

2.75 BEER ON SALE SEVEN MORE DAYS

Which costs less? Can you afford the destruction of your plant? Can you afford to pay double for insurance? Can you afford to risk the lives of your employees?

GLOBE AUTOMATIC SPRINKLER CO. 2033 Washington Ave. Dickinson 331

SAILORS EXONERATED OF MURDER CHARGES

British Seamen From Abandoned Vessel to Be Sent to Newfoundland Home

Four British seamen, composing the crew of the British schooner Onato, brought here by an American captain who charged them with mutiny and murder, have been exonerated, and will be deported this week to their homes in Newfoundland.

Thomas P. Porter, British consul general here, made an exhaustive investigation of the case. After closely examining Captain Elwood Sullivan, commandant of the Zirkel, the rescue ship, and the four accused men, Mr. Porter announced he believed Captain Sullivan was mistaken when he made the charges.

Captain Sullivan and other members of the Zirkel's crew believed they saw evidence of a fight aboard the Onato the night the vessel was abandoned. They also believed they saw the body of a man stretched upon the deck.

The men told Mr. Porter that there had been no fight, that there was no body on the deck and that the captain and mate of the Onato, who are missing, were killed by shifting cargo on board and had been buried after being abandoned.

SOFT COAL HERE TO JAN. 1

Supply Now in City Will Last Industries Until End of Year

Philadelphia's industries are supplied with enough bituminous coal to last until the first of the year, with a few exceptions, chief of them being the Pennsylvania Railroad, which has only a maximum supply of four days ahead.

In the case of the Pennsylvania, the road has normally a three-day coal supply on the cars at all times. It is used as fast as it is transported to the various dumping points.

The city has a stock of coal on hand to last until the first of the year, according to officials at the Department of Supplies. The Philadelphia Electric Company likewise announces it has no cause for worry.

The Baldwin Locomotive Works reports a "fair stock" of coal on hand. The Girard Estate, which has a large stock of bituminous, but, like many other office buildings and factories, uses rice and pea coal, and will not be seriously affected by a bituminous strike.

It was reported by the Commercial Coal Mining Company, large bituminous producers, that they have a good stock of coal on hand here, enough for several months at the inside. The big shipyards say they are prepared for any emergency.

ROOSEVELT DRIVE TODAY

Memorial Campaign is Started to Get Members

A drive for a large Philadelphia contribution toward the national Roosevelt memorial campaign began today.

The campaign for members in the Roosevelt Memorial Association here started simultaneously with that in other cities. Membership will cost $1, but larger contributions would be received. With the initial fee a life membership in the organization is given.

What form the memorial is to take or where it will be placed has not been made known. All that will be left to the Roosevelt family.

The national committee, which has headquarters in New York, has appointed George Wharton Pepper, chairman of the campaign committee in eastern Pennsylvania. Mr. Pepper has named the Philadelphia committee, of which William Draper Lewis is chairman.

According to Mr. Lewis, workers here will seek as many of the dollar memberships as possible rather than attempt to obtain large private subscriptions.

WOULD-BE BANDIT CAUGHT

"Victim" in Auto, Holds Man and Drives to Police Station

Two men held up and attempted to rob A. C. Smith and his son, William E. Smith last night, near Gloucester, N. J., while they were on their way by auto from the seashore to their home in Bustleton.

The Smith machine was proceeding at a moderate speed when two men climbed on to the running board of the car and demanded that the Smiths turn over their cash and other valuables. Instead of stopping the automobile the elder Smith merely increased the speed of the car with the result that one of the highwaymen was jolted off the car.

The son grabbed the other man and struck him several times in the face. He kept a firm grip on the would-be thief until the car stopped in front of the Gloucester police station.

PROVOST GOT $1300 IN '28

U. of P. Spent $1402 Above Its Income in That Year

Discovery has been made by Horace M. Lippincott, secretary of the General Alumni Society of the University of Pennsylvania, of a financial statement of Nicholas Biddle, a trustee in 1828, which throws some interesting light on the university's financial condition at that time.

According to the statement, there were then thirty-seven scholars (this year there are approximately 10,000), and "we spend every year $1402.25 more than our income." The provost then received a salary of $1300, the vice provost $1200, the professor of languages $1100 and a tutor $400. The provost in 1828 was Dr. Frederick Scazley.

LOVE STILL RULES MARRIAGE

Miss Pauline Newman, organizer for the Women's Trade Union League, who takes issue with Doctor Munn, who says working girls marry only to escape drab life. Love and foresight into future contribute to decision on proposals, she says

ORGANIZER DENIES GIRLS WED TO ESCAPE DRAB LIFE

Says Love Still Plays a Part and They Don't "Fall" for First Man Who Proposes—Think, Too, of Future

Love still plays a part in their lives, and marriage is the ultimate aim of the majority of working girls. But the average girl today doesn't "fall" for the first man who proposes just to find a way out of her drab existence, as she was prone to do a few years ago.

Such is the belief of Miss Pauline Newman, organizer for the Philadelphia branch of the National Women's Trade Union League.

"I agree with Dr. Kristine Mann, of New York," she said, "in her statement to the international conference of women physicians last week, that the majority of working girls and women lead drab existences and learn to look forward to marriage as a means to escape the narrowness of their lives and to forget economic difficulties.

"But I believe that the working girl of today thinks twice before she consents to marry a man earning a workingman's salary. A few years ago the young girl plunged into marriage life ignorant of most of the things she should know, was perfectly content to live in a windowless room without bath and to exist on her husband's small salary. Today that same type of girl wants to live in a decent apartment with a private bath and windows for the sun and air to come through.

Not Pure Selfishness "And it isn't pure selfishness that makes her want these things. It is because she has learned something of life; because she has gained ideals and she knows that marriage doesn't mean 'just you and me,' but a family. And she wants to give her children a chance. Today a working girl looks forward to past her own individual wants and thinks of the coming generation.

"I don't mean by 'giving her children a chance' that the average working girl, or man either, hopes to give her children a college education and all the comforts of life. She is simply hoping to give her child better surroundings and better industrial conditions. She doesn't want her child to have to start working in a factory at the age of twelve or fourteen.

"The average girl has learned that marriage in itself is not a release from economic difficulties. She may be a clinging vine type and depend on her husband, but she soon finds that she might have done better if she had remained unmarried.

"Love still plays a part, yes. The average working girl is not necessary. She loves and 'keeps company' with her man, but the engagements are longer. The girl and boy wait till there

6 PARTIES TO BE ON TICKET

Single Taxers Have Full Slate First Time in Many Years

Six parties will have a place on the ballot at the November election. These parties are the order in which they will appear on the ballot are the Republican, Democratic, Socialist, Prohibition, Charter and Single Tax.

For the first time in many years the Single Tax party will have a complete ticket, including candidates for Council and the row offices. Oliver McLaughlin heads the ticket as the candidate for Mayor.

James J. Patton is the Prohibition nominee for Mayor, and Charles Joseph Bauer the Socialist nominee. Controller Walton, who was unopposed for the Republican nomination to succeed himself, won the Prohibition nomination also.

Thomas W. Cunningham, candidate to succeed himself as clerk of the Court of Quarter Sessions, also won the "dry" nomination, as did County Commissioners George F. Holmes and Harry Kuenzel.

Magistrate Evan T. Pennock was the only Republican candidate for magistrats to win the Prohibition nomination. Magistrate Robert Carson, defeated by a small margin by Magistrate Maxwell Stevenson for one of the Republican magistrat nominations, got a place on the Prohibition ticket.

SUFFRAGE WARMING TODAY

Vote-Seeking Women Open Campaign for Funds

A "suffrage warming" this afternoon opened the campaign of the National Woman's party to obtain funds for rushing ratification of the suffrage federal amendment by the nineteen states still necessary to make the amendment effective.

The meeting was held at 1013 Chancery street, in the studio of Miss Alice Gibson Brock, new headquarters of the National Woman's party. All the officers and members and friends of suffrage who attended the "warming" were put to work making small aprons with large pockets. The aprons were symbols of the thrifty with which the campaign will be conducted and the large pockets were of a practical size for holding the contributions of those who will aid the campaign.

As a first step in the thrift movement the local branch gave up its headquarters in the Randolph Building. Volunteer workers are organizing a campaign.

INSURANCE FRAUD SCHEME SMASHED

"Suicide" Who Tried to Get $250,000 From U. S. Companies Found in Nicaragua

WAS LIVING AS A HERMIT

The "suicide" of a South American mine owner insured for $250,000 caused an investigation extending from this city to Nicaragua, where the insured man was found living a hermit's life in a mountain retreat.

The alleged attempted fraud, according to insurance officials, originally designed to net $1,000,000 from American companies, was planned by Narciso Arellano, member of a prominent Nicaraguan family.

Arellano is now under arrest in his native country. A written confession, it is said, was wrung from him by a former American army man, who traced him through jungles and over mountain trails.

Facts Sound Like Fiction The sober facts in the narrative related by officials of the Fidelity Mutual Life Insurance Company, 112 North Broad street, are flavored with the romance of a Richard Harding Davis tale of South America.

Arellano was said to have been living in New York in the early part of 1917. He was educated in that city and lived there with his wife and family.

He applied to the Fidelity Life Company for a $30,000 policy which was granted after an investigation of his antecedents. The inquiry, according to company officials, showed the applicant to be a mine and plantation owner at Granada, Nicaragua. He was said to be related to high government officials and diplomats of his native country.

The insurance was granted by the local company about the same time Arellano applied for and obtained from New York companies policies totaling $250,000. He failed in an effort to obtain policies aggregating $1,000,000.

Only One Premium Paid One payment on the policy was made to the Fidelity Mutual here, and in November, 1917, the death of the insured was reported from Nicaragua.

"The thing sounded strange from the start," an official of the company said. "We started to investigate the matter and finally pooled our interests with those of other companies affected and went into the matter thoroughly."

Two investigators went to Nicaragua. One, Robert L. Barnes, a former army man, of Washington, was told Arellano either committed suicide or fell from a boat into Lake Nicaragua. For months Barnes hunted patiently, the trail finally leading to a remote mountain section where Arellano was found living as a hermit.

After a written confession was obtained Arellano was arrested by Nicaraguan authorities. Friends of the accused man are trying to have him placed in a home as mentally irresponsible.

Church Uses Organ Chimes At the Broadway M. E. Church, Camden, the organ chimes given in memory of Joseph E. Roberts and his daughter, Eleanor D. Roberts, were used for the first time last night. The new bronze tablet, commemorating the service of sixty Broadway men in the army and navy, was unveiled. The address of the evening was delivered by Major General Littleton W. T. Waller, of the United States marine corps.

Galvanized Boat Pumps L. D. Berger Co., 50 N. 2d St. Main 4000, Market 555.

2 BROTHERS, INSEPARABLE, ASK CELL DURING WINTER

Prematurely Aged by Drink, One-Time Business Men Win Shelter in House of Correction for Three Months

Two brothers, prematurely aged and inseparable companions for years, today sought voluntary commitment to the House of Correction as a shelter for the winter.

Later Magistrate Greelis granted their request and sentenced them to three months each in the House of Correction.

They wandered, arm in arm, into the Eighth and Jefferson streets police station last night and timorously told their story to House Sergeant Peterson. Giving their names as Joseph Smith, fifty-one years old, and John Smith, forty-four years, they claimed they had once been prosperous business men. But excessive use of drink, they said, loosened their grip on life. Finally they became homeless wanderers, eating at free-lunch counters and begging money for liquor.

"You see, we've always been together, officer," said the elder brother. "We are older than our years, somehow, and there isn't much ahead for us. We just go back to this city and we were so miserable and cold and hungry that we had to come here for the night. It would be a great help if you could have us sent to the House of Correction for the winter."

A collection was taken up in the station house to buy food for the men last night. Two loaves of bread, several boxes of sodas and two bottles of milk were bought and given to them. Then they were placed in a cell for a night's sleep.

The brothers said they once had a prosperous real estate business at Twenty-first street and Columbia avenue. Before that the older brother had been employed as stenographer and bookkeeper for a prominent downtown business firm.

LOT BUYERS PROTECTED

Springfield Manor Purchasers Believe Plan Safeguards Interests

Officers of the Springfield Manor Lot-holders' Protective Association today feel they have thwarted any effort of outside interests to obtain immediate possession of the tract of Delaware county land in which they were induced to purchase home sites.

As a result of a meeting of the lot-holders in the grill room of the Colonnade Hotel yesterday, William D. Moran, chairman of the association, today announced that sufficient funds had been subscribed to enable Sidney E. Smith, of counsel for the lot-holders, to go to Media tomorrow with the amount of judgment upon which a portion of the property is listed for sheriff's sale November 1.

Mr. Smith will offer the money to Howard M. Lutz, attorney for John M. Brownell, in whose name the judgment stands of record.

If Mr. Lutz accepts payment the sale will be stayed. Should he refuse, he will be called upon to explain such action in court.

Change Luncheon Date The Members' Council will hold the October luncheon on Wednesday, October 29, instead of on Friday, October 21, the date previously agreed upon. Thomas Adams, of Toronto, Canada, and John Ihlder, secretary of the Housing Association of this city, will speak on "Housing." Mr. Adams is said to be an expert on this subject.

Diamond and Platinum Jewelry

Specializing in Engagement Rings

BAILEY BANKS & BIDDLE CO. Jewelers, Silversmiths, Stationers

The Oversak is a utility overcoat idea which serves both the purpose of a dress and storm garment

Wants you to take Lunch at his Restaurant today. . . . ! 1024 CHESTNUT ST.

Only High-Grade Automobile Makers Bake Each Coat of Paint and Varnish

BECAUSE of the magnificent long-enduring lustrous finish. We are the only re-finishers having facilities for and who bake each coat.

Send for descriptive folder which scientifically explains the process. If you want your car re-finished quickly, handsomely and economically—phone us. Martin-Alexander Co., Inc. Automobile Refinishers 126-128-130 Reed St. Dickinson 2291 Main 170

The Hy-Line shoulder gives breadth, straightness and poise. In the treatment of the waist comfort has been considered, and the skirt drapes freely and with grace. The knee-length overgarment is recommended as correct and thoroughly practical.

The OVERSAK is made in gray or brown mixed fancy overcoatings and in Oxford gray frieze. Silk body and sleeve linings. $45 and upward.

OVERSAK

JACOB REED'S SONS 1424-1426 Chestnut Street

If you're looking for the Latest Lines in Suits and Overcoats—

Save shoe leather by giving our new assortments the once-over!

You'll find what you're after in this big store, and you'll find the best fit and comfort, the best atmosphere of distinctive style that ever draped your form!

Single-breasted and double-breasted Suits for young fellows in a list of different lines that would take a column by themselves.

Exempli Gratia—Link button coats, the buttons sizable and dominating.

All-around loose belts with a single button.

Ribbed waist seams.

Three-quarter distance belts that bury themselves in the middle foreground.

Close-up buttons, fluted fronts, bell sleeves.

Colorful heather-blooms, Autumn leaf browns, pea greens, deep sea greens, light grays, broad stripes buried in Oxford Gray, hairline stripes, blues and soft silken browns.

Slender ulsterettes, substantial ulsters, full box coats, rakish slippers, close form-fitting single and double-breasted Overcoats that will give you that dressed-up feeling.

And Leather Overcoats!

Reversible tweeds and leather; leather outsides with cloth insides, or vice versa—and plenty of them!

So—save yourself that shopping expedition—we'll suit and please you here!

PERRY & CO. "N. B. T." 16th & Chestnut Sts.