

Keep Fit

Bowel regularity is the secret of good health.

Nujol

For Constipation

The modern, scientific treatment for constipation.

SICKNESS PREVENTION
Get a bottle from your druggist today, and write for free booklet, "Thirty Feet of Danger" to Nujol Laboratories, Standard Oil Co. (New Jersey), 50 Broadway, New York.

LOST SECURITIES CAUSE HIS ARREST

Philadelphian, Seized in Washington, Says He Can Explain Possession of Certificate

RELEASED IN $25,000 BAIL

Winfield D. Williams, Franklin street above Indiana avenue, a mechanical engineer, was arrested yesterday afternoon in Washington, D. C., on the technical charge of bringing stolen goods into the District of Columbia. It is charged that last Friday he disposed of a stolen 100-share certificate of Creusil Steel common stock for $18,000.

After his arrest Williams, who is well known in Washington, said he had taken the stock to dispose of as a favor to "a man and woman in Philadelphia." He said he was in honor bound not to tell where he obtained it, but would make a statement clearing up matters as soon as he could obtain release from a promise not to tell where he obtained the stock.

According to a detective he made previously a statement that he had sold the stock to a woman in this city. Williams was released in $25,000 bail, which was furnished by Elie Sheetz, a candy manufacturer. Sheetz had endorsed the stock certificate in question, enabling Williams to obtain $14,000 on it from a bank.

The certificate in question is alleged to be one of two, worth $40,000, stolen from the office of a man named Harms in New York, October 28. A Washington detective arrived here this morning to search for the woman who is alleged to have given the stock to Williams to sell.

WIFE UNUSED TO LABOR

So Count Changed Residence to the Bellevue-Stratford—Without Funds

His reluctance to see his wife, who was accustomed to all the comforts and luxuries that money could buy, do housework prompted Count Waldemar von Sweden, to take apartments at the Bellevue-Stratford when he had no funds to pay, friends say.

The count is now in Moyamensing prison, in default of $800 bail for giving a worthless check in payment of the hotel bill. The countess is a resident of the Dora Blossing Home, a temporary refuge for discharged women prisoners, at 2011 Baring street.

"My wife never did such work before, and she doesn't have to do it now," the count told a friend, an architect, to whom he announced his removal from his Greenwood avenue apartment to the hotel. His check for $1,000, he explained, would reach him in ample time to pay the hotel bill.

NAVY OFFERS INDUCEMENTS

Recruits Will Have Chance to Train in California

Newly enlisted men in the navy will have the opportunity of spending four months in California before going to sea. This offer was made by Commander F. H. Nye, of the naval recruiting station, 1515 Arch street, today.

Young men who enlist may choose any of the naval training schools in the country to take their preliminary course in seamanship. Recruiting officials believe that the "millionaire tour" to the San Francisco station will be very popular.

TWO HURT IN MOTOR CRASH

Man and Girl in Car Smash Into Camden Church

Rocco Sanella, 322 Spruce street, Camden, and Miss Pauline Dyer, 576 Spruce street, Camden, were injured late last night when an automobile in which they were riding crashed into the Broadway Methodist Episcopal Church, Broadway and Berkeley streets.

Sanella was driving the machine and swerved it into the church to avoid collision with another automobile. He was hurt on the face and head, and Miss Dyer's knees, legs and side were hurt. Both are in the Cooper Hospital.

STUDENTS BOOM PALMER

Swarthmore Undergraduates Propose Attorney General for President

Student Attorney General A. Mitchell Palmer, who is boosting him for president in 1920. The boom was launched yesterday when 250 students formed the A. Mitchell Palmer Club. A public meeting was held last night.

A campaign to enroll members is being carried on among students and faculty.

Your nose, not your mouth, was given you to breathe through. See how deeply you can breathe. We have deep-breathing exercises.

Let us give you a personal demonstration.

COLLINS INSTITUTE OF PHYSICAL CULTURE
N. W. COR. OF 10TH AND WALNUT

Cross at Crossings

and visit

Whitman's

Candies Luncheon Afternoon Tea

Open in the evening till eleven-thirty for soda and for candies.

1316 Chestnut St.

Present Traffic Conditions—

Shipments of freight are often lost, needlessly delayed or carelessly side-tracked. In such cases to get quick action the thing to do is to get in touch with the I. T. A. We'll at once have a tracer locate your shipment and hustle it through.

Write or phone—our service man will call

Industrial Traffic Association
Perry Building, Philadelphia
Spruce 1622—Phonics—Race 558

MRS. HARRY L. BRINSER (to Cincinnati). She was Miss Natalie M. Buckley, of Washington, who was married to Captain Brinser, formerly on the convoy Columbia. Captain and Mrs. Brinser will make their home in Washington.

PARKWAY SITE SEEN FOR JOHNSON GALLERY

Mayor Agrees to Transfer $75,000 From Jubilee Fund to Start Work

A site on the Parkway at Twenty-second street likely will be chosen for the Johnson Art Gallery.

Mayor Smith has agreed to have $75,000 transferred from his department to start the work.

The appropriation that the Mayor will recommend to Council will be the transfer of the unused portion of the $100,000 peace jubilee fund. The money will be offered to the Orphans' Court, having control of the provisions of the bequest as a guarantee of the city's intention.

After a conference with Mayor Smith, Joseph E. Widener said: "I am strongly in favor of the site at Twenty-second street and the Parkway, once suggested for a convention hall, but finally abandoned as being too small for the purpose."

The city now plans selling the Johnson home on South Broad street. It is valued at about $300,000 and this money will be applied to the new building, the estimated cost of which is $500,000.

PLAN POTTERY PLANT

Pennsylvania Museum and School of Industrial Art to Develop Business

Collectors of old Pennsylvania Dutch pottery were interested today in the step taken by the trustees of the Pennsylvania Museum and School of Industrial Art to carry out the bequest of the Haugh bequest of $50,000 for the development of pottery in this state.

The trustees have approved a plan for the installation of a kiln and pug mill, with the necessary equipment for an efficient plant.

The Haugh bequest is a memorial to the late Dr. Edwin Atlee Barber.

PICTURES

Etchings Mezzotints Engravings Sporting Prints

Ancient and Modern

The Largest Variety in America

THE ROSENBACH GALLERIES

1320 Walnut Street

U. S. NABS CLERK OF TICKET BROKER

Conway Employee Is Accused of Violating Law in Handling Football "Pasteboards"

MANAGER SAYS HE FORGOT

Accused of violating the federal war tax law in the sale of tickets to the Pennsylvania-Pittsburgh football game (Tomorrow) Dominick Catogio, clerk in the Conway Theatre Ticket Agency, South Broad street, was arrested last night.

He was held in $100 bail for a further hearing today by United States Commissioner Long immediately after his arrest.

Catogio is accused specifically of failing to stamp on the tickets the dealer's name, the total price and the dealer's commission, as required by federal law.

The arrest is the result of a drive by federal and University of Pennsylvania authorities to break up ticket "scalping" at University games. Three alleged "scalpers" were arrested prior to the football game two weeks ago, but were discharged.

Three men, believed to be University students, are said to be responsible for the clerk's arrest. They reported to revenue agents that they had been charged double the face value for tickets and when they showed the tickets the failure to stamp them properly was noticed and the arrest followed.

Leo Conway, proprietor of the agency, denies his employees made a practice of failing to stamp tickets as provided by law. He says Catogio simply forgot to stamp the tickets in question. He assessed the maximum profit on a ticket is fifty cents and the high prices were charged for the tickets in question because, unable to get a supply from the University, he was compelled to buy some from students who charged high prices for them.

TWO HURT IN COLLISION

Automobile Bumps Ashcart on Hunting Park Avenue

A collision between an ash wagon and an automobile last evening at Fox street and Hunting Park avenue, resulted in injuries to the two occupants of the wagon.

The injured were Thomas Montague, the driver, 1390 Olive street, and Arnold Ford, 2355 Stewart street, both negroes. Montague was taken to the Samaritan Hospital. He has severe bruising on his face and body bruises. Ford was treated by a doctor. He said the automobile ran over his legs.

The driver of the car, Jacob Markson, 2651 North Twelfth street, was held this morning in $300 bail for further hearing by Magistrate Price at the Hunting Park avenue station. He protested that the two men were driving recklessly and without a light.

Mrs. Charles A. Beach Dies

Mrs. Charles A. Beach, wife of the assistant general superintendent of the Philadelphia and Reading Railway, died at her home in Elkins Park, Mrs. Beach was apparently well until fifteen minutes before her death, when she was seized with a heart attack.

Mrs. Beach is survived by Mr. Beach, her mother, Mrs. Jennie Van Curen, three sons and one daughter. Her sons are Dr. Edward W. Beach, 421 Spruce street; Randolph Beach, of New York, and Charles A. Beach, Jr., of Chicago. Her daughter is Mrs. Walter Dammann, of Oak Lane.

Funeral services will be held at 2 o'clock Monday in the Beach home at Elkins Park and Park avenues. Interment will be private.

DEATHS OF A DAY

JAMES W. FLETCHER

Deputy Prothonotary for Many Years Dies After Long Illness

Deputy Prothonotary James W. Fletcher died at his home, 4943 Cedar avenue, yesterday after an illness of two years and seven months. He was sixty-six years old.

Mr. Fletcher was one of the oldest employes in the City Hall. For fifty-two years he was connected with the office of the recorder of deeds. His father, Benjamin Fletcher, was a former prothonotary and his grandfather was a predecessor of his father in that position. The late Joseph K. Fletcher, deputy recorder of deeds, was his brother.

He was first taken ill while at work on April 23, 1917. At his home he afterward suffered from heart disease, which complicated his original illness.

From this city, February 20, 1873, he entered the recorder's office when he was fourteen years old, winning successive promotions. He was regarded as an authority on all matters pertaining to the bureau. In 1896 he was admitted to the bar.

Mr. Fletcher is survived by a widow and four children, Mrs. Thomas H. Scott, Mrs. W. Whiteley King, Jr., Irving Fletcher and J. Gordon Fletcher. The funeral will take place Monday afternoon from an undertaking establishment on Chestnut street near Eighteenth. Interment will be made in West Laurel Hill cemetery.

James S. Rodgers

James S. Rodgers, fifty-five years old, for six years chief clerk to the Delaware county commissioners, died yesterday at his home in Media from pneumonia, after three days' illness.

Mr. Rodgers, who is survived by his wife, three sons and a daughter, was a farmer. He was master of Brookhaven Grange, secretary to the road commissioners of Nether Providence township, where he lived; treasurer of the Nether Providence school board, president of the Young Men's Republican Club of Chester, and a member of the Media Republican Club and the Media Fire Co.

Funeral of Joseph H. Weeks

The funeral of Joseph H. Weeks, president of the Keystone Automobile Club, who died Tuesday at his residence, 2652 Baltimore avenue, will be held at 2 o'clock this afternoon from an undertaking establishment on Chestnut street near Eighteenth. The body was viewed by many of Mr. Weeks' friends last night.

Mrs. E. A. Edwards

Ocean City, N. J., Nov. 11.—Mrs. E. A. Edwards, sixty-five years old, widow of Dr. Charles E. Edwards, died at her home in this city. She had been in failing health for months. She was the mother of R. W. Edwards, a local business man, and a sister of Colonel J. Howard Willets, of Port Elizabeth.

George Schumann

Reading, Pa., Nov. 14.—George Schumann, vice president and general manager of the Reading Iron Co., until August, when he retired due to ill health, died here yesterday. He was sixty-five years old.

NURSES OF STATE OPPOSED TO UNION

Graduates Declare Against the Methods to Obtain Better Pay and Shorter Hours

CONVENTION ENDS TODAY

Graduate nurses of this state are against radical methods for obtaining for themselves better pay and shorter hours. They declared themselves emphatically against the organization of a labor union for nurses when the matter of working hours and wages was discussed at the nineteenth annual convention of the Graduate Nurses' Association of Pennsylvania yesterday.

"We can settle the question of working hours and rates without organizing a labor union," said Miss Margaret Montgomery, chairman of the section that considered standard compensation for private nurses. "We are going to reduce our working hours and increase our pay, but we are going to adapt ourselves to existing circumstances while we are obtaining these changes."

The convention will end this morning. Last night at the night session of the convention Miss Mary S. Gardner, a registered nurse, pleaded for undergraduate training to supplant the present system of three years' hospital training for student nurses. Miss J. Peattie Nichols spoke on "What the Community Expects of the Nursing Profession."

The session yesterday opened in the morning with a discussion of the work of the private nurse. Miss Sophie E. Palmer, editor of the American Journal of Nursing, and Miss Annette Fiske, of Cambridge, Mass., emphasized the increasing importance of this branch of nursing in their addresses.

Dr. William C. Miller, chairman of the State Department of Health, declared that rising babies was the cause of much of the tuberculosis in Pennsylvania. He pointed out that there were almost 12,000 deaths from tuberculosis in this state each year and that one out of every ten persons afflicted died.

To Start State Campaign
At the beginning of the year, according to Doctor Miller, the Department of Health will institute a state-wide campaign to teach people "what they ought to know about hygiene and sanitation." He said that a lesson on health will appear in the newspapers every two weeks, at the end of which will appear questions to be answered and sent for correction to the Department of Health in Harrisburg.

The Department of Health will seek next year to have every municipality in the state adopt its "model health ordinances," according to Doctor Miller. In addition, the department will carry

DEATHS OF A DAY

JAMES W. FLETCHER

Deputy Prothonotary for Many Years Dies After Long Illness

Deputy Prothonotary James W. Fletcher died at his home, 4943 Cedar avenue, yesterday after an illness of two years and seven months. He was sixty-six years old.

Mr. Fletcher was one of the oldest employes in the City Hall. For fifty-two years he was connected with the office of the recorder of deeds. His father, Benjamin Fletcher, was a former prothonotary and his grandfather was a predecessor of his father in that position. The late Joseph K. Fletcher, deputy recorder of deeds, was his brother.

He was first taken ill while at work on April 23, 1917. At his home he afterward suffered from heart disease, which complicated his original illness.

From this city, February 20, 1873, he entered the recorder's office when he was fourteen years old, winning successive promotions. He was regarded as an authority on all matters pertaining to the bureau. In 1896 he was admitted to the bar.

Mr. Fletcher is survived by a widow and four children, Mrs. Thomas H. Scott, Mrs. W. Whiteley King, Jr., Irving Fletcher and J. Gordon Fletcher. The funeral will take place Monday afternoon from an undertaking establishment on Chestnut street near Eighteenth. Interment will be made in West Laurel Hill cemetery.

James S. Rodgers

James S. Rodgers, fifty-five years old, for six years chief clerk to the Delaware county commissioners, died yesterday at his home in Media from pneumonia, after three days' illness.

Mr. Rodgers, who is survived by his wife, three sons and a daughter, was a farmer. He was master of Brookhaven Grange, secretary to the road commissioners of Nether Providence township, where he lived; treasurer of the Nether Providence school board, president of the Young Men's Republican Club of Chester, and a member of the Media Republican Club and the Media Fire Co.

Funeral of Joseph H. Weeks

The funeral of Joseph H. Weeks, president of the Keystone Automobile Club, who died Tuesday at his residence, 2652 Baltimore avenue, will be held at 2 o'clock this afternoon from an undertaking establishment on Chestnut street near Eighteenth. The body was viewed by many of Mr. Weeks' friends last night.

Mrs. E. A. Edwards

Ocean City, N. J., Nov. 11.—Mrs. E. A. Edwards, sixty-five years old, widow of Dr. Charles E. Edwards, died at her home in this city. She had been in failing health for months. She was the mother of R. W. Edwards, a local business man, and a sister of Colonel J. Howard Willets, of Port Elizabeth.

George Schumann

Reading, Pa., Nov. 14.—George Schumann, vice president and general manager of the Reading Iron Co., until August, when he retired due to ill health, died here yesterday. He was sixty-five years old.

TEACH CHILDREN TO EAT

City Schools to Be Scene of Novel Instruction Course

Children in the city's schools, it was announced today, are to be taught how to eat.

Common as the practice of eating seems to be, it was explained, there are many who don't know how to eat properly. This is often the cause of malnutrition.

Instruction to pupils in the care of their health through proper eating will begin at the Campbell School, Eighth and Fitzwater streets; the Hawthorne School, Twelfth and Fitzwater streets; and the Meredith School, Fifth and Fitzwater streets.

The session yesterday opened in the morning with a discussion of the work of the private nurse. Miss Sophie E. Palmer, editor of the American Journal of Nursing, and Miss Annette Fiske, of Cambridge, Mass., emphasized the increasing importance of this branch of nursing in their addresses.

Dr. William C. Miller, chairman of the State Department of Health, declared that rising babies was the cause of much of the tuberculosis in Pennsylvania. He pointed out that there were almost 12,000 deaths from tuberculosis in this state each year and that one out of every ten persons afflicted died.

To Start State Campaign

At the beginning of the year, according to Doctor Miller, the Department of Health will institute a state-wide campaign to teach people "what they ought to know about hygiene and sanitation." He said that a lesson on health will appear in the newspapers every two weeks, at the end of which will appear questions to be answered and sent for correction to the Department of Health in Harrisburg.

The Department of Health will seek next year to have every municipality in the state adopt its "model health ordinances," according to Doctor Miller. In addition, the department will carry

The Leather Belting You Will Ultimately Use!

Manufactured by CHARLES BONA COMPANY 617-619 Arch St.

Have You Seen These Sheep-Lined Jackets and Long Coats?

Well, then, you should!

Here, for example, is a short coat, outside of Khaki cloth mouse-colored. A double-breasted jacket fastening with frogs of braid. It is sheepskin lined and has a sheepskin collar of darker shade. $15.00.

Then here's another. Jacket length, outside of dark corduroy, double-breasted with frog fastenings. Leather bindings on pockets; sheepskin lined and collar of darker sheepskin—$18.00.

Or this full length Overcoat, double-breasted mouse-colored Khaki, sheepskin lined, with a fur collar of wallaby. A big, warm Coat, $28.00.

Another full length sheepskin-lined Overcoat, same as the above, but with a dark sheepskin collar—$25.00.

Come in and try a couple of them on!

PERRY & CO.

"N. B. T."

16th & Chestnut Sts.

BAILEY, BANKS & BIDDLE CO.

Jewelers Silversmiths Stationers
Exclusive Hand-Colored Christmas and New Year GREETING CARDS CALENDARS and SACHETS
Social Stationery

DREKA Artistic Novelties CHRISTMAS 1919

The Dreka Co. announce that they have on display a beautiful collection of useful and artistic articles carefully selected for CHRISTMAS GIFTS at moderate prices.

With the same agents in Paris and London for the past 35 years, we immediately receive the latest novelties.

1121 CHESTNUT STREET

Foreign Collections

We make collections in all parts of the world and receive proceeds by mail or cable.

ESTABLISHED 1818

BROWN BROTHERS & CO.
Fourth and Chestnut Streets
New York PHILADELPHIA Boston

Brown, Shipley & Co., London

Full and Winter Suits are priced $30 to $80
Full-weight Overcoats, $30 to $60
Winter Overcoats, $30 to $100

JACOB REED'S SONS
1424-1426 Chestnut Street