

N. Y. STATE REBELS AGAINST TAMMANY

La Guardia, Republican, Elected Head of City Aldermen by 1363 Majority

SOCIALIST BALLOTS SLUMP

By the Associated Press

New York, Nov. 5.—Complete returns of the Board of Aldermen show that Representative P. H. La Guardia, Republican, defeated Robert L. Moran, Democratic incumbent, by 1363 votes. An official recount will be asked for in Mr. Moran's behalf.

The vote was: La Guardia, 403,951; Moran, 416,688; James O'Neill, socialist, 126,365.

Tammany lost all contests for seats on the Supreme Court bench in the First and Second Judicial districts. Justice Joseph E. Neuberger, who was refused a renomination by the Democrats and then was placed in the field by the Republicans, had little difficulty in defeating Irwin Untermyer, a thirty-three-year-old attorney, nominated by Tammany.

Major Philip J. McCook, the other anti-Tammany candidate in the first district, won from Justice Robert L. Luce.

James A. Foley, son-in-law of Charles F. Murphy, Tammany leader, scored a moderately easy victory over James O'Malley, a Republican opponent, for surrogate of New York county. This was about the only success Tammany found in the result, for Henry H. Curran, Republican, was elected president of the borough of Manhattan. Reuben L. Haskell, Republican, was elected a county judge in Brooklyn on a "wet" platform.

Socialists Run Poor Third

The Socialists failed to make good their claim they would poll a larger vote than they did in 1917, polling less than one-seventh of the ballots cast for aldermanic positions.

Indications at 10 a. m. today were that the Republicans had gained several seats in the state Assembly as a result of the election yesterday. Their representation had been increased by five, with no reports available on ten doubtful districts in Kings county.

Last year the Assembly consisted of 94 Republicans, 54 Democrats and 2 Socialists.

Socialists yesterday elected Samuel A. De Witt in Bronx county, but Samuel Orr lost the Seventeenth New York district.

Both the women who served at the last session were defeated by men for re-election. Mrs. Mary M. Lally, a Democrat, lost to Noel B. Fox in the Seventh New York district, and Mrs. Ida B. Sammis, a Republican, defeated by William G. Carroll, Republican, in the second district of Suffolk.

Two other women will sit at the next session, however. They are Dr. Elizabeth Van R. Gillette, of the Second Schenectady district, a Democrat, who won from the man named Gillette last year, and Mrs. Margaret L. Smith, who ousted Martin J. Healy, Democratic incumbent in the nineteenth New York district.

Thaddeus C. Sweet, who was speaker of the Assembly last session, was victorious over Miss Marion Dieckman, although she had the support of Democrats, Prohibitionists and women's organizations.

The Republicans were successful in most of the upstate municipal elections. In Schenectady George R. James was elected mayor by the Democrats, although he had twice held as a Socialist.

Murphy Influence Jeopardized

The anti-Tammany forces here succeeded in electing Justice Richard H. Smith to the city court, and one of the candidates for the three places on this court. He has been turned down for renomination by Tammany and was made the Republican candidate.

Louis Wendel and Major Thomas T. Reilly, Tammany candidates, posed out the Republican candidates, Henry K. Davis and William H. Chubb, for the second and third city court justiceship.

The defeat of Untermyer and the election of Neuberger and Smith, dissatisfaction with the Tammany leadership, undoubtedly placed the Murphy leadership in the greatest jeopardy.

It looked as though the Republican county ticket in Brooklyn would be elected with the exception of James C. McLeer, the candidate for surrogate.

The Republican candidates for the Assembly and also for coroner had their usual vote. T. Harry Rowland polled the highest vote for the Assembly which was 1246. Frank N. Goeman, of Gloucester, who was one of the Democratic candidates for the Assembly polled the highest vote on that ticket, 1021.

G. William Barnard, Republican, was re-elected councilman-at-large by 174 over J. Harry Johnson, Democrat.

Robert C. Anderson was elected to Council in the First ward by 210 over Thomas Callahan. In the Second ward Charles Malley, Republican had a majority of seventy-seven, over Gerald Lenny.

For freeholder Stokes Prickett and William H. McCormick, Republicans, were elected.

William Hambleton was elected justice of the peace in the First ward without opposition. In the Second ward Raymond W. Adams had a majority of forty over Thomas Gove.

WINNERS' CAREERS SKETCHED IN BRIEF

How Successful Nominees for Mayor and "Row Offices" Climbed Ladder

Brief sketches of the successful nominees for Mayor and the "row offices" follow.

MOORE WAS A REPORTER

Mayor-elect J. Hampton Moore, since he left school at the age of thirteen, has climbed steadily up the ladder.

He started his career as an office boy. Then he studied law, and for some time was a reporter on the PHILADELPHIA. He always took an active part in politics. His first position in that connection was secretary to Mayor Ashbridge.

Later he was elected city treasurer, and subsequently he went to Congress, where his aggressiveness for good national legislation brought him conspicuously into the public eye.

He was one of the founders of the Atlantic Deep Waterways Association, and has always taken an active interest in many other projects along progressive lines.

John M. Walton, re-elected city controller, has been prominent in politics twenty-five years. He was first elected in 1895.

Mr. Walton was born in Stroudsburg in 1842. On entering politics he was first elected to City Councils, and served that capacity until chosen city controller.

James M. Hazlett, re-elected as recorder of deeds, is a native of Philadelphia and was reared in the southern section. He was educated in the public schools. In 1896 he was elected to Common Council. He served in Councils sixteen years, for four years being president of Select Council.

Robert E. Lambertson, who was elected sheriff, served several terms in Common Council and has always been an aggressive advocate of clean politics. He is a lawyer, with offices in the Commonwealth Building, and his home is in Germantown. He is an alumnus of the University of Pennsylvania, and was a member of the football team two years. He is a director of the University of Pennsylvania Athletic Association.

William R. Knight, re-elected coroner twenty-five years, and is Vice leader of the Forty-fifth ward. Before being elected coroner for his first term four years ago, he was assistant director of public safety under Mayor Royburp. Prior to that he was shipping commissioner, and he also served twelve years in the Pennsylvania State Prison.

Thomas W. Cunningham, re-elected clerk of the Court of Quarter Sessions, was born April 24, 1859. In 1895 he was elected clerk of the court and served two successive terms. In 1904 he was elected clerk of Quarter Sessions Court. He is of Scotch descent and is a member of the Masons and the Elks. He was educated in the Philadelphia public schools.

George F. Holmes, re-elected county commissioner, is ending his first term in this office. A former newspaper political writer, he became active in politics when the Washington party was formed, and he was one of its leaders. He was elected president of the board of county commissioners to succeed David S. Scott. Commissioner Holmes was originally an Ohioan.

Harry Kuenzel, elected county commissioner, has served on the board of county commissioners since May 24, 1918, when he was appointed by the board of judges to succeed David S. Scott. Mr. Kuenzel, who lives at 1915 North Lawrence street, is a political adherent of Senator David Martin. Before his appointment he was superintendent of elections in the county commissioners' office.

Edgar W. Lank, elected county commissioner, is a lawyer with offices in the Land Title Building, and is a graduate of the University of Pennsylvania. He is chairman of the Democratic city committee and lives in the Forty-sixth ward. Mr. Lank was born in Delaware.

Manie Ratifies Suffrage

Augusta, Nov. 5.—The amendment to the federal constitution giving women the right to vote was ratified in the House today in concurrence with the Senate. The vote was 72 to 68.

KENTUCKY CHOOSES G. O. P. GOVERNOR

Morrow Easily Defeats Black. Prohibition Amendment Defeated by 15,000

Louisville, Ky., Nov. 5.—(By A. P.)—With ten counties missing out of 120, unofficial returns early today gave Edwin P. Morrow, Republican, a majority of 23,570 votes over Governor James D. Black, Democrat, in the race for governor of Kentucky. Republican state headquarters predicted that complete returns from the ten missing counties will give Morrow a total majority of 30,000 votes.

The vote on the state-wide prohibition amendment was available today from but thirty counties, unofficial figures showing an adverse majority of 15,511. The vote stood: Against, 25,340; for, 9829. Twenty-two counties favored the amendment and eight were against it. Jefferson county, which includes Louisville, cast 22,878 against the amendment and 7541 for it.

Another amendment voted on was that providing for removal of peace officers who fail to protect prisoners from mobs and early incomplete returns indicated it was adopted by a large majority.

Republicans elected fifty-three of 100 state representatives and the Democrats forty-six, while one county provided a tie. Of the nineteen senators elected, the Republicans elected thirteen and the Democrats six. As a result the Republicans will control the lower house and the Democrats the Senate, the latter having left-over.

There's always room at the top

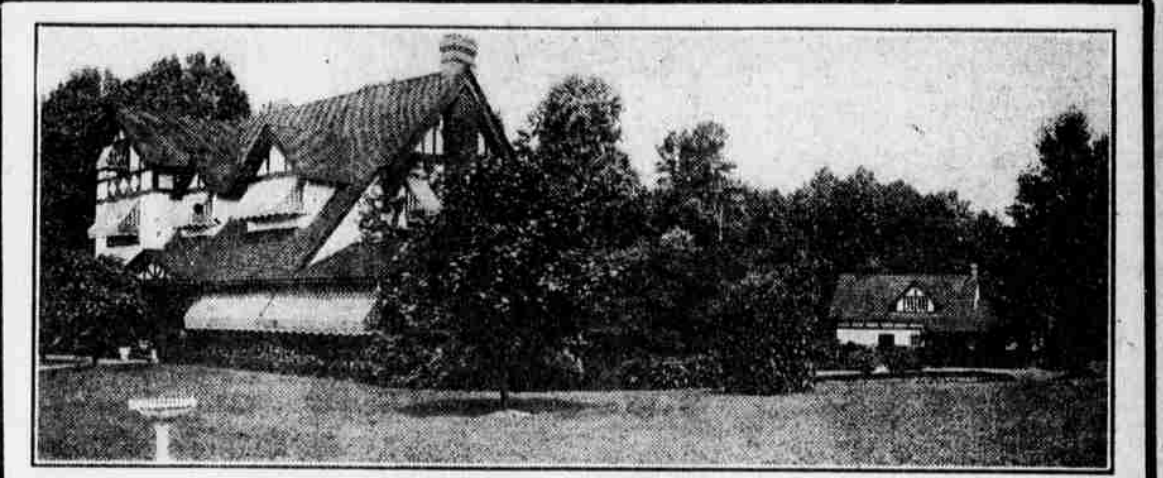

EDDIE RICKENBACKER made up his mind to "rise to the top of his job."

Plenty of room, up there. Kind of crowded lower-down among the low-fliers and the little-less-bold kind.

Lots of our brave boys wanted to be "aces." Had the grit. But Eddie studied and strove and tried.

Never missed a trick. Always spurred ahead.

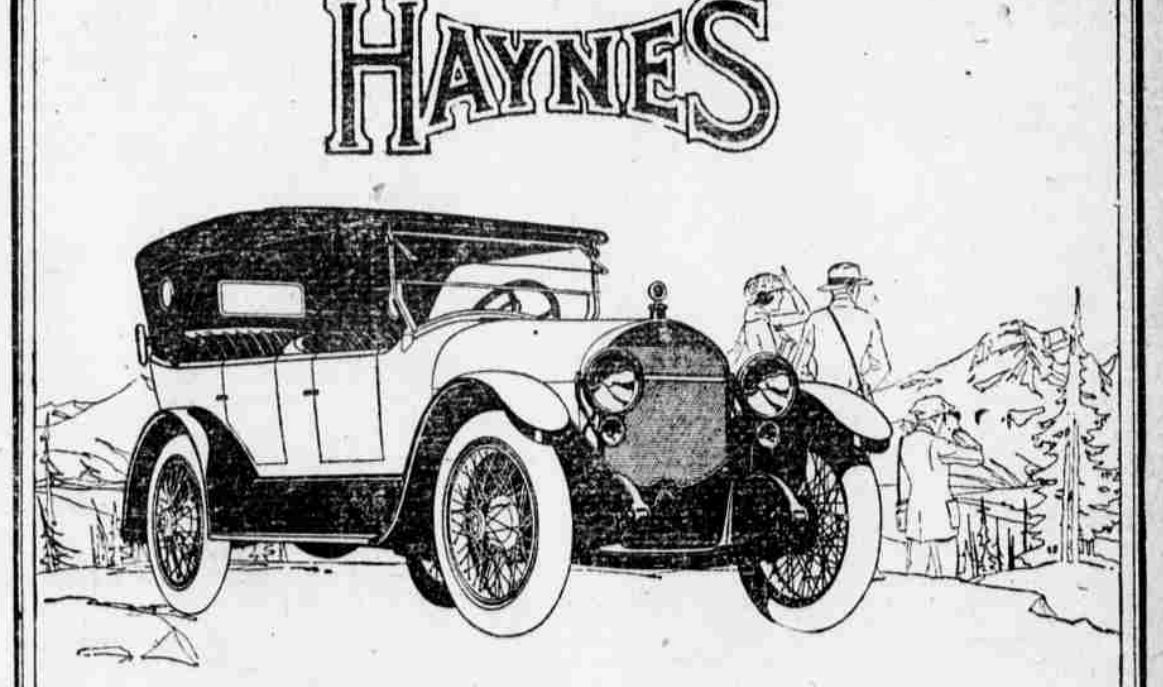

Any man with any product, if the making-ready is right, will find—if he Spurs on—There's always room at the top.

THE new 1920 Haynes has the four factors of character which are essential to the full realization of the value a car should give its owner. Well-rounded character is impossible in a car if one of these factors is missing. Haynes engineers and designers, with the exact training resting upon the 26 years of Haynes success, combine these four factors of character with the expertise of the mechanical engineer and the artistry of the professional body-builder and finisher. BEAUTY—STRENGTH—POWER—COMFORT—these are the four factors of character which combine to place the new 1920 Haynes in its superior class. The dependable, velvety power of the Haynes engine, the sturdy strength of the Haynes chassis, the easy comfort of the roomy seats—all these are augmented by the classic beauty of the car itself. The new 1920 Haynes is sold at a price you can afford to pay, at a price which is economically consistent with the genuine worth of the car. Delivery at once, but we ask you to bear in mind the fact that no Haynes car leaves our plant until it has the full approval of the responsible heads of departments whose duty it is to certify that the car in every respect is up to Haynes standards.

A beautifully illustrated catalog, and prices, will be sent on request. The Haynes, AMERICA'S FIRST CAR, now exhibited by the Government at the Smithsonian Institution, Washington, D. C., was invented, designed and built by Elwood Haynes, in 1893.
