

RELICS FROM EGYPT EXPECTED A. U. OF P.

Dr. Gordon Writes From Cairo of Important Excavations Made by Expedition

VAN VALIN REPORTED SAFE

Valuable relics from excavations made in Egypt are expected soon by the University of Pennsylvania Museum, according to word received by Dr. George Byron, director of the museum, from Dr. G. H. Gordon.

PLAN NEW FEATURES FOR WHARTON SCHOOL

Athletic and Musical Programs to Be Introduced to Lend Culture of University

Several new features to make the extension work at the Wharton School, University of Pennsylvania, more valuable are planned by Director Grayson.

Plans are being worked out at present with the University council on athletics for some sort of limited athletic competition for the Wharton Evening School. Concerts by the University Glee Club are also planned.

In offering the facilities of the University for young men and women who must work during the day and who have neither the time nor the funds to attend the regular departments of the University during the day, we feel that we are doing a work such as no other university offers, says Director Grayson.

Samaritan Hospital Needs Money

Methods of obtaining money to cover the annual deficit of the Samaritan Hospital will be discussed at a meeting at the hospital tonight.

William B. Van Valin, after three years' experience in the Arctic regions, has arrived safely at Seattle with his valuable collections intact, according to a message from him, received at the museum.

Van Valin's collections, including the remains of a number of prehistoric Eskimos, have been shipped to the University. The explorer himself expects to arrive soon.

Scientists believe Mr. Van Valin's achievements will do much to throw light on the origin of the Eskimo race.
