Nancy Wynne Talks of the Lewis Tea This Afternoon. Mrs. Rodgers to Be Given Reception Tomorrow. Some Debutante Frocks

A NNA LEWIS is the debutante who will be introduced this afternoon at Awbury, which you know is a sort of settlement of Copes and Emlens. Awbury is a beautiful estate at Washington lane station. Germantown. As the different members of the proprietary families marry they build a house on the property, thus keeping up a regular family settlement.

A portion of that property has been given by the united families to the city and a very interesting arboretum is the

I saw Mary Goodman one day recently and she looked charming in a brown chiffon, talle and gold thread frock. It had rather a long waisted bodice of gold and brown, cut with a rather high V, and the skirt was filmy and lovely. For sleeves were of talle. With her fair anir and attractive smile she was very sweet, indeed.
