LAFAYETTE'S HIKERS, WITH THE AID OF TRUCKS, WILL CROSS COUNTRY TO CORNELL GAME

TIGERS MAY USE "SUB" BACKFIELD

Roper Plans to Save Trimble and Strubling for Big Games

HOPKINS NOW AT QUARTER

Princeton, N. J., Oct. 30. — The Tiger eleven still is in the experimental stage.

The Princeton team more than delivered when it held the powerful Colgate aggregation last Saturday to a lone touchdown, but, despite this showing, Coach Roper is not satisfied with the offensive strength of the Tigers.

All week the Tiger tutor has been experimenting with a new set of backs, and it will not be surprising to find a new quartet starting the game against the husky West Virginia bunch on Saturday.

Hopkins at Quarter.

Hopkins has been working smoothly at quarter and his work has impressed. It is almost a certainty now that he will direct the attack at the start of Saturday's clash.

A new recruit was added to the coaching staff of the Tigers when Jim McCormick, '08, added his services to Roper's men.

Strubling and Murray were on the field during the workout on receiving on kick-offs and forming interference, but made way later for Raymond, Hopkins, De Stefano and Al Wittmer in the half-hour scrimmage which followed.

Saving Stars

Everything here points to the fact that Bill Roper is nursing his stars until after the contest with the West Virginia outfit, saving his star performers for the battle with Harvard.

Maurey Trimble, the hard-working halfback, to whom the credit belongs for many Tiger gains, and Jack Strubling, may start in the fracas with the Mountaineers on Saturday, but indications are that they will be on the bench before the game is more than half over. Roper has inaugurated a policy of safety first with his pleading hopes.

Dickinson, Speers and Baron Rothschild have equal chances to fill out as guards in the game with the team from the Blue Ridge, while Lynch is booked to go in for Captain McGraw if the coaches decide to give the Tiger leader a rest on Saturday.

ENCK LEADS FIELD

Orange and Blue Star Finished 50 Yards to Good in Cross-Country

West Philadelphia High School's cross-country team defeated the Northeast hill and dalers in the Park yesterday afternoon, 27 to 28.

Schuyler Enck as usual copped the individual honors in 15 minutes 11 seconds. The Orange and Blue star finished 50 yards ahead of Radebaugh, the Northeast captain. Long, another Red and Black man, was third, far ahead of the rest of the field.

COMMISH HOLDS COIN

Will Not Pay Off Yanks Till Court Settles American Fight

Cincinnati, O., Oct. 30.—Relative to the protest filed by the Detroit American League Club on the payment of third place prize money of the world championship baseball series to the New York Americans, the National Baseball Commission ruled yesterday to withhold the money.

Just a LPF Fish Yarn

Harrison Kennicott and Howard Hall, fishing in the white water of the Sault Ste. Marie Rapids, caught two rainbow trout averaging six pounds each. Each man had to fight his fish for half an hour before it was boated, and Kennicott says that at one time his rainbow took off 200 feet of line at the rate of 100 feet a second.

SCRAPS ABOUT SCRAPPERS

By LOUIS H. JAFFE

THE great Lew Tendler, as he was christened by experts pugilistic in Denver, will not box at Milwaukee tomorrow night. Reports earlier in the week from that city stated that Tendler would meet Eddie Fitzsimmons there in a ten-round bout. But Manager Glassman today denied this. He did not sign up nor did he agree to a Fitzsimmons bout, Phil says. "I agreed to have Tendler box Richie Mitchell," says Glassman, "but the promoters were unable to get him to meet Lew. The reason Mitchell gave, I was told, was because Tendler boxed with his right arm extended. I did agree to have Lew box with his left arm out, but still Mitchell refused. The announcement of the Fitzsimmons contest was unbeknown to me." Tendler went over so big in his two Denver bouts, according to Glassman, that all possible opponents decided to give the Philadelphian the "go by." Hence Lew's return home. He is planning to take a vacation for a week or so, and then will be prepared to make his return appearance before his home-town fans. While nothing definite has been accomplished here, both the Olympia and National are angling for "The Great's" services.

Scoodles is back in Philadelphia, and, to his disappointment, without an Indian, a "bad man" or even a cowboy. "There ain't any out there," says Scoodles, "and if there ain't any how could I bring one home?" Scoodles is training Tendler for all of his bouts, and he thinks Lew is the greatest boxer in the world. Tendler thinks Scoodles is the greatest trainer in the world, so it's all even.

William Silverman, president and treasurer of the new Auditorium A. C., which is to open its doors at the Labor Lyceum November 21, announced today that Matchmaker Marcus Williams had matched Larry Hansen, of Brooklyn, and Whitey Fitzgerald for the first star bout. Meyer Greenbaum is secretary of this club and Lew Grimson will be the official referee.

Al Thompson, of Cincinnati, arrived in town yesterday. He worked out, as he will today and tomorrow, at Philadelphia Jack O'Brien's. "Fighting Al" is to meet Allentown Dundee in one of the bouts at the National Saturday night. Jack Hagen says Thompson will win easily. If Jack didn't say so he'd be a poor manager.

Herman Miller will come up from Baltimore tomorrow. The Oriole City middleweight has a date with Joe Borrell in the star bout at the Cambria A. C. Matchmaker Johnny Burns says Miller learned a lot of stuff when sparring with Jack Dempsey and that Borrell might be the fall guy. But Joseph is in good shape and there may be a disappointment for all, excepting, of course, Borrell's constituents.

Leon L. Rains, who sees that patrons of the Olympia are well cared for, doesn't let a little thing like a heavy cold interfere with his duties. Rains, unable to talk above a whisper and a very sick man, was around hustling as much as ever yesterday arranging specially reserved seats. One of his big jobs was to fix up a box party to be given on Monday night by representatives of the United States shipping board, who will have the general rumsell as an honored guest.

Artie Rood, the lanky Jazz Fox in the headliner at the National Saturday night, is expected in town from Cleveland on Friday night. Both are rugged fighters, not clever by any means, and there should be a July 4th celebration. Other matches on the same card are Harry Carlson vs. Stanley Hinckle and Max Williamson vs. Battling Murray.

Marcel Rodout, the Frenchman who made good at the Cambria two weeks ago, will appear in the semi at the same arena tomorrow night. His opponent will be Willie McCloskey, of Port Richmond. Young Gibbons vs. Willie Curry, Johnny Duggan vs. Young Barney Reilly and Peter Ross vs. Johnny Dougherty are other numbers.

George Ashe, of this city, is supposed to meet Frank Moran, of Pittsburgh, in the Smoky City tonight. Moran had this bout postponed from last week, declaring that he needed more time in which to get into shape.

Battling Levinsky, for whom Danny Morgan has started a campaign to get a shot at Jack Dempsey, has a tough task scheduled. He will meet Eugene Brosseau at Montreal, Can., November 10. Brosseau is the latest sensation in Canada.

As believed, there isn't anything to that twenty-round bout between Mike Gibbons and Mike O'Dowd to a referee's decision at St. Paul. Ten-round bouts only are legalized in that city. The latest information is that this pair will box ten rounds in St. Paul November 22.

RUSSELL-MACK ENCORE

Bantams Meet in Return Tilt at Shore Club Tonight

The return setto between Battling Mack, of Camden, and Mickey Russell, of Jersey City, at the Atlantic City Sporting Club will be put on tonight. They staged a great eight-round contest there recently, and as shore fans wanted to see them at it again Matchmaker Herman Taylor rebooked them.

Two other eight-rounders will be between Whitey Fitzgerald and Johnny Tyman, and Billy Rolph, navy, and Reddy Bell, army.

Eddie Cavanaugh and Johnny Ray are to box in the six-round opener.

Rabbit Shortage Made Up

Jack Sharkey Outpointed

St. Louis, Mo., Oct. 30.—Kid Travis, local bantamweight, won the newspaper decision over Jack Sharkey, of New York, in an eight-round bout here last night.

Penn Eleven to Drill at Haverford Tomorrow

Penn's gridiron warriors will spend a day in the country tomorrow to put on the finishing touches for the Penn State game on Saturday. The Red and Blue will forsake Franklin Field for the first time this season to practice on the Haverford School gridiron.

Bob Folwell has been holding secret practices at Franklin Field for the last two days, and he believes he will have a heavier cloak of secrecy thrown about the drilling if he took his aggregation out on the Main Line.

WIDENER SPIKES RUMOR

Will Not Purchase Part of Belmont Racing Track, 'Tis Said

New York, Oct. 30.—Reports that the control of the West Chester Racing Association and its plant at Belmont Park was to pass out of the hands of August Belmont and his associates reached the stage yesterday at which it became necessary to run them to ground. Stories came simultaneously from New York that Joseph E. Widener, of Philadelphia, had obtained an option on the track and was ready to close the deal. Investigation in this city and in Philadelphia developed the fact that there was absolutely nothing in the report.

Mr. Belmont said that at first he had taken the story as a joke, but that it had developed so fast that it now riled him considerably.

On top of Mr. Belmont's denial word came from Philadelphia that Mr. Widener has no intention of buying any interest in the plant.

New York, Oct. 30.—Squash tennis players are to have an extra opportunity for warming up this season in a special invitation tournament, beginning Monday, November 10, at the Yale Club. HOW LEHIGH HITS THE LINE—BY PROXY

This picture shows how Coach Tom Keady operates his "bucking harness" on Taylor Field. The man with the ball hits the leather thongs and tries to go forward while four husky linemen attempt to drag him back. This is only one of the strenuous forms of exercise indulged in by the Brown and White football men

MRS. VANDERBECK IS IN GOLF SEMIFINALS

Meets Mrs. Lucas Today in Match of Country Club Title Play

Mrs. Vanderbeck plays Mrs. Lucas, and Miss Chandler meets Mrs. Peck in the semifinal round for the golf championship at the Country Club today.

Only one surprise marked the first round yesterday, and that was the victory of Mrs. J. W. Lucas over Mrs. E. G. Betz, the former winning after a closely contested match by the margin of a single hole. Mrs. Betz has a low rating in the Women's Golf Association, but has not played as much golf this year, a great deal of her time having been given to tennis.

GOLF STARS TO MEET

Roxborough Country Club to Stage Foursome Saturday

The Roxborough Country Club has managed to card a good golf match for Saturday.

Woody Platt, who is now a full fledged member of the Roxborough Club, and Walter Reynolds, the Aronimink star, will tackle that formidable combination, George Hoffner, the local champion, and Eddy Clarey, winner of Atlantic City's swan-song tournament last week. Reynolds and Platt form an unusually brilliant combination and either is likely to reel off a string of two or three birds in a row.

The duel will start at 1:30 o'clock, promptly, and should draw a big gallery, as it will be about the best foursome staged hereabouts during the entire season. After the contest is over the players will be the guests of honor at a dinner to be given by the officers of the club. Dancing will follow in the remodeled casino.

Henry Is W. and J. Mainstay

Lawson Robertson, Penn track coach, saw Washington and Jefferson beat Syracuse, 13 to 0, and says Henry, the giant right tackle on the W. and J. eleven, was the real star of the game. Pittsburgh, which plays W. and J. Saturday week, has protested Henry, on the ground he has played four years of college football.

Crawford Wins Cross-Country Run

Easton, Pa., Oct. 30.—Showing excellent form for so early in the season, Bob Crawford, winner of the intercholastic cross-country championship in 1917, finished first in the dual race between the Lafayette College and Muhlenberg harriers, held here yesterday.

HOT OFF THE GRIDIRON

With Arnold Horween playing center, Fred Church at fullback and Brown playing at right guard in Clarke's place for the greater part of the scrimmage against the scrub, the Harvard varsity team waded into real football again yesterday.

Williams displayed fine form at practice yesterday, scoring four touchdowns against the strong freshman eleven in a twelve-minute scrimmage.

The Mountaineers have accumulated 203 points in their five games, while Pitt has been the only eleven to cross their goal.

Trying to put fight into a badly disorganized football team is the job of Sol Metzger, coach at Union, this week.

Again yesterday the Cornell football team specialized in offensive play, the coaches giving the varsity the ball on the scrubs' twenty-five-yard line and driving them down the field.

The Columbia football men were again handicapped yesterday by the early darkness which shortened their usually long Wednesday practice.

Yesterday's work for the Dartmouth football squad consisted of two hours hard signal drill, followed by a scrimmage lasting forty minutes.

Lafayette College will be without the services of Hummel the varsity left end, in the Cornell game at Ithaca Saturday.

Many changes were made in the Brown eleven by the coaches during the practice yesterday.

The Brown regulars ran rampant in the scrimmage at Andrews Field yesterday.

Dr. Edgar Fauver and Coach Liston are putting the Wesleyan team through the hardest work of the season this week in preparation for the Williams game to be played Saturday.

Douglas, one of Lehigh's halfbacks, turned his ankle while running through signals. Horseman will not be able to get into the Pitt game, it was definitely learned yesterday.

Bucknell will play its second home football game here on Saturday with the St. Bonaventure College team.

Walter French, Rutgers's star halfback, who was injured in the Lehigh game, is definitely lost to the team until after the Syracuse game in New York on Election Day.

The Harvard scrub team put up a great battle against the varsity yesterday, playing some fine defensive football.

The Colgate football squad took the field for practice yesterday minus Anderson and Gillo, the stars of the team.

Army Captain Back; Navy Leader Out

West Point, N. Y., Oct. 30.—There was a lot of spirit in the Army workout today. A pleasant feature of the long, rough scrimmage in which the varsity participated was the work of Captain George at quarter. George displaced Wilhide and drove the big team to two touchdowns against a strong second eleven.

Captain Ewen's ankle felt so badly after Navy's practice yesterday that he was ordered to rest, and cannot play against West Virginia Wesleyan Saturday.

N. Y. TENNIS STADIUM IF 10-YR. GUARANTEE

West Side Seeks to Get National Tourney for Ten Straight Years in Stadium

New York, Oct. 30.—It develops that Philadelphia's desire to take over the national championship lawn tennis singles is more highly developed than ever. William Connell and his associates, of the Germantown Cricket Club, seem determined to start a real movement.

However, the West Side Tennis Club will have a plan of its own. The national tourney has grown to such a stature that it no longer can be arranged for within the space of a month or two. It has become so important and so big in its appeal that it requires a permanent organization to see it through. Experiences at Forest Hills not long ago demonstrated that we have reached the day of the tennis stadium and the West Side club is ready to build one.

However, before the West Side club can make any plans for a steel or concrete structure it must get a guarantee from the National Association that it will have the national tournament for a period of at least ten years.
