FINANCIAL BRIEFS

The average price of twenty active industrial stocks advanced .07 per cent yesterday to 111.19, while twenty railroads declined .46 per cent to $1.51.

As yet there is no great ebb in the speculative tide, though it is apparent some of the breadth has been lost. Cousidering the recent concentration of interest within a small number of selected issues, the slackening is slight enough. Altogether the characteristics of the market afford further testimony to the lack of liquidation by the so-called important interests.

How to Move Lumber.

"Seven-eighths of the lumber problem," said the Old Man, "is a transportation problem. With the worst car-shortage in history, and half of the workmen striking or threatening to strike, the great question is how to keep on getting lumber delivered at all. Here, Mr. Traffic-Man, tell us how you do it? Have you found out how to make one car do the work of three?" "No, not yet," said the traffic-man, with a grin-"not more than two, this year; but we're getting mighty good practice now. In 1920 I think we'll get up to three." "Glad to hear it," said the Old Man. "I'd like to keep a few of our customers satisfied, even if they do expect too much."

It's great in times like these to have a traffic department that with only half the cars needed can still keep lumber moving. Sometimes we fail to make prompt delivery-of course we do; the wonder, as any railroad man will tell you, is that in so many cases we succeed.

Some day you'll build. If you want the work fin-ished on time, see that the lumber comes from LLOYD. William M. Lloyd Company
