MRS. FISKE AGAINST EATING OF MEAT

Actress Also Condemns Killing of Fur-Bearing Animals for Fashions

CITES VICTIMS' SUFFERING

Why eat meat?

Maeterlinck, Bernard Shaw, Hauptmann and many others are nonmeat

Tolstoy, "a wonderful example of physical and mental strengta,." said that he believed the first step toward spirituality was the ceasing of meat-

This is the argument of Mrs. Minnie Maddern Fiske, noted actress, who has issued a scathing indictment of meateating and of the killing of fur-bearing animals "for fashion's sake."

"If we had to witness the horrors of the slaughter house; if we had to listen to the shrieks of the terrified, protesting animals—creatures already dis-tracted by the tortures of transporta-tion and all that word implies—if we had to look on at each successive scene of the bloody business we should not be quite so serene in asking the blessing above the meat.

"No thinking being could conscientiously play a part in that little act of saying grace if he had to trace the blessed animal from frontier range to the dinner table.

"But we are beginning to think of these things. When women learned of the manner in which the aigrette was obtained the feather was virtually abolished. The aigrette was torn from the living mother bird during the nesting season. The mutilated living body of the bird was then tied in the marshes, where, lingering to be devoured by the where, lingering to be devoured by the ants, its cries reached the starving young in the nest, the young whose answering cries attracted other birds for which a similar fate to that of the mother was in store."

CHURCH INSTALLS 'MOVIES

Defles Objection From Some Minis ters and Will Give Shows

Despite objection from a number of ministers of the Camden district of the New Jersey Conference to the use of moving pictures in charches, offlicials of the First Methodist Episcopal Church, of Haddonfield, N. J., have decided to install a moving pictures man cided to install a moving picture ma-chine in the church. They will show Bible stories and educational films on the screen Sunday nights and other eve-the screen Sunday nights and other evenings without admission charge.

The Rev. Alfonso Dare, pastor of the church, is supporting the movement.

"Teaching the Bible from the moving-picture screen," Mr. Dare said "will prove to be an effective and popular method of getting the real Bible messages to the people in a manner that will appeal to the youth of the community.

munity.

There are picture sermons just as "There are picture sermons just as-well as word sermons, and these picture sermons will appeal to the eye where words fall flat on the ear. Wide-awake pastors are calling on the screen to supplement their pulpit work and very successfully, too, and I believe the movies will prove to be the greatest medium for the long looked-for spread of the Gospel of Christ before another year closes."

SCHOOL PAY "TOO LOW"

Teachers' Association at Annual Dinner Warns of Serious Results

Protest against the inadequate salaries rotest against the indequate sataries paid to teachers was voiced last night at the eighth annual dinner of the Philadelphia Teachers' Association at the Bellevuc-Stratford Hotel, James Francis Cooke, editor of the Etude, was the principal speaker. He predicted serious results unless better care shall be taken of those responsible for the education.

ous results unless better care shall be taken of those responsible for the education of the people.

Among the guests were: David Bispham, baritone: Charles M. Boyd, president of the National Music Teachers' Association: Hollis E. Dann, professor of music at Cornell; Ernest Hutchinson, Australian pianist; Harold Randolph, of Peabody Conservatory in Baltimore; Mme. Olgo Samaroff, pianist and wife of the Philadelphia Orchestra lader, and Mrs. F. A. Sieberling, president of the National Federation of Music Clubs.

It was while they were awaiting with It was while they were awaiting with joyous anticipation the arrival from Vermont of their soldier son, Corporal Gottlieb Fisher, that the news of his accidental death reached his parents. Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Fisher, 1758 North Sixth street. The body of the son reached home last night. He was scheduled to arrive here yesterday on a furlough.

scheduled to arrive here yesterday on a furlough.

Corporal Fisher was killed by an army truck while on duty at Fort Ethan Allen. He entered the service last July 14, after repeated rejections for being below weight and height. He was assigned to the commissary department at the fort.

TO WAR ON BOLSHEVISM

Officers of Great War Demand Active

Campaign Against Agitators Defeat of bolshevism and anarchy was the main topic of discussion last night at the meeting of the Philadelphia chap-ter of the American Officers of the Great War. A resolution was adopted com-mending Attorney General Palmer and Senator Walsh, of Massachusetts, for their antagonism toward "direct ac-tion".

"Passing resolutions is not enough; this organization should actively combat anarchy in every shape and form," declared George F. Lippincott, member of the board of trustees of the organization. "Bolshevism is being propagated in this country under the guise of 'unionism' and 'Fosterism,' and it should be torn out at the roots."
