

1 KILLED; 7 HURT IN STREET FIGHTS

Patrolman Dead After Revolver Battle With Participants in Dice Game

MERCHANT FIGURES IN FRAY

A negro patrolman was shot and killed and seven men were wounded during the course of street fights downtown yesterday morning.

The patrolman, Charles Jones, 1228 Lombard street, who was in plain clothes at the time, was shot by participants in a dice game under an awning at Thirteenth and Rodman streets.

When the patrolman ordered the players to quit and come with him, one of the men drew a revolver and fired. As he fell, the patrolman drew his own revolver and fired twice. Both bullets took effect. The gamblers returned the fire, this time striking Jones in the abdomen. He died almost immediately.

Charles Miller, who is said to have shot Jones, was shot through the chest and his brother Elijah, who ran to the back. They were captured and are being held without bail.

Merchant Held by Police

Julius Haffel, fifty years old, a merchant at Front and Reed streets, is alleged to have shot two young men whom he said had been tormenting him and also wounded a passerby.

John Bender, 1422 South Howard street, and George Ratauski, 1335 South Hancock street, said to be the ring-leaders in a gang of young men who tormented the shopkeeper, were shot and treated at Mount Sinai Hospital.

Henry Rogers, 1312 South Howard street, a sailor, was accidentally shot by Haffel as he rounded the corner. Haffel was held in $1000 bail for a further hearing.

Harry Bell, 714 South Eleventh street, and Joseph Latchman, 2145 South Lawrence street, were shot during the outbreak of an Italian feud in front of Bell's home. William Russo, 533 Pine street, was arrested and charged with the shooting.

SUIT ASKED TO OUST EX-CONVICT POLICE

Patrolmen's Association Finds Only Taxpayer Not on Force Can Act

Wanted—One taxpayer who will help in the effort to oust four ex-convicts from the police force and thus assist in uplift. Apply to Patrolmen's Benevolent and Protective Association.

The Patrolmen's Benevolent and Protective Association, finding that police-men are unable to act for the removal of the four men who have served terms in Moyamensing Prison for assault upon two sailors, locked in cells at the Eleventh and Winter streets station, want some taxpayer to file complaint with the Civil Service Commission.

The commission can take cognizance only of charges made by a taxpayer.

The reinstated policemen are Edward Bellershe, Edward Keegan, John Weaver and Sherman H. Clark. During their incarceration they were carried on the police records as "being granted leave of absence without pay."

Hit by Auto: Skull Fractured

An automobile driven by Walter McCullen, 3130 Wokal street, was overturned last night and McCullen seriously injured when it collided with a car driven by Dr. William Samuelli, 528 Pine street, at Somerhill avenue, near the Northeast boulevard. McCullen was taken to Frankford, where he was found to be suffering from a fracture of the skull.

M'LAUGHLIN 'LOSES OUT' WITH BIG SISTERS; BATH IS CAUSE

Women Incensed When Director Admits He Could Not Attend Meeting Because He Was in Tub

In the experience of Mrs. Marion I. C. Polak, politicians have often made promises that they failed to keep after election, but never had she heard of a politician making a promise and breaking it before election.

Joseph S. MacLaughlin, director of supplies, broke the precedent yesterday by contentedly spitting around in a tub at 7 o'clock in the afternoon, the appointed hour for a big meeting of the Big Sisters. Two hundred and fifty of them were waiting at 1620 North Broad street to hear the candidate's plans for the regeneration of Philadelphia.

Gets a Cold Reception

"Miss Cecelia P. Bass, the lawyer, who is a member of the National Woman's party and a vice president of the Big Sisters, went to meet Mr. MacLaughlin and was told that no meeting was scheduled at Fifty-third street and Raverford avenue for yesterday afternoon, but that there would be one in the evening. Then she went to the director's home and received an absolutely cold reception.

"The woman who answered the door let Miss Bass stand outside while she went inside. After a while she returned with the word that Mr. MacLaughlin was very sorry, but he would be unable to keep his appointment. Altogether, Miss Bass had spent an hour and a half on the job."

No reason was given at the time. You see, it would have been embarrassing. It only leaked out last night when Mr. MacLaughlin was asked to explain, that the reason he had not kept the date and had not made his own apology was because he was—well, he was in the tub. Three o'clock Sunday afternoon? For a fact!

"Never," says Mrs. Polak, "have I known of a politician to break a pre-election promise before election, although I have very often known of their breaking pre-election promises after the election."

"Will we invite him next month? Well, you know, he might want to take another bath."

Don't Want to Take Sides

The Big Sisters, an organization that has been in existence for three or four years, had thrown their weight of influence to the Moore side of the campaign in an effort to defeat the Vars state, and in the primaries succeeded in diverting a considerable number of votes down in the Vars districts. But when Vars was defeated they decided that they did not want to take sides in an election in which two first-class citizens were running for Mayor.

Doctor Polak called on Mr. MacLaughlin some time ago and invited him to speak to the Big Sisters on Sunday afternoon.

"When I called him up," said Doctor Polak this morning, "he told me he had another engagement for that time, but that he would like to fix it so that he could keep both dates. So we arranged to meet him at Fifty-third street and Haverford avenue, where he was scheduled to speak first and drive him to North Broad street, where he was to tell the Big Sisters his plans for the regeneration of Philadelphia.

BYRN MAWR OVAL DRAWS CHILDREN

Many Events for Little Ones at Horse Show Starting Wednesday

SOCIAL AFFAIRS NUMEROUS

The Bryn Mawr Horse Show, which opens Wednesday, will be the central point around which scores of teas, luncheons and dinners will revolve. Youngsters will be conspicuous in the tankard oval this year. There will be a class for pony jumpers and combination class catering, particularly to the youthful enthusiasts.

Important parts in the program will be taken by ladies' hunters and by saddle horses. Among the entries are jumpers devoted especially to the side-saddle, and there are other classes for women's mounts in which the side-saddle is not required.

As an instance of the versatility of the society women who will participate, many will appear both in the side-saddle and the cross-saddle events.

In the combination pony class the diminutive mounts are to be shown first under the saddle and then harnessed, unassisted, by their child riders in the ring and shown as harness ponies.

Among the youngsters scheduled to appear are Miss Dorothy Clothier, Miss Pauline Mann, Thomas B. Wanamaker, Miss Esther D. du Pont, Miss Mary B. du Pont, Miss Eleanor Morris, Wilbur Paddock Klapp, Jr., Victor C. Mather, Jr., Miss Alma Wanamaker, Miss Peggie Stout, Miss Becka Stout, Miss Catherine B. Clothier, Miss Ethel Jane Hughes, Miss Mary Clothier, Miss Doris L. Stewart, Hardie Scott and Francis Lieber.

Included among the maids and matrons who will be seen in the oval are expected to be Miss Isabella Wanamaker, Miss Constance Vauclain, Miss Katherine Peace, Miss Janice Liggott, Mrs. William du Pont, Miss Marion du Pont, Miss Alexandria B. Dolan, Miss Helen Hitchcock, Mrs. Charles A. Munn, Jr., Mrs. William J. Clothier, Mrs. Alexander Coxe Yarnall, Miss Alice Liggott, Mrs. Robert E. Strawbridge and Mrs. Robert L. Gerry.

MAN CARRYING KNIFE HOLDS UP WOMAN

Screams Bring Patrolman and Others to Her Aid—Stranger Subdued After Struggle

Miss Louise Phillips, on her way from church to her home, 4279 Grison street, Frankford, last night, was startled by the sudden appearance of a well-dressed man who carried a knife in his hand. Her screams brought Patrolman Nowicki to the spot, accompanied by several men.

The man refused to surrender when the policeman called to him and was not placed under arrest until after a hard struggle.

When taken before Magistrate Costello today in the Frankford police court the prisoner said he was Michael Javous. He insisted that he had no home and that he had been in prison at one time in Massachusetts.

Magistrate Costello sent him to the House of Correction for six months.

CHRISTENING CAUSES FIGHT

Father and Grandfather Pay Fine of $25 Each in Camden

The christening of a three-weeks-old child caused a dispute in Camden last night which resulted in the baby's father and grandfather being fined for attacking a third man.

Jacob Heifele and Jacob Heifele, Jr., 455 North American street, this city, were defendants before Recorder Stackhouse in Camden today, and each was fined $25 for alleged assault on Edward Hoesy, 216 North Twenty-ninth street, Camden.

During the argument Heifele, Jr., is said to have struck Hoesy, who ran to the street. There he was attacked by the elder Heifele, it was stated.

PLAN SOLDIERS' MEMORIAL

Paschallville to Erect $3000 Shaft to Its 400 Men

Citizens of the Paschallville district centering around Seventy-first street and Woodland avenue, will erect a $3000 shaft in memory of the 400 men from the vicinity who were in the military service.

The money has been raised through the joint efforts of the Paschallville Victory Association and its ladies' auxiliary. All summer they have held carnivals, street parties and clam-bakes and have received many voluntary subscriptions.

Towels Will Be No Lower in Price for a Long Time to Come

Flax from which the linen huck is made is scarce, and with the tremendous demand for all kinds of linens there is little likelihood of lower costs for some time to come. You will find our stocks complete and prices as low or lower than elsewhere.

Cotton Huck Towels with hemmed ends and tape border, 18x 26 inches—35c each.
Half-linen Towels with hemstitched ends, 20x38 inches—50c each.
Extra-heavy Half-linen Imported Huck Towels, 19x36 inches; these Towels have an unusually fine finish and would be good values at 90c each; our price 75c.
A Pure Linen Towel for 75c! Where else can such be bought in the city? Hemstitched ends, size 18x35 inches.
The famous Webb Dew Bleach Towels in plain and fancy weaves; hemstitched ends, with or without border. These are made in Belfast, Ireland, by a concern which specializes in fine Towels only. We have a good assortment, and the price range is from $1.25 to $2.25.
Guest Towels in part-linen huck, 40c each; all-linen with hemstitched ends, plain or designed borders, 60c to $1.25 each.

There Is Much That Is Lovely and Practicable in the New Neckwear for Women

Vests are much worn with the autumn suits, and we have three models of very fine imitation duvetyne in mouse-brown, biscuit and tan. One style opens down the front and has a smart one-button collar which stands erect with its corners either "picadilly" or turned down—$6.25. Another has a panel vest with a cord-embroidered motif and flat collar—$6.75. Or one may have a jaunty little affair in a jockey effect with an odd five-button closing, for $4.25.

Real Filet Collars for square-neck dresses—$5.75; other shapes, $3.15.

The whole frock may be changed in effect by a clever combination of vest and fichu. We have an unusually good value at $3.25, for the finish is a delicate corded inverted scallop and the material fine net.

A particularly charming combination of old-fashioned applique work is of Val lace and embroidered ecru batiste—one of the prettiest conceits the season has produced; Square Collars, $6.85; Straight Collars, $3.85; Cuffs to match, $3.85 pair.

For wear over velvet nothing could be more youthful and chic for the young girl than a Double Fichu of dotted net in real 1830 style; price $5.50.

Collar-and-Cuff Sets of eyelet embroidery from $4.15 to $5.00.

The most famous musical instrument in the world

Victrola fame is based on Victrola quality. More people all over the world have wanted and have bought the Victrola than any other musical instrument of its type. Because the Victrola brings to them the greatest music by the greatest artists. Because it covers the whole field of music—it may be a violin, a band, a piano, a voice, at will. Because the Victrola is supreme in fidelity and beauty of tone. Because of all instruments the Victrola is the most completely responsive to every varying mood.

And it is the instrument which the world's greatest artists have selected as the best. It is the instrument selected by music-lovers throughout the world as the best. It is certainly the instrument which you will want for your home.
