Washington, Oct. 20.—Secretary Baker today refused the request of Mayor Hylan, of New York, to postpone the use of troops at New York until further efforts could be made to settle the strike of longshoremen there.

SPANISH MONARCH ARRIVES AT PARIS

Informal Visit of King Alfonso Believed to Be of Political Importance

Paris, Oct. 20.—(By A. P.)—King Alfonso, who left Madrid last night for a brief visit to Paris on his way to England, reached here at 10:20 o'clock this morning. The king was received at the station by Stephen Pichon, the French foreign minister, and by representatives of the premier and the minister of the interior.

Although the Spanish monarch comes to France incognito, today's newspapers agree in attaching political importance to his visit, apart from Morocco. They say Alfonso is coming here to pave the way for negotiations which the gravity of the economic and social crisis renders imperative.

The newspapers point out that Spain, having a seat in the executive council of the league of nations, can no longer be considered neutral and must assume an important role in the world's affairs.

President Poincare will give a dinner at the Elysee Palace in honor of the king this evening and the republican party at the presidential residence in the Bois de Boulogne tomorrow.

The king will leave Paris Thursday morning at 11 o'clock for London.

GERSEY CAMPAIGN AT HIGH TENSION

Republicans Take Aggressive. Candidates Bugbee and Edwards Stumping State

CALL TO ARMS BY STOKES

Trenton, Oct. 20.—With the near approach of election day the gubernatorial campaign in New Jersey is growing hotter. State Controller Newton A. K. Bugbee, of this city, the Republican candidate, and Senator Edward J. Edwards, of Jersey City, the Democratic nominee, have reached the stage of exchanging personalities which invariably marks the beginning of bitter-spelling campaigns.

Both candidates are conducting aggressive campaigns. Former Governor E. C. Stokes, chairman of the Republican state committee, who is credited here by being probably the most astute politician in either party, is conducting the Republican campaign. The fine land of Mayor Frank Hague, of Jersey City, who has become one of the state Democratic leaders, if not in fact the commander-in-chief of the Democratic forces of New Jersey, is very apparent in the Edwards campaign.

Democratic Disceord
Republicans are taking some comfort in the antagonism between the Hague and Nugent factions of the Democratic camp. Hague, it is declared, seeks to usurp Nugent's leadership. Many Republicans profess to see Democratic defeat in this rivalry.

Nugent is anxious to elect his Assembly ticket. With the Assembly delegation last winter he was able on many occasions to control the House and to him belongs the credit—or discredit, according to the viewpoint—of causing New Jersey to reject the federal prohibition amendment.

It is argued that with the Edwards plank in the platform calling for the immediate ratification of the woman suffrage amendment, which was adopted by exchanging personalities which invariably marks the beginning of bitter-spelling campaigns.

Former Governor E. C. Stokes, chairman of the Republican state committee, who is credited here by being probably the most astute politician in either party, is conducting the Republican campaign.

For the Essex Democratic Assembly ticket. Bugbee's supporters are claiming his election by upward of 30,000 majority. But a more conservative estimate, made today, granting that the election will be normal, is 10,000 and that is allowing for losses from those who blame the Republican state administration for the chaotic trolley fare situation and losses also bound to result by some drys remaining away from the polls because Bugbee is not dry enough for them.

Stokes Sounds Call to Arms
Ex-Governor Stokes today issued his first formal statement of the campaign, in which, after calling attention to the divided condition of the Democratic party and the harmony that has followed the lively fight for the Republican nomination, with Runyon, Mayor and King working zealously for their successful election was the "opening gun in the 1920 campaign" and that "every vote cast for the Democratic ticket in this state will be a vote for the national Democratic policies and will materially aid, even if it does not make certain, the election of a Democratic President in 1920."

He accused the Democratic party in New Jersey of attempting to nullify the prohibition amendment, "like the South Carolina nullifiers of old," and said such an attitude was "not far removed from anarchy itself." Governor Stokes said a high tribute to Comptroller Bugbee, who, he said, was "no man's man but his own," and declared the charge of the Democratic publicity agent that the Republican candidate was a mere satellite of other party men "makes Ananias green with envy."

Mr. Stokes said: "The unfortunate illness of the President, deeply regretted by every true-hearted American, leaves the Democratic party without thought or leadership. Without the President the Democratic party is a helpless uncertainty that lacks the confidence of the country."

WON'T HEAR EICHORN
Ministers and Deputies Leave When Former Berlin Police Chief Speaks
Berlin, Oct. 20.—Ministers of the government, their attaches and the deputies of all political parties except his own, walked ostentatiously out of the chamber when ex-Chief of Police Eichhorn took the speaker's stand during the debate on the labor ministry's budget.

Eichhorn, under indictment for rioting and grafting, but enjoying immunity from arrest as a member of Parliament, was not announced in the list of speakers until late in the day. The moment he appeared before the speaker's stand the government bench and the floor of the House emptied as if it had been given a signal to do so. Only the official stenographer and a few Independent Socialists remained in the chamber.

Eichhorn began his address with a defense of the part he played in the revolution, claiming he merely played "the role of a revolutionary worker," and said he desired to combat the slander which primarily was responsible for the affront that had been offered him by the Assembly.

GIBRALTAR PLAN UNHEEDED

Morgenthau Proposal Gets Little Publicity, No Comment in England
London, Oct. 20.—(By A. P.)—The statement made by Henry Morgenthau on his return to the United States, suggesting that Great Britain share the control of Gibraltar with the United States, was not generally reported here. The Morning Post alone carries something like a full report under the heading: "Gibraltar—a naive suggestion." but does not comment on Mr. Morgenthau's words.

TO SEARCH U. S. CREWS

Sinn Fein Expects America to Post-test Alleged Order of Dublin Castle
London, Oct. 20.—The correspondence at Manchester of the Daily Herald and Dublin organs, in a dispatch dated yesterday, says: "In the course of a speech at an impressive demonstration held here today in favor of self-determination for Ireland, James Griffiths, founder of the Sinn Fein organization and a Sinn Fein member of Parliament, read two secret documents issued by Dublin Castle, one ordering detectives to search the belongings of the crews of all vessels arriving in Ireland from the United States and the other declaring that soldiers in all American ships coming to Ireland be treated as suspects."

"Surely," said Mr. Griffiths, "America will have something to say to this."
