Mount Carmel Iron Works Directors to Decide at Meeting Today

CONFERENCES ARE HELD

By a Staff Correspondent Mt. Carmel, Pa., Oct. 25.—Preliminary conferences are being held today by directors of the Mt. Carmel Iron Works prior to the meeting of the board late this afternoon.

Denies "Trail of Death" No dark "trail of death" has haunted his business footsteps through fault of his, said Bastress.

George E. Feast, general manager of the iron company, who died himself in a railroad train after his arrest in Philadelphia, ended his life not because he was a ruined man, but because he had "lost his nerve."

Feast lost his nerve, and a man who loses his nerve is no man," was Bastress's terse comment.

Bastress said he believed his son made a mistake in judgment when he issued the statement concerning the actress who, he said, had supported Feast in New York.

LEONARD H. KINNARD Who today was elected president of the Bell Telephone Company of Pennsylvania

NAME KINNARD HEAD OF PENNA. BELL LINES

Vice President and General Manager of State Company Elevated to Presidency

Leonard H. Kinnard, who since 1912 has been vice president and general manager of the Bell Telephone Company of Pennsylvania, today was elected president at a special meeting of the directors.

Mr. Kinnard, who lives in Wynwood, began his career in the telephone business as a clerk with the first Pennsylvania Telephone Company at Harrisburg. He subsequently became division superintendent, general superintendent and general manager of the Bell companies in this section in 1908.

Mr. Kinnard came to Philadelphia as general contract agent of the Bell Telephone Company of Pennsylvania.

The associated companies embrace the operation of the Bell property throughout Pennsylvania, Delaware, Maryland, District of Columbia and portions of New Jersey, West Virginia and Ohio.

He was elected vice president and general manager of the so-called Pennsylvania Telephone Company in 1912.

During the war the demands on the companies under Mr. Kinnard's immediate administration called for a tremendous degree of enterprise and administration in the exercise of that duty.

Despite the pressure of his other duties during the war, Mr. Kinnard was prominently identified with numerous committee works, not the least of which was the national defense of the Philadelphia Chamber of Commerce.

Mr. Kinnard is a member of the Real Estate Engineers' Manufacturers', City and Merion Cricket Clubs, the Pennsylvania Society and numerous civic and engineering organizations.

ROOSTERS WILL CROW HOUR EARLIER TOMORROW MORNING

Return of Daylight-Saving Hour Causes Rejoicing and Sorrow. Clocks Will Be Turned Back at 2 A. M.

IF YOU see the cows and chickens or any other bipeds and quadrupeds that don't wear wrist watches cawing about the place Sunday morning, don't think it is all due merely to healthy exuberance of animal spirits.

At least that is what the farmers, with sympathetic grins on their faces, will tell you. Cows and chickens, they claim, were never built for daylight-saving methods.

With the clocks turned back, as they will be at 2 o'clock tomorrow morning, the farmer and fock can again go by the same old "sun time."

There are other folks who will rejoice over an extra hour's sleep on Sunday morning, but there won't be any excuse whatever for not getting to church on time.

There is no reason why a family of five should be able to live on less than $15 a week and be fully nourished, but the housekeeper will have to spend some time in the kitchen, planning and making the most of her materials.

Home-made bread was recommended as another solution for the reduction of the high cost of living.

It doesn't cost me less to have loaves made for me than to make them myself, but the woman admitted that her meat bills were less when she baked at home.

Today Mrs. Wilson made crullers, layer-cake, breads and fruit salads.

A special program of cooking economies is planned for next week. Planning and serving a luncheon at twenty cents per person will be demonstrated on Wednesday, and Thursday will be "left over" day.

Mrs. Wilson's Recipes PIE CRUST Three cups flour. One teaspoonful salt. One tablespoonful baking powder.

Line pie tin with pie dough rolled thin. Add raw apples sliced thin and laid in layers with a small hole in the center for the escape of steam.
