ARMY FOOD STORE IS OPENED TODAY

System of Community Stores, to Operate Without Profit, to Be Started Soon

WILL SPREAD OVER CITY

With the opening of one store today for the sale of army food and the an nouncement of the inauguration in the near future of a system of community stores which will operate without profit the drive upon the high cost of living by the Mayor's market commission and the Emergency Aid has begun in ear nest. Joseph S. MacLaughlin, dire-nest. Joseph S. MacLaughlin, director of supplies and chairman of the commission, said that one of the proposed community stores would be opened in the Dobson Building, now vacant.

At 809-11 Chestnut street.

The branch store for the sale of army supplies opens today at Sixteenth and Arch streets, selling only canned peascorn and tomatoes at nine cents a can, but other products will be added to the stock later. It is planned to open the store every other day and to restock it on the days that it is closed.

It is hoped by the commission and the Emergency Aid that the store to be established at the Dobson Building can be opened within a week or ton days and if it proves successful others will be started in different sections of the city until a regular system is formed.

Major Charles E. Jones, surplus property officer for eastern Pennsylva nia, has issued the following complete list of foodstuffs that can be obtained from the government and delivered to the consumer's door by parcel post:

Prospective customers are directed to address all communications to the Surplus Property Owner. Twenty-first street and Oregon avenue, Philadelphia. New Jersey will be similarly served through the New York office.

MANAYUNK 'FISH KING' DIES

Joseph N. Sparn, Friend of Poor, Found Dead in Bed "Fish King" is dead, and all

Manayunk mourns.
Joseph N. Sparn, forty-six years old, 4405 Baker street, whose quaint sayings and original signs designed to aid in the sale of fish, coupled with his free distribution of fish to the poor carned him the royal nickname, was found dead in bed by his wife late last night.

Sparn, a fish huckster, was constantly springing new sensations to keep him-self and his wares before the public. Long before the war began in 1914, he drove through Manayunk in what was, in effect, a camoulraged fish wagon. The truck was painted in many colors and certainly achieved its purpose of attracting attention.

The following week he sold fish from a one-torse carriage.

He is survived by two daughters, Mrs.

Harold E. Wood, 218 James street,

Roxborough, and Mrs. Laura Grant.

California, and one son, Joseph Sparn-
