By the Associated Press Strasbourg, Alsace, Nov. 4.—The solution of the many problems the world is now facing may be summa-rized in the single word "work," Premier Clemenceau declared in his keynote speech for the government party in the parliamentary elections campaign, delivered here today. The speech also was his farewell message on the eve of the retirement from political life which he contem-plates. of the House of Commons.

from political life which he contem-plates. His address, he declared, was not a message meant for France alone, but was an appeal to the entire world to renew its labors as they had been per-formed before the war and produce for the world's needs. M. Clemenceau briefly reviewed the though France had been apperently parsimoniously treated as to repara-tions, he hoped confidently that the Al-lies had not abandoned France. Had not bargained for their blood and would not grudge financial help to France. Vitually the entire intellectual, re-ligious and military world in Alsace work present at the function, which was most impressive. Admission to the hall was limited, but a crowd of 5000 per-sons stood outside. This city, the capital of reclaimed Al-sace, extended a warm greeting this morning to Premier Clemeneau. He was dered by thousands of the popu-lace as he passed before the guard irawn up in his honor. A picturesque feature was furnished by Alsatian girls in national costumes tossing flowers as the premier went by.

"This is one of the greatest days of my life!" Clemenceau exclaimed. "It was worth living for. Now I know I have not lived in vain."

have not lived in vain." Brushing aside the officials near him, the 78-year-old premier mingled with the crowds. Pretty girls virtually mob-bed the "grand old man" of France, who gave every appearance of enjoy-ing the experience immeusely. The girls and women welcomed him in the Alsatian dialect, which the premier does not understand, but their resound-ing kisses on his weather-beaten checks needed no interpreter.

of the House of Commons. "I realize it depends on how I be-have myself there," she added, "whether other women will get in." A moment later she said: "It took the spirit of Drake and the faith of the Fligrin fathers to get me here tonight." Viscount Astor came forward to pre-sent his wife, saying, "I have been asked to histodice to you my successor and future representative." This was greeted with loud cheers and laughter, and Lord Astor went on : "I have been asked, presumably because I know more about her than any one cise. Although she is light of heart, nevertheless, she is mindful of the re-sponsibilities." He concluded by expressing regret at the necessity of stepping aside, owing to his elevation to the peerage. Sherman service has recently been accosted by the radical element of labor who are opposed to the Americanization of industrial forces of this country, and to the maximum and uninterrupted production which is so essential to the continuity of national progress.

Our successful activities along constructive lines in harmonizing the relationship between employer and employee wherever we serve, and in developing a spirit of whole-hearted co-operation. is the greatest stumbling block which the recent day agitator is forced to overcome in the attack.

No man, no organization, no movement, that is honest and aboveboard has anything to fear from Sherman service. *

No employer - no manufacturer or worker on earth need misconstrue our object.

We have but one purpose and that is to increase the productivity of plant and worker and to add to the prosperity of both.

Our aims are to teach management and workers to do more and earn more-to understand one another, that both may realize the fundamental reason for unlimited productivity.

We are not opposed to the basic principles of unionism in any way, shape or manner. We are opposed to any idea which seeks to disrupt our nation and our industries, through putting down the productivity and earning power of management and men.

Through earnest endeavor we are applying our acknowledged experience to eliminate, in so far as we can, unrest in industry, which has caused exorbitant labor turn-over cost and tremendous waste due to the discontented mind.

Our endeavors are overcoming a continually manifested ignorance of the fundamentals of the Constitution of the United States, and should be known and understood by every man and employee in our land. We do not oppose collective bargaining by and with the parties vitally interested.

We aim to have the square deal understood by employer and employee. We are opposing anything which tends to disrupt those ideals laid down by our forefathers who established the government of, for, and by the people in our great country.

We are causing through our efforts an understanding which does not allow deterred efforts-and throughout hundreds of industries management and workers are realizing their duties one to the other and enjoying the prosperous relationship which has not existed heretofore.

Those who wish can be made to fully comprehend that we are a great group of men and women talking, suggesting, and by example set, practicing in so far as is humanly possible the golden rule throughout industry.

We fear no man, nor group, because we are doing our utmost to make employer and employee think and do right.

How can Sherman service be misunderstood?
