undertone of the general list remained one of decided strength.

In other words, the market throughout the session was entirely governed by conditions within itself rather than by conditions without. It was technical conditions rather than news or circumstances or conditions that influenced the backing and filling.
