SAMUEL MERWIN

who takes Henry Calverly through another stage of his career.

POETRY AND PASSION

tistic in Form and Acute

in Psychology

singleness of motif, unity of impression, speeding to inevitable climax through coherent and forwarding action. They are admirable as short stories in all

But they are more, for their author

teur to his task of psychologizing the Teuton, or perhaps a better way of put-ting it would be to say interpreting the sive studies and to witness some in

Doctor Kellogg says that the Ger mans have been made what most of them are today by a perverted and bru-talizing education. He sees some hope for them-and the world in which they must still form a part-in the future

Instead of carrying their old type of social organization and political attiimposing it on the rest of the world by force, they have now, for their own sake and the sake of human progress, to accept another type. I believe that with time they will see this and do it.

the deduction of his observations and

A Juvenile Despot

Lucy Fitch Perkins has written a delightful book about a delightful girl in despot of benevolent tendencies. She is a "naughty girl" who isn't really

But it will not be done in a day," teresting contrasts.

has penetrated deep into the inner educated Chinese.

Kathleen Norris

9 From the disillusionof her too-early narriage a girl returns to find her sister wedded to the man she loves. A sincere handling of a powerful theme.

Q Kathleen Norris's biggest novel. Net, $1.60 DOUBLEDAY, PAGE & COMPANY

HARBOR ROAD

Sara Ware Bassett

A story of homely folk on Cape Cod-with humor and pathos and a dramatic love story.

At All Booksellers. $1.50 net The Penn Publishing Company Philadelphia

BY TEMPLE BAILEY

604 THOUSAND ALL BOOK STORES - 11.60 PENN PUBLISHING CO. PHILADELPHIA

The Presbyterian Book Store

Everything Desirable in Books WITHERSPOON BLDG., Walnut, Juniper and Sansom Sts. Elevator to 2nd Floer.

FAMOUS DORAN AUTHORS

Mary Roberts Rinehart

-famous as a novelist, war correspondent and traveler, who wrote THE AMAZING INTERLUDE, K, LOVE STORIES and many others. Her name upon a book is now recognized by hundreds of thousands as the very best assurance of a delightful

DANGEROUS DAYS

Mrs. Rinehart has done her finest romance. brilliant, penetrating in its study of married life, wholesome and sound in its point of view. Not to have read this book is to have missed this famous writer's most sympathetic, clear-sighted story of modern American life. It is in its second hundred thousand-on its way to its third.

GEORGE H. DORAN COMPANY

Publishers

Short Stories From the Balkans

Translated by Edna Worthley Underwood

"By their stories ye shall know them."

Short of a visit to Rumania, Serbia, Montenegro, and the other troubled lands of that region, there is no way to get a better understanding of their peoples than by reading this, the first English translation of the tales by their present-day Kiplings, Mark Twains and Booth Tarkingtons. Take 'em just as stories. and they're good!

$1.50 Net

Marshall Jones Company

FAMOUS DORAN AUTHORS

Robert W. Chambers

is unapproached in his perfect blending of fascinating romance and daring adventure. As witness, LGRAINE, CARDIGAN, THE DANGER MARK and THE COMMON LAW. His latest novel is, in the words of the Chicago Tribune, "a regular old-time Robert W. Romance,"—a book which carries the excited reader on a death-defying race in a search for clues vital to the United States Government.

SECRET

Love, outdoor adventure, secret service and the remaking of a man through a woman's great faith, these are the qualities which make IN SECRET one of the very best

GEORGE H. DORAN COMPANY

Publishers

Mare Nostrum

By VICENTE BLASCO IBANEZ, Author of

The Four Horsemen of the Apocalypse, Blood and Sand, The Shadow of the Cathedral and La Bodega

The Publishers take the liberty of commending this marvelous new novel to every reader of The Philadelphia Public Legder.

$1.90. postage extra, E. P. DUTTON & CO. 681 Fifth Ave.,

HENRY CALVERLY III HAS NOW GROWN UP,

The Passionate Pilgrim," Is Latest in Samuel Merwin's Series

Grown to the stature and responsibilities of man's estate. Henry Calcerly III, has shed the callowness, not to say gaucherie, visible in the attributes and actions of the "Temperamental Henry," which delighted while they amused readers of the first of Samuel Merwin's trilogy, wherein he traces the "loves of Henry IX" from inception to feuition. "Henry is Twenty," the secend phrase of this lifelike study of outh, its idiosyncracies and charm gave ed a glimpse of what might be exected at the end of a few ripening years, when "The Passionate Pilgrim." which is the title of Mr. Merwin's latest view of a sensitive, warm-hearted, clean-minded, high-spirited, ourageous young man, is shown.

Temperamental weaknesses are dislayed in plenty by this attractive youth ; resolution at times when a less con-centious student of human nature than Mr. Merwin would have endowed his hero with implacable purpose; but i he end young Calverly conquers a complication of unlucky events by the sheet merit of character that rises superior to misfortunes which would daunt a meaner spirit. Inherent honesty joined to unmistak able talent and actual genius, of which the outward and visible signs were given 'Temperamental Henry.' are at ributes of the more mature Calverly "The Passionate Pilgrim." He is proved sterling metal under the neid test to which he is subjected, and followers of his levely history will retrials in this exciting episode of his nd garnished with a humor that is some. These stories of Abdullah ltogether pleasing. "The Passionate have their independent existence, fulis a worthy sequel to its filling the canons of short fiction, in

THE PASSIONATE PILGRIM. By Samuel Merwin, Indianapolis; Hobbs Merrill Com. 1807. $1.75.

What America Did

Unpreparedness, the slegan of the pessimist and occasionally of the indignant patriot, was not profound or grave enough to prevent the United States from a most effective and extensive accomplishment in the great war. Florence Finch Kelly, in "What America Did." gives a notable summary of the record of the national achievement in the prosecution and winning of the war. No phase is neglected-the army, the navy, the civilian lines at home, in dustry, welfare organizations, and other factors are described concisely and yet lluminatingly and inspiringly,

Mrs. Kelly went to the original sources for her facts and statistics, which are thus accurate and authori tative, and with the trained mind of the journalist and social worker has assembled the material into very read-As she points out, "the highest and best form of efficiency is the spontaneous co-operation of a free This was certainly proved by America's major and noble and notarole among the victorious Allies. WHAT AMERICA DID. By Florence Finch Kelly, New York; E. P. Dutten & Co. 12.

More Wilson Speeches

volumes containing his public addresses. royalties from the sale of the book are ministration. As a member of the C. to be paid over to the American Red R. B. his activities took him into Ger-Tries Triumph of IDEAS. By Woodrow more especially brought him into con-wilson. New York: Harper & Brothers.

Civics for the "Teens"

In "The Land of Fair Play." Mr. thus had opportunity to make inten-Geoffrey Parsons has prepared a book of civies for young people on an original scale and plan. He links up the funda. mentals of democracy and the elements of a republican form of government with the four-square principles of the playground and life of the average fair-dealing boy or girl. With this basis and analogies drawn from it the various phases of self-government, executive, administrative, legislative, municipal, state and national, are put before young readers in an immediately understandable way, and one that is as attractive as it is impressive.

THE LAND OF FAIR PLAY. By Geoffrey Parsons, New York: Charles Scribner's Bons, $1.25.

THE LIFE AND

LETTERS OF

JOHN HAY

"A permanent addition both to American his-tory and to American literature."

-Theodore Roosevelt in the Harvard

Graduate Magazine

OUR CITY'S STORY IN TEXT AND PICTURE DESCRIBED BY CREEL

J. St. George Joyce Narrates "Ireland's Fight for Freedom" the Chronicles of Philadelphia

In "The Story of Philadelphia" we icler, J. St. George Joyce, is a journalist of long experience, of much distinction in his chosen fields of endeuvor, tion" an agitator. an author with a long list of writings resident in Philadelphia as a student institutions.

has been attempted. Scharf and West-cott's three-volume work is, of course, In the three decades or so that have OF PELL STREET Stories of Chinatown Are Arlitical and literary development.

The very skilled and interesting writer who calls himself Achmed his most substantial contribution in his observed his most substantial contribution in his discussion of the modern era of Philacounterpart of "Limehouse Nights" in delphia, of which he has a first rate and as Mr. Creel's antecedents are unusual what is more to the point, first-hand for this kind of book, so the book itself trials in this exciting episode of his career.

The story is told in Mr. Merwin's asked annipsis of human qualities being true to nature and garnished with a humor that is

These stories of Abdutal in this exciting episode of his construction, or even a duplication are even a duplication, or even a duplication in the story is told in Mr. Merwin's graphic in the story is told in Mr. Merwin's graphic in the story is told in Mr. Merwin's graphic in the story is told in Mr. Merwin's graphic in the story is told in Mr. Merwin's graphic in the story down to date, even unto delphia history down to date, even unto delphia history down to date, even unto delphia history down to date, even unto its splendidly patriotic participation in the world war. His style is substantial, but graphic; his data have evidently been checked off accurately and are, line that has all the necessary where necessary supported by the profound presentation or elaborate surface.

The story is told in Mr. Merwin's graphic in the world war. His style is substantial, but graphic; his data have evidently been checked off accurately and are, line that has all the necessary where tions. beautifully bound and printed, is pro- the high points. He does not hark fusely illustrated, many of the cuts back to ancient prejudices, olden far being reproductions of old pictures not off things and battles long ago, but ousness of the Chinese trans-Albert G. Robinson, who for years Pell street live even more vividly than Burke, in "The Chink and the Child."

Old Doorways

from which Griffith drew his movie, the prefaces with an essay on doors and made the world even the prefaces with an essay on doors and the world even the prefaces with an essay on doors and of Canada's fight for dominion government. made the sordid cruel Limehouse dis-doorways. He reminds us that it was trict of London live in words. These not until the eighteenth century that plicable to Ireland, will be a revelation stories of Oriental guile, subtlety, pas- the colonists began to ornament the en- to American readers. Readers may not stories of Oriental guile, subtlety, passion, tragedy, above all poetry, are based on deep knowledge of psychology of a race which Americans know hardly of a race which Americans know hardly Carolina are to be found houses with to American readers. Readers may not agree with Mr. Creel's arguments, either in part or as a whole, but they will undoubtedly agree that he has at all. The opening story, which gives doorways of the same general type, the book its name, has some of the They came in with the Georgian era, enduring plot elements of Burke's "The which began in 1720. The colonial Chink and the Child" in its touching tale of an Oriental poet-soul and an Occidental girl. "The Hatchetman" is now understood. They were carpenters, and most of them got their ina grim chronicle of centuries old hatred spiration from a book of carpenters' against the changed psychology of an drawings by Batty Langley. This is supposed to explain the similarity of THE HONORABLE GENTLEMAN AND OTHERS. By Achined Abdullah. New York G. P. Putnam's Sons. 11.69.

Tork G. P. Putnam's Sons. 11.69. fond of the classical, for his pupils Psychologizing the Teuton

LD NEW ENGLAND DOORWAYS

Irish Fairy Tales

between February 24 and July 8, and peoples. From 1915 till very recently published it as the fifth in the series of he has been in close touch with Gerfaith in the wee people. And some of the tion. the brief remarks he made to the member of the American relief com-Non-Partisan League of Peace of the mission which has been working to feed sounding phrase and substantial sense. district of Columbia in Washington on Europe. He has also served as an Mr. MacManus has not wasted the time It is announced that all executive of the United States food ad- be diverted from his magnum opus, a monumental history of Ireland, now in careful preparation, to write these charming tales with their tang of the many before we entered the war and heart. Mr. MacManus in this delightgium and northern France. As a mem-ber of the A. R. C. his work has taken ful book has made a definite contribution both to folk lore and to literature. LO AND HELOLD YE' By Seumas Mac-Manus. New York: Frederick A. Stokes Company. $1.60.

Books Received

Fiction THE WILD GOOSE. By Gouverneur Morris. Charles Scribner's Sons. $1.75. DEADHAN HARD. By Lucas Malet. New York: Dodd, Mead & Co. $1.90. Vork: Dodd, Mead & Co. $1.90. Daskam; Bacon. New York: D. Appleton & Co. $1.80. SQUARE PENDA.

Bacon New York: D. Appleton & Co.

1.00

THE WONDERFUL WORLD OF REALITY.
By E. Temple Thurston. New York: D.

THE WONDERFUL WORLD OF REALITY.
By E. Temple Thurston. New York: D.

CHALMERS COMES EACK. By W. J.

Dawson.
Dawson.
Dawson.
THE BEACH OF DREAMS. By H. De Vere Stacpools. New York: John Lane ComStacpools. THE BESON: New York: John Land Baccoole. New York: John Land pany. 31.60. IN APPLE BLOSSOM TIME. Beston: Houghton Mifflin Co. 11.65. THE HAPPY END. By Joseph Horges-beliner. New York: Alfred A. Knopf. helmer. New York: Alfred A. Knopf.
11.75
THE SINISTER REVEL. By Lilian Barrett. New York: Alfred A. Knopf.
CONSEQUENCER. By E. M. Delinfeld. New York: Alfred A. Knopf. 12.
THE TAIRED A. Knopf. 12.
THE TAIRED A. Knopf. 13.
THE MIDDLE TEMPLE MURDER. By J.
Fletcher. New York: Alfred A. Knopf.
11.60

Juvenile

THE RAISIN CREEK EXPLORING PARTY By Ernest Ingersoil. New York: D. Appleton & Co. $1.50.
THE SUN OF QUERBEC. By Joseph A.
Altsheler. New York: D. Appleton &
Co. $1.50.
WATTY & CO. By Edward Hall Putnam.
New York: Macmillan Company. $1.75. General

THE LEAGUE OF NATIONS: ITS PRIN-CIPLES EXPLAINED. By Theodore Mar-burg. New York: Macmillan Company. CIPLES EXPLAINED. By Incodore Marburg. New York: Macmilian Company. 75 cents.

BUDDY HALLADS. Songs of the A. E. F. By Berton Braley. New York: George H. Doran Company. $1.25.

LITERATURE WITH A LARGE L. By MacGregor Jenkins. Boston: Houghton Muffin Company. $1.

BUSINESS INSPIRATIONS. By Christian D. Largon. New York: Thomas Y. Crowell.

IRELAND'S CAUSE

a Full and Eloquent

Statement

"Ireland's Fight for Freedom" has have an admirable compendium of the the decided advantage over most books notable annals of our city-the "City on one of the most burning world of Homes," "The Quaker City," the problems of both yesterday and today, 'Birthplace of Liberty," Penn's and maybe of tomorrow, that it is not 'greene countrie towne." The chron- written by an Irishman or by what is somewhat loosely called by opponents of "home rule" or "self-determina-George Creel, the author, is a trained to his credit, and one for many years investigator and journalist, a publicist of experience and vision and a man of its history and an observer of its fearless in the furtherance of the right. It has been a long time since a his-tory of Philadelphia on a broad scale American not merely by the accident of birth, but by all the inspirations and implications of Americanism. He is invaluable for source material, but it is not a one generation American, but very voluminous and detailed; besides derives back to an ancestry almost takes the story not much farther than pioneer. His work, of great energy, ne centennial. John Russell Young's competency and value, during the war Memorial History" is also very dif- as chairman of the United States com use and ends with the bicentennial. mittee on public information, is well remembered. His sense of news led clapsed Philadelphia has moved with him, on the termination of the Peace giant strides, industrially, commercially Conference, to fathom the big world and in other ways. It has written "story" in Ireland, and without an new pages in its civic, educational, powith the reporter's function of "getting Mr. Joyce, who starts with the car-liest settlers and devotes ample space of investigation of troubled Erin. Apto the Founder, the colonial, revolu- parently what he saw and heard led him

The book, a handsome quarte, data and citations, but which plays up hitherto printed.

THE STORY OF PHILADELPHIA. By J. St. George Joyce Philadelphia: Harry Joseph, Publisher Philadelphia: Harry however, both past and present. Hi has really modernized the Irish situahowever, both past and present. His conclusion, as to the future, is that Ireland should have self-determination and that an independent Ireland will consciousness of the Chinese trans-planted in New York. He has made has been collecting photographs of old for England and the world. He conproduced an informing and stimulating work.

IRELAND'S FIGHT FOR FREEDOM. B. George Creel. New York: Harper & Bros. $2.

For Boy Scouts

Red-blooded Boy Scouts will find such to thrill and also to instruct in "Boy Scouts in the Wilderness." Samuel Scoville, Jr., tells a story of Corinthian pillar and pilaster with a cynical about the value of scout training corresponding pediment as the basis for to boys put it to a test. He challenged It is perhaps as safe as it is fair to all their designs, a style which con- a camp of scouts to send two of their ble role among the victorious Allies.

Mrs. Kelly has told the story well. It is no other American is better qualified than Dr. Vernon Kellogg to worthy of permanent possession as a chronicle, record and analysis of one of the great eras in our national life.

WHAT AMERICA DID. By Florence Finch was a composite to a camp of scouts to send two of their times in popularity to the present day. Mr. Robinson's book will interest architects and all other persons who can about the artistic achievements of our ancestors.

OLD NEW ENGLAND DOORWAYS. By the continues in popularity to the present day. Mr. Robinson's book will interest architects and all other persons who can about the artistic achievements of our ancestors. test they were to receive a camp in his great wilderness, and he was to pay them double the value of anything they found. How the two scouts lived in the woods, the dangers and difficulties they The Harpers have collected in a book the speeches made by President Wilson between February 24 and July 8, and between February 24 and July 8, and between February 25 and July 8, and between February 26 and July 8, and between February 26 and July 8, and between February 27 and July 8, and between February 28 and July 8, and between February 29 and July 8, and between February 20 and Jul Irish fairy tales, of course, are the woodcraft of their organization, and the

Idle Rhymes

Frank R. Heine has penned some good-humored and at times cleverly constructed versicles in "The Jumble Book of Rhymes." They verge from peat smoke and their Irish warmth of sentiment to sentimentality, and from comedy to satire. Among the topics treated are the war, prohibition, soldiering, and especially girls.

THE JUMBLE OF RHYMES. By Frank R Heine. Asheville, N. C.: Hackney & Monle Co. $1.

Following is a list of accessions to the Free Library of Philadelphia. Thirteenth and Locust streets, for the week ending Oc-tober 2, 1919.

Manual."

(lausen-Thue W.—"A B C Code."

Creel, George— Ireland's Fight for Free. n." Dunne, F. P.—"Mr. Dooley on Making ; tions, Pyle, W. L.— Manual of Personal Hygiene, Ross, Joseph— Waterproofing Engineering."

Sandiford, Peter-"Comparative Educa tion." Wiley, H. W.—"Beverages and Their Adulteration." Fiction

ains.

Dawson, W J.— Chaimers Comes Back.
Day, Holman.— Rider of the King Log.
Dell, E. M.— Larme in the Dearet.
Fletcher J. S.— Middle Temple Murder.
Franer. W A.— Bulldor Carney.
Glbbs, Philip.— Street of Adventure.
Grave. Oscar.— Youth Goes Seeking.
Kaye-Smith, Shelis.— Four Roads.
Kelland, C. B.— Little Moment of Hapiness."

icas.

Kilbourne, Fannie— "Retiv Bell."
Lane Jeremy— "Yellow Men Sleep."
Lynde, Francis— "David Vallory."
McCutcheon, G. B. "Sherry."
Macfariane, P. C.— "Exploits of Bilge and Ma.

Mackay, I. E.—'Mist of Morning.'

Morley, Christophee—'In the Sweet Dry and Dry.'

Oemler, M. C.—'Woman Named Smith,
Pahlow, Gertrude—'Glory of Going OnRichardson, Norval—'World Shut Out.'

Rickard, Mrs. Victor—'House of Cour

PHILADELPHIA AND IRELAND IN NEWEST BOOKS -NEW BOOKS-GOOD BOOKS

Deadham Hard: a Romance

By Lucas Malet The talented author of "Sir Richard Calmady" may always be counted upon to give her admirers an intellectual treat. Her new story will not prove disappointing. It is a splendid example of what a well-constructed novel should be.

Tharon of Lost Valley By Vingie E. Roe

Author of "The Maid of the Whispering Hills," etc. If you like a novel abounding in swift action; one in which events crowd upon each other, you must be sure to read this story of lawless cattle rustlers who are finally brought to book by a heroine of unusual accomplishments. Illustrated, $1.60

The Disturbing Charm By Berta Ruck

Readers by the thousand who enjoyed "His Official Fiancee" and other books of this author will be entertained by her new novel. Written in her usual vivacious manner, it details the love affairs of a group of people, all of whom become victims of a sercet germ of mischief and delight: "the disturbing charm." Illustrated, $1.60.

Christopher Laird

By Sidney McCall

Author of "Truth Dexter," etc. A story of plain folks-good Americans. The scene moves from the Carolina mountains to a small Virginia city. No scandal, no problem-just a clean, wholesome story which will please all. "Chris" Laird is one of the most lovable characters of recent

Shasta of the Wolves

By Olaf Baker

Shasta, an Indian baby lost in the woods, is adopted by a shewolf and brought up with her cubs. His adventures make a story of the big North Woods and its untamed denizens which the publishers believe will take high rank among American nature stories. With attractive color illustrations by Charles Livingston Bull. $1.75

The Truth about China and Japan

By B. L. Putnam Weale Author of "The Fight for the Republic of China," etc. The author has lived in China since childhood and for over twenty years has occupied high advisory positions in the Chinese Government. His very timely book presents China's case in a fearless manner. It should be read by all who aim to keep up to date on current affairs.

The Children's Life of the Bee

By Maurice Maeterlinck Maeterlinck's masterpiece has been found easily adaptable for younger readers. Honey gathering; the life of the hives-all the active life of these busy insects is described for children in language at once simple and sublime. Beautiful illustrations in color. $2.00

The Young Marooners

By F. R. Goulding

A new, illustrated edition of this boys' story of the Florida Coast, which has been a favorite for many years.

Publishers—DODD, MEAD & COMPANY—New York

FAMOUS DORAN AUTHORS

W. Somerset Maugham

wrote OF HUMAN BONDAGE, a book which startled the world and announced the arrival of a new and original genius. Mr. Maugham, in addi-tion to being a successful playwright, has come to be recognized as one of the greatest living English novelists. His new novel

Samuel Scoville, Jr., tells a story of how a millionaire lumber king who was Corinthian pillar and pllaster with a covint and pllaster with a covint in the classical, for his pilipins Samuel Scoville, Jr., tells a story of how a millionaire lumber king who was the covint in the classical, for his pilipins Samuel Scoville, Jr., tells a story of how a millionaire lumber king who was the covint in the classical, for his pilipins Samuel Scoville, Jr., tells a story of how a millionaire lumber king who was the covint in the classical, for his pilipins Samuel Scoville, Jr., tells a story of how a millionaire lumber king who was the covint in the classical for his pilipins Samuel Scoville, Jr., tells a story of how a millionaire lumber king who was the covint in the classical for th is already the outstanding book of the season. This audacious story of a stockbroker turned artist has been called a "new kind of novel"—an extraordinary piece of work; it is out of the beaten paths in subject, told with an amazing gusto, full of sparkling phrases and observations on life. It charms by its style and challenges the intellect at every turn. A book which no discriminating reader can afford to

GEORGE H. DORAN COMPANY

Publishers

Theodore Roosevelt's

Letters to His Children Edited by Joseph Bucklin Bishop Illustrated with picture letters by Col. Roosevelt. $2.00.

The Powers and Aims of Western Democracy

By Wm. M. Sloane Professor of History,

A discussion by America's most eminent historian of the 3 closely related problems of nationality, democracy, and the chances of enduring peace under the democratic system. $3.50.

The Principles of My Italian Year Playmaking By Joseph Collins By Brander Matthews A gossipy analysis of the Ital-Studies in The Simplification ian temperament, aims and poli-By Brander Matthews of Scenery, The Conventions of the Music Drama, etc. $1.60. long-time lover of Italy. $2.50. CHARLES SCRIBNER'S SONS FIFTH AVE. AT 48 ST. NEW YORK new collection of highly original and beautiful poems by one who has already written some of the best contemporary English poetry. Here are short poems done in the manner of the vivid Japanese hokku, love poems, poems of nature and of war, as well as a brilliant group of fantastic epigrams. It is a book full of variety and enchantment, revealing the new spirit in American

PICTURES OF THE

WORLD

Other Books by Amy Lowell

CAN GRANDE'S CASTLE $1.50 MEN. WOMEN AND GHOSTS $1.50 TENDENCIES IN MODERN AMERICAN POETRY. II-SWORD BLADES AND POPPY SEED $1.50 $1.50 lustrated. SIX FRENCH POETS $1.50 flustrated. $2.50 A DOME OF MANY-COL-ORED GLASS $2.50

"Not since the Elizabethans has such a mastery of words been reached in English"

THE MACMILLAN COMPANY

New Poems

Amy Lowell

THE LIFE

AND TIMES OF

CAVOUR

-Theodore Roose-veit in The Outlook.

HOUGHTON MIFFLIN COMPANY

WILLIAM ROSCOE THAYER'S

THEODORE

ROOSEVELT

AN INTIMATE BIOGRAPHY

The name Theodore Roosevelt is never heard with indifference. Living, he held the world's attention; and his life story cannot fail to thrill. Give such material to America's leading biographer and Roosevelt's life-long friend, and the result is the biography of the decade; a book that illuminates the character and career of this great master-builder of American history as they have never been illuminated before. No book of the year will be more read and discussed.

BOSTON AND NEW YORK

please older readers, as well as young CORNELIA By Lucy Fitch Perkins. Bos-ton: Houghton Mifflin Company. $1.25.

garet Mayo, the playwright, author of "Baby Mine" and a former actress, gives a graphic and gripping account of her experiences with a unit of A. E. F. entertainers. Her outfit was so constantly in advanced areas that it was known as "Mayo's Shock Troupe, a name which disconcerted Miss Mayo's naughty at heart. She is of an investigating frame of mind, and doesn't flinch at hazards. In fact, she'd rather be sorry than safe if the sorrow has compensation in thrills or interest. The many scrapes her tem-perament leads her to and into will

Shock Troops In "Trouping for the Troops" Mar-

aged mother, till she was told it referred to hazards and not morals. It is a lively and observant narrative. ROUPING FOR THE TROOPS. By Mar-gard Mayo. New York: George H. Doran Company, $1.25.

a Perkins has written a de-about a delightful girl in Cornelia is a juvenile revolent tendencies. She is girl! who len! tendencies Grace Sartwell Mason. New York: D. Appleton & Co. $1.60.

D. Larson. New York: Thomas Y. Crowell.
THEODORE ROOSEVELT. A blography. By William Roscos Thayer. Boston: Houghton Mifflin Company. 15. Boston: Houghton Mifflin Company. 15. Boston: Houghton Mifflin Company. 15. By Houghton Mifflin Company. 15. By William Vinguate Sewall. New York: Harber & Brox. 11.25.
His TRUTH AROUT CHINA AND JAPAN. Hy B. 1. Pulmam Wesle. New York: Dodd. Mean & C. Tiji S. CORRESPONDENCE OF NICHOLAS HIDILE. Edited by Registed C. Me. Grans. Boston: Houghton Mifflin Company. 34.

volumes containing his public addresses. The new book opens with the address delivered in Boston on his return from Europe on February 24 and it concludes the brief remarks he made to the later in their hour of humiliation as a later in the wee people. And some of the later in the wee people and some of the later in the wee people and some of the later in the wee people and some of the later in the wee people and some of the later in the wee people and some of the later in the wee people and some

At the Free Library

Miscellaneous Campbell Lorn-'Oxy-acetylene Welding Dunne, P. F. ar Dunny on Making a Will.

Will.

Dwiggins, C. V.—"School Days."

Faris, J. T.—"Seelng Pennsylvania";

"Harvard Classics," fifty volumes,

Henderson, Daniel—"Greatwithouse,

Ostrander, Isabel—"Twenty-siz Clues."

Peddle, J. B.—"Construction of Graphical Charts."

Penniman, J. H.—"Book About the English Bible."

Fowers, H. H.—"America Among the Nations."

Akins, Zoe- "Cake Upon the Waters," Aumonier, Stacy- "The Querrils," Besseell, J. P. — Paid Out, Birmingham, G. A. — "Our Casualty and ther Stories," Bower, Marian— "Chinese Puzzle," Buckrose, J. E. — Matriage While You Vait." Walton, Chekhov—"The Bishop and Other Countries on J. S.—"Simon." Cunningham. A. B.—"Singing Moun-

Ridsout, H. M.—"Siamese Cat."
Safroni-Middleton, A.—"Gabrielle of the Barry ... "Mufti."

"Bapper" -- "Mufti."

"Bapper" -- "Mufti."

"Bapper Low -- "Barbara of Baltimore."

Traylor E. H.—"Barbara of Baltimore."

Traylor Low -- "Bartlett Mysley."

Vanards. Variak—"Bomething Doing."

Van Loon. "B.—"Taking like Count."

Van Loon. "B.—"Taking like Count."