

MOORE NOT READY TO PICK CABINET

Declares He Will Not Consider Any Appointments Until After Election

DENIES CAREY'S SELECTION

Congressman Moore announced today he would not consider any cabinet appointments until after election. He added he was not even open to suggestions nor would he be until after the mayoralty campaign.

Mr. Moore's statement was in answer to a rumor that he had selected James A. Carey, anti-Vare leader of the fifth ward, to be director of public safety.

"I am not going to deny foolish rumors," said Congressman Moore. "Neither will I give thought now to unselected suggestions. I cannot control the sayings of other people."

"I will positively not consider appointments or suggestions until after I am elected. I have no thought now other than to carry through the campaign started at the primaries."

Mr. Carey declined to discuss the rumor.

Kendrick to Direct Committee

The committee which will conduct the campaign of Congressman Moore for the mayoralty will be known as the Moore united Republican campaign committee. This was announced today by Myrdock Kendrick, who was chairman of the Moore campaign committee during the primary fight and who will direct the new committee.

Use of the word "united" is the significant feature of the new committee title. Its members will include representatives of the Republican city committee, Republican Alliance, committee of one hundred and the Town Meeting party.

Headquarters for the Moore united Republican campaign committee were opened on the first floor of the Lincoln Building, corner of South Penn Square and Broad street.

In these headquarters will meet the new Moore war board on which representatives of the Republican Alliance, the Town Meeting party, the committee of one hundred and the Republican city committee will be invited to sit.

It was pointed out that these new headquarters served during the primary battle as the headquarters for the service men's committee which supported Judge Patterson, the mayoralty candidate of the Vare-controlled city committee. Senator Vare has his offices on the seventh floor of the Lincoln Building.

Child Burned at Bonfire in Camden

While looking on as neighbors burned leaves early today Vevanna Nassi, four years old, of 143 Boyers court, Camden, stepped too near one of the fires and her dress became ignited. A man passing in an automobile saw the accident. He wrapped the child in his coat, put out the flames and carried her to Cooper Hospital. She is in a serious condition.

ITALIAN NAVAL MEN TO BE GUESTS TONIGHT

Admiral Conz and Other Battleship Officers Will Be Honored at Banquet

Admiral Conz and the officers of the Italian warship Conte di Cavour will be guests at a banquet tonight at the Bellevue-Stratford. The Italian ambassador and Governor Sprout are expected to be among those present.

The officers will be entertained tomorrow night by the members of American Legion Post No. 50 at a dance and reception to be given under the auspices of the War Community Service in the Ship and Tent Club, Twenty-third and Christian streets.

Post No. 50, of which Miss Margaret Thomas is chairman, is the women's post, with a membership of more than 600.

Admiral Conz and his staff will visit Chester on Friday. They will be met at the station by the Italian-American school children and a troop of cavalry from the Pennsylvania Military Academy. He will be escorted to the City Hall there, where he will be received by Mayor McDowell and Governor Sprout. A luncheon will follow. In the afternoon Admiral Conz and his party will inspect the shipyards at Chester and other industrial places, which will be followed by a dinner in the evening at the Masonic Home in Chester.

AROUSED BY NEW BUILDINGS

Merchantville Residents Complain of Shacks Going Up in Fine Section

A civic protective association is being formed in Merchantville, N. J., as the result of a large number of small buildings going up at the extreme western end of the borough. Some of these structures are not more than 15 by 15 feet and one story and contain but one room. They are located near some of the most costly residences and are on lots that are sold on installments of seventy-five cents a week.

The purchasers are mostly persons who have been forced to leave their former homes when the latter were sold, and in a number of instances the owners and their families are building the new shacks.

It is proposed that the protective association shall have town council passage of an ordinance compelling observance of the building laws, although attorneys have admitted they are unable to show council can regulate the size and cost of the buildings.

WOMAN HELD AS PROFITEER

Accused of Selling Twenty-Cent Lace at $10 a Yard

Mrs. Annie McMillen, who is accused of having sold twenty-cent lace for ten dollars a yard, has been arrested upon the charge of Mrs. P. Hollingsworth Morris, of Villanova.

Mrs. McMillen, who gained Mrs. Morris's ear upon the pretense that she had six sisters who were looking for positions as maids in Main Line households, gradually brought the conversation around to the subject of lace, it is declared, and finally sold some to Mrs. Morris. She is held by the police pending an investigation.

MITTEN ANSWERS NEW FARE CHARGES

Shows by 10-Year Comparison That Toll Is 3.98 Cents, Not 6 Cents

GIVES OTHER RECORDS

In answer to assertions that trolley riders in this city are paying an aggregate fare of six cents a ride, Thomas E. Mitten, president of the Philadelphia Rapid Transit Company, today made public a comparative statement showing production and fare records for the last ten years.

He emphasizes that trolley riders today are paying an aggregate of 3.98 cents a ride as against 4.13 cents in 1910, a decrease of 3.60 per cent in the ten-year period. This compares with a fare increase during that period of 22.2 per cent in Detroit and 48.7 per cent increase in Cleveland.

The statement that exchange tickets really made Philadelphia pay six-cent fares was made at the railway men's convention at Atlantic City.

The statement by Mr. Mitten points out that trolley men in this city lead the country in the matter of wages and increased production. The average day's pay of trolley men here, according to the statement, is $5.51, which represents an increase of 151.1 per cent in the ten-year period. The number of passengers carried per trainman increased 120.7 per cent. This compares with an increase of 30.1 per cent in Detroit and 27.6 per cent in Cleveland.

Compared with Philadelphia's average daily wage of $5.51 is $5.10 for Detroit, an increase of 113 per cent, and $5 for Cleveland, an increase of 110 per cent.

Trolley men here in 1910 received an average hourly wage of twenty-three cents. The wage now approximates 57.65 cents.

Mr. Mitten's statement emphasizes that the increased production was accomplished in face of a decrease of 15.6 per cent in the number of men employed by the company. The decrease, it is pointed out, was caused principally by employes called into the service during the war.

The company divided the earnings of the service men among the men who remained on the job. This resulted, in the opinion of Mr. Mitten, in the increased efficiency of the trolley men.

CANNED GOODS SCARCE IN GERMANTOWN SALE

Only 27 Cases of Government Supplies Available for Police Station "Store" Today

Only twenty-seven cases of government canned goods were available when the sale of army food opened this morning in the Germantown police station.

An army truck arrived at 10 o'clock with five cases of pork and beans, which retailed at four cents a can; five cases of corn beef, at fifty-eight cents a can; five of roast beef, at sixty-five cents a can; ten cases of asparagus at twenty-five cents a can; one of ground cloves at sixteen cents a can, and one of ground nutmeg at twelve cents a can. These were quickly sold.

The sale was held under the auspices of Gimbel Brothers. A girl cashier was on hand to handle the money. Arrangements had been made to dispose of four tons at the police station.

Bacon was sold for twenty-five cents a pound at all the Fred P. Bell stores today. The sales were under the auspices of the City Market Commission, using the stores and clerical aid offered by Mr. Bell.

The bacon on sale is part of the surplus government stock of that staple and is in prime condition. The sale price represents a drop of ten cents a pound.

In addition to an unlimited supply of bacon, 30,000 pounds of pork loins will be offered at twenty-eight cents a pound.

Rainbow Veterans May Organize Numerous Main Line service men are interested in plans to organize a "Rainbow Division Veterans' Association" in this city. Henry T. Brown, of 131 Grandview road, Ardmore, is one of the principal organizers. A meeting to further the plan will be held Friday night in Room 9-A, Parkway Building.

A 65-year-old client of ours was recently examined for insurance and passed as being the best-preserved man of his years they have ever seen.
