One hundred and sixty-six points were rolled by winning high, prep and academic football teams in the official opening of the scholastic season in Philadelphia and vicinity yesterday afternoon. But one losing team was able to score, Germantown Friends' getting six points in its three-point margin defeat by Ridley Park High.

Central High School pried the lid off its season's grid schedule with a whooping, ringing, screeching zowie. Five touchdowns, three by Fullback Eddows and the others by Left Halfback Harris, coupled with a pair of goals from touchdown by the latter for a grand total of 34 points, was the advantage piled up by the Crimson and Gold over Catholic High School. While Central High was considered a favorite in this match, the one-sided defeat suffered by Catholic High was rather a surprise.

Penn Charter Walloped

Another unexpected score and also victory was made by Lansdowne High School over Dick Merritt's Interacademic League championship Penn Charter eleven. The count was 34 to zero. Krall and Lyster each were responsible for a pair of touchdowns and Quarterback Willis went over for the other. Lyster added four more pointers by booting as many goals from touchdown.

Episcopal Academy, another Interacademic League entry, also finished on the short end of its opening game. Swarthmore High School, with Fricke, quarterback, as the star, shut out the Churchmen with two touchdowns. Just to prove that Fricke was speedy he made the first goal on a 20-yard run around end in the opening period, then in the third quarter he smashed through center for the other six-pointer.

West Philadelphia Catholic Cops

West Philadelphia Catholic High School, with its first football team in the school's history, started the season in the right direction. It trimmed Friends' Central, the third Interacademic League eleven to go down to defeat yesterday on Linaugh's 30-yard run for the only touchdown of the game.

Moorestown High School rolled up the record score for the day by bumping, basting and lambasting Mount Holly High to the tune of 43-0. Media High's reverse by Treddyffrin-Easttown High was the former's second defeat of the season. Yesterday's disappointing score was 21 to 0.

Strike one. Ball three. Strike two. Gandil singled through second just out of Kopf's reach. Risberg up. Ball one. Strike one. Ball two. Neale gathered in Risberg's fly near the foul line. No runs, one hit, no errors.

Ring was pitching magnificent ball, keeping the sphere on the corners of the plate, usually inside.

Seventh Inning

Roush up. Ball one. Strike one. Ball two. Roush out. Ed Collins to Gandil. It was an easy infield bounder. Duncan up. Strike one. Ball one. Weaver made a stop of Duncan's fast drive and got him at first with a pretty throw. Kopf up. Ball one. Kopf out, Risberg to Gandil. No runs, no hits, no errors.

Schalk up. Ball one. Strike one. Ring hit Schalk with the third pitched ball and the latter hurried to first. Cicotte up. Strike one. Cicotte lifted a high fly to Rath. Schalk holding first. Leibold up. Ball one. Strike one. Leibold hoisted to Roush, who had no trouble capturing it. Ed Collins up. Groh took Ed Collins's bounder and retired him with a throw to Daubert. No runs, no hits, no errors.

Eighth Inning

Neale up. Ball one. Strike one. Strike two. Cicotte threw out Neale at first. Wingo up. Wingo drove a single through the box, it rolling to center field. Ring up. Strike one. Ring again attempted to sacrifice, but missed the first ball. Ring forced Wingo, Cicotte to Risberg, who relayed the ball to Gandil, getting Ring and completing a double play. No runs, one hit, no errors.

Weaver up. Ball one. Ball two. Strike one. Foul, strike two. Rath made a grea trun and a great catch of Weaver's high fly near the foul line. Jackson up. Ball one. Strike one. Foul, strike two. Jackson dropped a high foul near the left-field line that none of the fielders could get to. Ball three. Jackson fanned, taking a terrific swing at the third strike. Felsch up. Strike one. Ball one. Strike two. Felsch swung at both of these but missed. Ball two. Felsch singled to left. It was a line drive. Gandil up. Ball one. Foul, strike one. Foul, strike two. Gandil fanned, the third strike being called. No runs, one hit, no errors.

Ninth Inning

Rath up. Ball one, strike one, ball two. Rath fouled to Schalk. Daubert up. Strike one. Jackson gathered in Daubert's fly. Groh up. Schalk got Groh's high foul by leaning over into the grandstand boxes. No runs, no hits, no errors.

Risberg up. Foul, strike one. Ring threw out Risberg at first. Schalk up. Strike one. Ball one. Ball two. Ball three. Schalk walked. Murphy batted for Cicotte, Murphy up. Murphy line flied to Roush. Schalk on first. Leibold up. Leibold lined to Groh. No runs, no hits, no errors.

Poor Fielding Is Factor in Defeat

speared the ball which brought cheers from even the rabid Sox rooters.

Jackson had a chance to do something but whiffed ingloriously. Felsch received the fading hopes of his teammates when he singled, but Gandil struck out and the stuff was off.

In the ninth Schalk walked, but he stuck on first base. Heine Groh ended the game by making a swell catch on Liebold's liner.

Fourth Game Starts

All's well. Morris Rath opened the game with a clean single to left, but Cicotte got by beautifully. Daubert hit into the fastest double play ever seen. Collins, Risberg and Gandil, retiring the runners before they were half way to their bases. Risberg's great running catch of Groh's liner also featured this inning.

The White Sox had a popping good time in their half of the inning. Leibold popped to Daubert, Eddie Collins popped to Rath and Weaver popped to Neale.

Cicotte appeared to have lots of stuff and the Reds could do nothing with his offerings in the second inning.

The White Sox opened up the second inning with a lucky two-bagger by Jackson. Joe hit the ball to short center and Rath went for it. Roush also ran for it, but neither could reach the falling sphere, and it dropped between them.

Then came another piece of questionable strategy. Happy Felsch was told to sacrifice, instead of trying to knock the ball out of the lot. He was thrown out on the bunt and Jackson went to third.

That put it up to Gandil, but the best Chick could do was to knock a high fly, which was caught by Groh. Moran wigwagged to Ring and Risberg and Schalk were passed, filling the bases. Cicotte hit a grounder back of first, which was fielded by Rath, and the inning was over.

The Reds went out in one-two-three order in the third.

Greasy Neale distinguished himself when he ran back almost to the right-field bleachers to pull down Liebold's long liner. Eddie Collins got hit in the back and went to second on Weaver's out. Morris Rath made a horrible mess of Jackson's grounder, Joe being safe at first and Collins taking third. Happy Felsch, who has been sacrificing so long that he has forgotten how to hit the ball, knocked a grounder to Groh, which ended the inning.

The lucky fourth was lucky for the White Sox because the Reds went out in order. It was the same for the Sox in their part of the inning.

Reds Tally in Fifth

Eddie Cicotte presented the Reds with the first run of the ball game in the fifth inning when he perpetrated two terrible errors. The first came when Duncan bounced one straight at him and the ball bounced out of his glove. In his haste to make the play at first Cicotte threw wild and Duncan went to second.

Kopf came through with a single to left, and Jackson, after fielding the ball, hurled it home, although Duncan made no effort to score. Cicotte made a half-hearted attempt to intercept the ball, and again it bounced out of his glove. Pat scored and Kopf went to second on the foozle.

But the end was not yet. Earle Neale lifted a high one over Jackson's head for a double, and Kopf came home with the second counter.

Heinie Groh got his team in trouble in the last half of the fifth when he made a two-base wild throw on Liebold's grounder. Nemo, however, was run down and tagged on the next play, and the danger was over.

Jimmy Ring pitched very good ball in the first five innings, allowing only one hit.

Support Saves Ring

There was nothing doing in the sixth. Rath, Daubert and Groh being thrown out on grounders.

The luck was with the Reds in the last part of the sixth. Jackson soaked a hard liner, which bounded into the hands of Kopf for an easy out and Felsch's terrible whack to left was captured by Duncan near the bleacher wall. Gandil managed to ease a single past Kopf, but Risberg flied to Neale, and another row of goose eggs went on the board.

Weaver's great stop on Duncan's grounder featured the seventh inning. The ball was hit with terrific force and almost knocked Buck off his feet, but he shot the ball over the first in time to get the runner. The others were easy outs.

Ring opened the last half of the seventh by hitting Schalk, but that was the only hit made in that frame. Instead of sacrificing, Cicotte popped to Rath and the other two batters were easy outs.

A pretty double play put a quietus to the Reds in the eighth. After one was out Wingo singled to center, and Ring, in an attempt to sacrifice, rolled the ball to Cicotte and the double killing resulted.

Ring was in rare form in the last part of the eighth, fanning Jackson and Gandil. Felsch singled, but was stranded on first.

The Reds were easy for Cicotte in the ninth. Rath fouled to Schalk. Daubert lifted to Jackson, and Groh fouled to Schalk.

Ring continued to pitch in great form and finished with a burst of speed. Risberg was easy for Ring and Daubert. Schalk walked, but Murphy, who batted for Cicotte, flied to Roush. The fourth game ended in a Red victory, the third of the series, when Leibold lifted a puny fly to Groh.

Four Games Played in 6 Hours and 33 Minutes

Four of the speediest games on record have been played in the world series of 1919. The total time consumed was only six hours and thirty-three minutes.

The first three games were only eight and one-half inning affairs and the fastest of those, yesterday's clash, required only one hour and thirty minutes.

The game today was the first full nine-inning fray of the series and required only one hour and thirty-seven minutes.

Archibald Campbell Dead

Lancaster, Pa., Oct. 4.—A cablegram received here this morning from Scotland announced the death of Archibald Campbell, internationally known silk manufacturer and president of a big silk manufacturing company in Columbia. He was seventy-two. In the winter time Mr. Campbell made his home in this city, but spent all of his summers in Scotland.

CICOTTE···

REVERSE ENGLISH HERO

Although Eddie Cicotte is a Chicago White Sox tosser, tonight he is Cincinnati's hero. Eddie allowed the first run of the game today to be scored when he made a faint hearted attempt to stop Joe Jackson's throw-in in the fifth inning. This is Cicotte's second defeat of the series which has anything to offer us." Davies said. "Most of us have been members of unions.

"A union man is in danger of being called out whenever any agitator gets inflamed with bolshevism, and has no redress against it."

Chairman Kenyon asked him if he'd seen any evidence of bolshevism in the strike.

"You've developed the doctrine among them right here," he said. "This talk about committees, the terrorism and intimidation, the condition at New Castle after they licked the police. The wrong education, the inflaming of these men is bolshevism at the crest."

"Don't you think the manufacturers, the steel employers, have some responsibility in the situation?" asked Chairman Kenyon.

"Shoot Them if Necessary"

"Sure they have," was the reply, "and the government should join with them; get the men out of the country; shoot them if necessary."

Davies discussed the union leaders. "They won't fight back the rabid element or the mob spirit," he asserted, "for fear of losing their jobs."

"President Gompers is president of the American Federation of Labor and has his job to hold," he continued. "He's quite gentle to Mr. Foster (W. Z. Foster, secretary of the strike committee). He showed that yesterday.

"Mr. Gompers is a conservative force, but he has tried to hold back radicals and failed."

Joseph Smith, another roller, from Homestead, Pa., said he made $22 to $24 a day. Strikers at Homestead, he said, "want eight hours and $8 a day."

"There has been no active campaign to get union members," he said. "They didn't let Americans in; told them to get out of the meetings and called them spies."

Smith said he had been a union worker, but did not intend to affiliate again.

"There's no need for it," he said. "I'm speaking facts and truth when I say there is never any trouble about getting complaints up to the superintendent and getting reasonable redress. Working conditions have improved wonderfully during the last seven years."

The committee adjourned to meet on call after the members present had voted to continue the inquiry at Pittsburgh.

Chairman Kenyon later announced that the trip to Pittsburgh would be taken whenever Senate debate on the league of nations would permit members to be absent from Washington for three days.

SNEAK THIEVES MAKE HAUL

Furs, Shoes, Suits, Skirts, Jewelry Vanish in All Parts of City

Sneak thieves have been active in Philadelphia within the last few days, judging from reports of thefts made to the police. At 4:30 o'clock this morning furs valued at $170 were stolen from the store of Louis Gold, 975 North Sixth street. The thieves broke the window with a brick to effect the robbery.

Yesterday afternoon shoes worth $108 were stolen from the shipping department of the James Edwards Company, 312-22 North Twelfth street. At 3:15 o'clock on Friday afternoon suits and skirts valued at $83 were stolen from Isaac Kupnick, 4022 Cambridge street by thieves. About 9 o'clock yesterday morning Mrs. Joseph Steinmetz, 2944 North Bonsall street, discovered some one had stolen jewelry worth $55 from the kitchen of her home.

George Fox, 1739 North Twenty-second street, a lodger, left his room door unlocked yesterday and found $49 worth of jewelry missing when he returned.

CHEER WAR HEROES AT POLICE CARNIVAL

Veterans Share Honors of Spectacular Display by Department Athletes

STAR ON TRACK AND FIELD

Shibe Park, Oct. 4.—Navy blue and army khaki mingled at Shibe Park this afternoon when 540 veterans of the war, all members of Philadelphia's "finest," drilled in the feature event of the fifteenth annual police athletic carnival. Superintendent Robinson and the Police Band led them.

Despite the threatening weather, more than 10,000 persons crowded the stands, making today's carnival one of the most successful ever staged here. All of the money taken in by the sale of tickets will be used for the benefit of the Police Pension Fund Association.

The military event was only one of many features which kept the crowds enthusiastic all during the afternoon. Boxing, track and field events were staged continually, the winners of each contest receiving the vociferous acclamation of the stands.

The military review started at 3:15 p. m., just an hour and a half after the first heat of the 100-yard dash, which opened the program.

The men were called to the assembling formation by the trill of an army bugle, sounded from one end of the field. As the first note echoed through the stand the crowd arose as a mark of respect to the men who had fought in the "world war."

Cheers for Wounded Heroes

Pandemonium broke loose as the vanguard of the column swung through the north end of the stand and started out upon the diamond. All evolutions known to the military manual were swung into with a snap and precision which spoke volumes for the training of the veterans.

It was the maimed, wounded and gassed, doubtboys on jobs, bearing upon their sleeves the gold chevrons, which marked their sacrifice, that stimulated the crowds to a cheering approval which lasted until the last man had disappeared from the field.

By far the most popular athletic event was the one-mile walk in which all of the contestants were compelled to wear the regulation police uniform. Patrolmen have never been seen to walk their beats with the alacrity with which they circled the grass at Shibe Park. As each man passed the stand he was cheered on by the roars of the crowds.

Laughter Mingles With Cheers

The most laughable event was the 100-yard dash for patrolmen weighing more than 250 pounds. Built like the massive Japanese wrestlers of ancient times, seven virtual "bulks" of the force came down the track lanes while the stands howled with glee. As Joseph W. Horton stumbled across the line, far in the lead, he received one of the biggest ovations of the afternoon.

The opening event of the afternoon was the first heat of the 100-yard dash. At that time there were probably 6000 persons on the stands. At the crack of the gun the men were off and were closely bunched at the finish. Robert Fouche, with a 7-yard handicap, leading by a scant foot.

The track started in deep center field and ran directly to the central stand, affording an excellent view of each sprint.

In the center of the field the boxing ring was erected. Bouts followed one another in rapid succession, all of them being closely contested by policemen, evenly matched at the manly art. There were no knockouts.
